FIVE MONTHS AWAY, WOULD YOU BELIEVE? - No, we haven't lost our cool, just thought the scene would be appropriate, seeing that it has been four months since we have seen any blooms outdoors and another five months to go. While we admire the scene, let's look at the facts. The snowfall so far has been 117-3/4 inches. Sept. 4.6 inches (Sept. '68 None), October 28.7 inches. (Oct. '68, 18 inches), November 12.8 inches (Nov.'68 24.6 inches), December 54.5 inches (Dec.'68, 48.9 inches). To January 16th, 16.8 inches has fallen (full month of January '68, 34.6 inches). The lowest official recorded temperature this winter was in December when the mercury dropped to 29 degrees below zero, in December '68, the low was minus 27 degrees.

Railway officials visit

Eight Officials of Canadian National Railways, in company with officials of Quebec Cartier Mining Company, spent a week in the area recently.

The visitors spent considerable time looking over the proposed mining development at Mount Wright, which is located approximately 26 miles south west of Labrador City. Reliable sources have indicated that should the Iron Deposits at Mount Wright be developed, the existing Quebec Cartier Railway from Port Cartier to Gagnonville would be extended the seventy miles to Mount Wright and quite possibly would continue on to Labrador City to link up with the Quebec North Shore and Labrador Railway. An engineering study of the proposed route is now underway.

One informed source said, that should this rail link be built, it would be constructed and operated by Canadian National Railways.

Survey and drilling work on the Mount Wright Iron Deposits is progressing rapidly, with approximately forty men now on the site. The winter construction road from Labrador City to Mount Wright was completed just recently. Supplies and heavy equipment for the site is being transported from Sept Iles, by Quebec North Shore and Labrador Railway, to Labrador City.

NEW RESIDENTS - Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Miller have taken up residence in Labrador City. Mr. Miller has opened Law Offices in the Shopping Centre Mall. Born in Shubenacadie, N.S., Mr. Miller attended Dalhousie University in 1960, graduating with a B.A., in 1964. He then attended Law School graduating in 1967 with his L.L.B., and was admitted to the Bar of Nova Scotia in November 1967, he practiced Law in Nova Scotia for one year before moving to St. John's, Newfoundland in January 1969. Mr. Miller was admitted to the Newfoundland Bar in 1969. Mr. Miller is married to the former Ann Rhynold of Berwick, N.S. Mrs. Miller is a qualified Physio Therapist. Mr. Miller's Law Office is now open and the couple have taken up permanent residence in Labrador City - (Aurora Photo)

Kinsmen founder arrives for a visit to Labrador

Harold Rogers, Founder of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs arrived today for a three day visit. Mr. Rogers is accompanied by his wife. This is the founder's first trip to Labrador and during his three day stay, the Wabush Kinsmen Club will be the host for a number of social activities. Kinsmanship was born in the City of Hamilton, Ontario, February 20th, 1920. Harold A. Rogers, in his early twenties decided to get together a few young men of his own age and as a result a small group gathered for a dinner meeting in a cafe. That became the first Club in the organization, the Kinsmen Club of Hamilton. From this modest beginning the Association of Kinsmen Clubs has grown to its present 400 clubs and 13,000 members.

The Association of Kinsmen Clubs is an organization of young business and professional men gathered together in clubs throughout Canada for the purpose of Service and Fellowship. Kin is not an Association with a superimposed program. Each Club bases its activities on the needs of its own community with the guidance and inspiration of the ideals and objects of Kinsmanship. The Wabush Lake Club was formed in the fall of 1963, with Rene Routhier as its first president. Although the Club is referred to as the "Wabush Lake Club", its purpose is to serve both towns. This was the first club to be sponsored by other Kinsmen Clubs, sponsors were, the Clubs from Grand Falls, Newfoundland, and Pointe Claire, Quebec.

From the beginning interest has been high in the Local Club, which now has a membership of thirty. The Executive is as follows: Jim Farrell, President, Ron Emmett, Past President, Lloyd Murchy, 1st vice-president, John Shea, 2nd vice-president, Alf Gosse, Secretary, Ed Ludlow, Treasurer, Wilson Peddle, bulletin editor, and Larry Barbour and Mike Lawton as Directors.

The present Kin project is the Kin Playground in Wabush, which is slated to be completed this summer. The Kinsmen are also members of the Foster Parent Children Plan, with financial adoption of a boy and a girl in Hong Kong. Locally they sponsor the Boy Scout and Cub movement of Wabush.

The Wabush Lake Club meets every second Thursday night at the Sir Wilfred Grenfell Hotel. An association of wives of Kinsmen members have founded the Kinettes, this organization is progressing rapidly.

David and Goliath!

A snowmobile owned by a resident of Labrador City was in collision with a QNS & L Train last Friday morning. The accident occurred at mile 30 on the Ross Bay Junction Line. Apparently the driver of the snowmobile parked the machine on the rail line to do some hunting. The driver of the train saw the snowmobile too late to stop. Needless to say the trainengine was the victor, completely demolishing the snow vehicle. There were no personal injuries.

New ideas and the establishment

Young people, new ideas; older people, old, settled ideas. The conflict has been going on as long as civilized mankind has inhabited the earth. Although it's old hat, the continual debate between young and old still captures our interest.

Perhaps the generation gap really began when caveman Ugh's young son decided that a much slimmer, lighter club was better for capturing his lady-love than a heavy, meat-killer.

Well anyway, it's still establishment versus youth and innovation.

Today the establishment is based very much on the world of creature comforts. Money, central heating, food, cars and the like are things which the older generations hold most dear and these are the things for which they will fight. They will not fight for things of the spirit -- new philosophies, new ways to work for world peace. These are too troublesome. They take us out of our easy chairs.

Young people are more interested in new ways of peace and new schools of thought than they are in food, cars, houses and land. Granted there are exceptions in each of the generation groups, but exceptions are not majorities.

Today's establishment treats mentally stimulating things as nothing more than sidekicks. They are respected, of course, but ignored. Religion is something which names our children; helps us shave and dress up on Sundays and ushers us out of the world in style. It is not something to be studied, changed, improved . . . that is just not comfortable for the establishment.

Perhaps from all this it would appear that the establishment, for the most part, means mental and physical decadence.

It is this supposed decay which irks the young mind. The human mind is not designed only to accept facts, figures and proven wisdom. It is an adventuresome thing which thrives if it forges ahead and away from accepted truths.

But one thing is certain. While the establishment has actually created and fostered youthful rebellion, it will win out. Its foundation is physical well-being. Young People cannot help but be dragged back to creature comforts in time.

Hippie groups, gangs, artistic colonies; all these new-idea people ultimately go over to the established world. A number of them will remain 'outside' intellectuals but the pull of the world's goodies is resisted by very few.

Here 'n' there

CANADIAN OIL: Venezuela will oppose any plan by the United States to give Canadian oil imports preferential treatment, Venezuelan Mines Minister Perez La Valvia said last week. Venezuela plans to hold another series of technical conferences with U.S. oil experts before a report on oil import policy is submitted to President Richard Nixon at the end of this month. Recent reports from Washington said the oil import study commission has suggested that Canadian oil get preferential treatment in any new import policy. Venezuela, the world's largest exporter of crude petroleum, relies on the U.S. market for a large slice of its oil sales.

QUEBEC FACTORY CLOSED: B.V.D. Co., Ltd. is to shut down its plant in a suburb of Quebec City, St. Romuald; the plant which employs 325 persons is scheduled to close down at the end of January. Severe competition from Asian imports, was given by the company, as the main reason for its decision.

POLLUTION CONTROL: Imperial Chemical Industries Ltd., Britain's largest chemical producer, said recently, that it plans to spend the equivalent of $156,000,000.00 in the next ten years for equipment to control pollution at new plants. This compares with $73,000,000.00 spent similarly in the past ten years, Imperial Chemical added. The future spending will equal 6% of plant costs, double the 3% in the past 10 years, the company said. The equipment will deal with air, soil and water pollution. It will combat problem of flare, noise and disposal of solid and liquid waste as well as smoke, smells and grit, the company said.

BONUS CANCELLED: Chrysler Corp. recently notified its key executives that earning for 1969 will be insufficient to justify a bonus for 1969. Bonuses are a key part of the executive compensation plan in the auto industry. Chrysler's earnings during the past year dropped sharply. In 1968 Chrysler set aside $25.2-million for bonuses to 4,172 executives and other officials who earned more than $18,000.00.

SELF-SERVICE: Newfoundland's first self-service liquor store is scheduled to open this month. Brian White, chairman of the Newfoundland Liquor Commission, said the supermarket-style outlet, with three checkouts, will open in St. John's. The new store may set a trend for the conversion of other stores in the province, he said.

STUDY PHENOMENON: Canadian scientists at Fort Churchill, Man., are gathering information about the upper atmosphere that a spokesman says might lead to seasonal weather forecasting. They are studying polar phenomenon in which temperatures 30 miles above the earth rise to 90 degrees below zero in January from normal levels of 122 below. The spokesman said the warming might explain an early or late arrival of spring in the northern hemisphere.

PENSIONS: "FROM A SPECIAL REPORT IN THE LONDON TIMES": If you pick the wrong kind of job at 25 you may be missing out on a $13,000.00 investment by the time you are 30. This is what the whole pensions business is all about. Company pensions are now part and parcel of the pay structure in almost every job you are likely to consider. Being in the right kind of pension scheme may be the equivalent of your employer giving you a 25% bonus in the form of contributions to unit trust or saving plan."

MOBILE MANPOWER: Workers stay with firms for shorter periods, a U.S. survey shows. The U.S. Labor Department finds that 73.4 million job-holders surveyed last year had been on their jobs an average of 3.8 years. That's down from 4.2 years in 1966 and 4.6 years in 1963. One reason for the shorter job tenure: The growing number of young people in the labor force. The average tenure for workers between 16 and 24 years old was only 8½ months in the latest survey.

Men surveyed had spent an average of 4.8 years in their jobs, while the average woman had been in her position for half that long. Among men, Negro workers averaged 3.3 years on their jobs, well short of the 5-year average tenure for whites. The typical construction man had worked on his job for 2.7 years, the shortest time for any industry. Transportation and utilities workmen reported the longest job tenure. Average job tenure for all men over 45, who are often "LOCKED IN" to pension and benefit plans, was 12.7 years.

FISH CATCH IN QUEBEC: Fish landings at Quebec ports are down slightly in terms of weight but up in value this year. In the first 11 months of 1969, 174,280,900 pounds of fish were unloaded, compared with 183,021,400 in the corresponding period last year. Value was $8.0 million compared with $7.5 million in 1968.

MORE WHEAT PROBLEMS: China's harvest, though unexpectedly good, raises problems for Peking. Peasants want to eat the extra food grain grown this year, rather than sell it to the government at low prices. The Maoist regime complains such "undesirable ideas" hinder its plans for feeding cities. It vows to enforce wheat selling rules.

SCHOOL TRANSFERS: Ontario and the four western provinces have established a committee to examine and evaluate each province's high school curriculum in an effort to make it easier for students to transfer from one high school system to another. The outcome will probably be an "equiv alency chart" which would be used to place a transferring student at the appropriate level in his new school.

SLOT MACHINES: Billionaire Howard Hughes, who owns six plush casinos on the Las Vegas "Strip", has asked the State Gaming Control Board for permission to place four slot machines in the North Las Vegas air terminal.

REGISTRATION OFFICE OPENS

The Motor registration office, for the issuing of drivers and motor vehicle licenses, opened in the Labrador City Arena yesterday. The office will remain open from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. daily, thru to Saturday January 24. All vehicles 1966 model and earlier must be inspected, and the inspection certificate brought to the registration office before 1970 plates will be issued.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Knights of Columbus, will be sponsoring a card game of Bridge and Auction at the O'Brien Hall on Tuesday, January 27. There will be prizes and a lunch will be served, tickets are available from members at the door.

EXPANSION NEARS COMPLETION

The projected completion date for the three quarter million dollar extension to the J.R. Smallwood Collegiate is set for March 16th. As a result of the expansion seventeen extra classrooms have been added, along with guidance offices. The teaching staff at the Collegiate now number, fifty six, 28 teachers in both the Sacred Heart Section and the Amalgamated Section. 311 students are registered in the R.C. Section, and 325 in the Amalgamated Section, for a total student enrollment of 636.

RCMP WARNS SNOWMOBILE OPERATORS

A spokesman for the RCMP has indicated that a general crackdown on the owners and operators of snowmobiles is in the offing. The Newfoundland Highways Act states that, snowmobiles are not allowed to use Highways or streets. The Railways Act states, that it is illegal for persons other than railway employees to walk the rail line or operate any vehicle on railway tracks. The RCMP advise that operators of ski-doo's are not only breaking the law but are endangering their own safety and also the safety of others.

Compulsory car insurance

British Columbia's new compulsory automobile insurance legislation became effective January 1, 1970. The new regulations require all owners or drivers to carry a minimum of $50,000.00 coverage for injuries or death and damage to property of third persons. Penalties for infraction include minimum fines of $250.00 or three month's imprisonment.

Attorney General Les Peterson urged all motorists to contact their insurance agents to make sure they are fully covered. The new compulsory policy will also include accident benefits payable regardless of fault. The government felt that in spite of all efforts to encourage safer driving, accidents occur, with loss of lives and serious injuries and property damaged or destroyed. Therefore, it believes protection must be available to indemnify the victims. The logical next step was to make certain that every car on the road was adequately covered by third party liability insurance. The government is also removing from passengers the onerous burden of proving that the driver was grossly negligent in causing the accident in which the passenger suffered damage." Proof of ordinary negligence will now be sufficient.

The government did not proclaim the part of the legislation that abolishes the right to sue for property damage exceeding $250.00. There will be further committee study of this controversial point. The new policy will also cover B.C. residents driving outside the province and will be acceptable as proof of financial responsibility in all provinces and the U.S. On benefits under the new program Peterson said: "For the first time in the history of B.C., the owner of an automobile insurance policy will have accident benefits on a scale far more generous and comprehensive than obtainable anywhere in North America, and, as far as can be ascertained, anywhere else in the world. For example, if the head of the family is killed, leaving a wife and two dependents between 10 and 65 years, these survivors would receive $7,000.00 in cash plus $70.00 a week for two years."

Other benefits place emphasis on rehabilitation of the disabled with a view to returning them to a productive role in society. In rare cases where a person is injured by an uninsured car, recourse to the Traffic Victims' Indemnity Fund will still be available. Where an insurance policy now in force expires some time this year it will, until expiry constitute adequate compliance with the compulsory requirements of the new legislation. The accident benefits will, with the co-operation of the automobile insurance industry be added to or 'read in' to the existing policy until it expires. No additional charge will be levied for this extension.

Under the Motor Vehicles Act changes, drivers will receive demerit points instead of tickets and subsequent fines for minor violations. Drivers who accumulate 10 demerit points will be fined $25.00 and the fines will be used under the direction of the provincial automobile insurance board to promote highway safety and research into the behavioral problems of drivers. Other amendments are that doctors be required to report any driver who gets behind the wheel against medical advice. This actually has been law since last June and, according to the Attorney General Mr. Peterson, has already proven to be of value.

The New Brunswick government is making studies to determine whether automobile insurance should be compulsory. Provincial Secretary Joseph E. LeBlanc, whose department administers the Motor Vehicle Act, said the studies include an examination of compulsory systems in effect in Saskatchewan and British Columbia. LeBlanc said a survey is also being made to find out how many uninsured vehicles there are in New Brunswick. At least 80% should be insured, he said. "If it's lower than that, it's time to worry about it and to give it serious thought."

The government is expected to be in a position this coming spring to make a decision on whether insurance should be made compulsory.

Tips for the handyman

WORKBENCH AID

If you are marking wood on your workbench against a pattern or template, your job will be easier and quicker if you'll fit the end of your bench with a turning piece of wood against which you can butt your pattern and work simultaneously. This little piece of wood can be turned out of the way when not in use. For even greater convenience, fit a yardstick to the end of your bench, as in the illustration, to use in conjunction with this other gadget. - (Gene Von).

CROCKERY CEMENT

Here's an effective and easily-made cement you can mix for mending crockery. It requires quite a long time to dry, but it is well worth it, for it will stand up under heat and water. Just mix a little pure white lead with linseed oil, and use it very thickly on the broken edges of your crockery. Let it set for at least a week. (Gene Von).

Mind teasers

A men's club was quoted a price of $141.75 for a banquet. However, because 13 of the club's members failed to appear at the banquet, the cost to each of those who did appear was increased by 58½ cents. How many members did this club have?

ANSWER

63 members. Letting X equal the membership, form equation: 141.75X plus 0.585 equals 141.75 over (X minus 13). Solve for X.

Tom and Jerry together can do a certain painting job in 9 hours. After working together for 4 hours, however, Jerry leaves and Tom finishes the job in 15 hours more. In how many hours could Tom have done the entire job himself?

ANSWER

In 27 hours. In 4 hours, the two together complete 4/9 of the job, leaving 5/9 for Tom to finish. Divide 15 by 5/9.

By C.S. DEVINE

Well our Labrador First Investment Fund seems to be off to a good start. During the first two weeks of January it was up $400.00, an appreciation of almost 5% on investment. Revenue Properties and Ranger Oils lead the way, while F.A.C.S. Data and Milton Brick showed the greatest decline.

Now to continue our information on stocks selected. Last week we reviewed Milton Brick, Wajax Ltd., Gortrum Mines, Peel Resources and Valley Copper. This week we will look at Revenue Properties, Ranger Oil, United Bata, F.A.C.S. Data and Sklar Furniture; with their 1968-1969, Highs and Lows.

(6). Revenue Properties Ltd. ($22.00 - .50). The story of this company over the past two years tells of all the ills that can befall a young company in the real estate industry. Revenue, incorporated in 1961, quickly grew into a diversified company, with a variety of residential, industrial and commercial properties. These were mainly in Toronto, but also in other Ontario centres. It held other properties in Montreal, Pittsburg, Los Angeles and elsewhere in the U.S.

Revenue was listed on the American Stock Exchange and in May, 1969, came out with earnings of 65 cents a share, a substantial increase over the previous year. Then came a series of developments which were to take the stock from its high of $22.00 to its December price of 50 cents. Profits were restated at a lower level. Action was taken against the company by the Ontario Securities Commission and the Toronto Stock Exchange suspended trading pending appearance of satisfactory financial statements.

Many of Revenue's problems are the result of expanding too fast in a period when the real estate business is running out of liquidity. However the worst may be over, three of the four charges brought by the Securities Commission have been dismissed and the fourth will be decided on the 9th of February, and Revenue is apparently profitable.

(7). Ranger Oil (Canada) Ltd. An exploration company involved in several oil and gas plays in western and northern Canada, the U.S., Australia and Indonesia. The company also has an interest in some Alaskan properties. Shares rose from a low of $3.50 in 1968 to a high of $22.75 last year. Production has increased by over 50% in recent years, however Ranger is still basically an exploration company with holdings spread over the globe. Its management is well regarded and with less than 3 million shares outstanding, if it has a big hit, the payoff could really be big.

(8). United Bata Resources Ltd. ($12.75 - .60). Formed to amalgamate Bata Resources Ltd., Galaxy Copper Ltd. and Stampede Oils Ltd. This company holds varying interests in both productive and undeveloped oil and gas acreage and mineral claims in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Northwest Territories and British Columbia. Last year the company came under the direction of a group of Dallas oilmen who arranged a $7,000,000.00 standby bank credit to bring gas holdings into production.

(9). F.A.C.A. Ltd. ($16.00 - $1.00). Fast Accounting Computer Systems Limited is another example of a young company expanding too fast. Formed in 1967 the company directly and through subsidiaries, provides packaged computer and data processing services through franchised district managers in Canada and the U.S. Computer facilities are located at Brampton, Ont., Waukegan, Ill and White Plains, N.Y. Because of recent financial difficulties it has been recommended that operations be concentrated at White Plains, N.Y.

(10). Sklar Furniture Ltd. ($6.75-$2.25). Engaged directly and through subsidiaries in the furniture manufacturing industry and associated fields. Sklar plant is at Whitby and subsidiaries in Hanover, Ont. This is a reorganized company with its name being changed from Stancor Ltd. in July 1968. From a loss of $1,517,000.00 in 1967 the company turned in a profit of $125,000.00 in its latest, reported, three month period, and is now considered one of the leading furniture manufacturers in Canada.

So there you have it, our ten selections for the Labrador First Investment Fund. We will again review the fund on 31 January.

The Bible today

In a personal reflection, J.B. Phillips, the well-known translator of the New Testament and author of "Letters to Young Churches" tells that for over 25 years he has had an almost unceasing flow of correspondence from people, young and old, from all over the English-speaking world who told him that God spoke to them through his translation.

In acknowledging that he was and is overwhelmed by the success of his effort, he goes on to say: "But I am not stupid enough to claim credit for the changed lives and the enlightened understandings. This is God's work; the most I have done is to remove obscurity and allow the Truth to be comprehended. This is the object of every translator, and my wholehearted admiration goes out to the largely unknown band of dedicated men and women who translate into languages which have very often never been written down before. I know from correspondence and from reading the literature of the Bible Societies how God has spoken frequently to people with a background of centuries of paganism, once His Word became available to them in their own tongue."

HOW TO MAKE THE BEST USE OF THE BIBLE

- (1) Read it through
- (2) Pray it in
- (3) Work it out
- (4) Note it down

Solve - a - crime

By A.C. GORDON

The body of the wealthy attorney, Burton Mathews, is slumped over the huge leather-upholstered chair in his office, his head resting on the shining mahogany desk in front of him, a bullet hole in his chest. Bill Tracy, a junior member of the law firm who phoned you of the tragedy about twenty minutes previously, stands just inside the door to the office nervously puffing on a cigarette.

"You can imagine what a shock it was when I found him like this," he exclaims. "I had returned to the office this evening to catch up on some paper work . . . not knowing that Mr. Mathews was here. Then when I entered the outer office I saw there was a light on in here, and when I looked in . . ." he shakes his head bewilderedly.

"Have you touched or moved anything at all in here?" you ask.

"No . . . I could see right away that he was dead . . . I used the phone in the outer office to call you."

Your eyes wander over the top of the victim's desk and immediately you see the typewritten note which ends with a hastily scrawled signature in red pencil. The note reads: "This may seem the cowardly way out, but since life holds nothing further for me, I have lost all desire to go on."

You resume your examinations of the desk top . . . a small stack of blank letterheads and envelopes, a tray of paper clips, a small electric clock with its hands indicated 9:55, a roll of postage stamps, and a dozen or so of unpaid bills.

As you bend over beside the dead man to pick up in your handkerchief the gun lying on the floor to the right of his chair you notice the ballpoint pen still clutched in his right hand. Then a quick look at the gun tells you it has indeed been fired recently, and a further examination brings up no fingerprints.

You can turn back to young Bill Tracy. "Did Mr. Mathews seem mentally depressed recently?"

"Yes, very much so. In fact, he seemed very much overwrought for the past several weeks. But certainly I had no idea he was even considering doing away with himself like this!"

"As a matter of fact," you then say, "this does not have the appearance of suicide. I suspect that Mathews was murdered! There are four little clues here that have aroused my suspicions!"

You are the detective

What are those "four little clues"?

SOLUTION

First, the signature on the typewritten note was written with a red pencil, although the dead man clutches a ballpoint pen in his right hand. Second, it is inconsistent that he should be clutching a pen in his right hand when his last living act supposedly was with the gun. Third, a would-be suicide doesn't usually shoot himself in the chest (which can prove too painful and uncertain), but usually in the temple. And fourth, there is the absence of any fingerprints on the gun, which leads you to suspect that a murderer was careful enough to wipe his own prints off, but careless enough to neglect planting the victim's prints on the weapon.

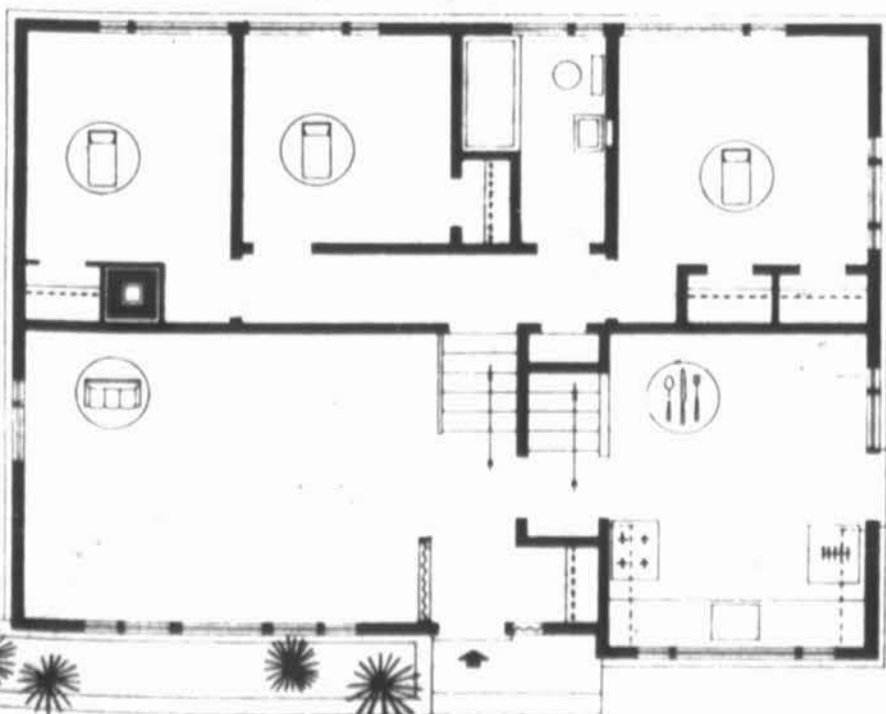

What's new in home designs?

NEW HOUSE DESIGN — From the street this house, by Architects K. R. D. PRATT & S. E. LINDGREN of Winnipeg, does not give the impression of being a 3-bedroom split-level design.

The living room and the combined kitchen-dining room overlook the street and, with the entrance hall, they extend across the front of the house. Similarly the bedrooms extend across the back of the house overlooking the garden. Below the bedrooms are the heating, utility, and recreation rooms. These lower rooms would be at their best on a lot sloping down and away from the street.

The floor area is 974 square feet; the exterior dimensions are 37 feet by 27 feet. Working drawings of this house, known as Design 753, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

RAINBOW IN THE MORNING, SAILOR'S WARNING.....RAINBOW IN THE NIGHT, SAILOR'S DELIGHT. by CHARLES RENDELL

Here is a good example of a nigh infallible truth although popular usage down through the years has all but destroyed the proper wording. Somehow and we shall never know the real reason, the wrong line got put first and several S's were dropped along the way. The correct rendition goes like this: Raindows in the Nights, Sailor's Delights, Rainqows in the mornings, Sailor's Warnings. Anyone can see at a glance that this is more like it. And it doesn't take much imagination to realize that a good many seamen have got the 'Delights' from having a forecandle full of good old Navy rum. Seeing rainbows in the dead of night comes easy under these conditions. Indeed that's not all they're liable to see.

I have a buddy who once saw a full dress Orangeman's parade while thus poleaxed. It passed in full review right under the bow of his schooner as she was heading home from the Banks under full canvas on a pitch black night. The Captain saw it too and had the vessel 'hove to' for a full hour which was the time that it took the parade to pass. They both swore that the brass band rendered seven selections with double chorouses during this time. Seems like the story is gospel as the whole crew is witness. A Southcoaster - the cook - claims they played, 'Newfies, Never, Never, Never, Shall be Saved, seven times, although the chap from Bruley differs from the rest in that he claims 'twas' 'feller from Fortune' that they played for the last three selections. Fair enough then! We've established that sailors have seen rainqows in the dead of night.

Come morning though and both the 'Delights' and the 'Rainbows' should have faded away, sort of like the first tripping out the second. This, even for those with the DT's or Delicious Tremblings' the night before, which by the way of explanation is the greatest charge anyone can get through the 'Delights.'

If anyone sees rainbows the next morning he's as good as finished because it means that he may have been drinking all night non-stop or else got up and started at it again. Such behaviour brings stern rebuke and warning from even the most lenient of Officers and rightly so.

Well, there was one of these aboard this vessel and he ended up cookee for his trouble. Nevertheless he lends credence to the sighting. Leaning over the stem head they watched to a man as an outside, inside guard who was stepping her up in the middle of a parade, failed to duck while passing under the bowsprit. It toppled him backwards against the 'carrying desk' of a Worthy Mistress laying 'em down directly behind him. She landed him a sharp cuff to his pole which relieved him of all his senses. Our 'hardies' watched in great amusement as the stretcher party yaffled him up and carried him along until he parade was out of sight. To end the story it was a good thing that the entertainment ended when it did for by this time the 'Wallowing Essie' was nigh hard on the Bald Rocks off the port bow.

(To be continued next week).

Bus cost annoying parents

A school bus service for students from kindergarten to grade four commenced operation on Monday. The bus will make six trips daily to Notre Dame, McManus and Labrador City Collegiate, two trips in the morning, two at noon and two at the close of school in the afternoon. It is understood that the buses will operate on two routes only, further information on the proposed routes was not available at press time.

While the service is a welcome addition, quite a number of parents are already complaining about the cost, each child using the bus will be required to pay $8.00 per month, as one mother told Aurora, "I have three children who will be obliged to use the bus, that will cost me $24.00 each month, with all the additional expenses we have here, I don't see why we have to pay this price". An informed source has said that a number of parents are now in the process of organizing a public meeting to discuss the Bus Service and plan a course of action.

The lighter side

DICTATION: Two junior executives were discussing secretaries. "My wife objects to my having a good-looking secretary," the first executive explained.

"I can have a good-looking secretary if I wish," replied the second chap.

"My wife only insists that he be efficient."

FROM THE LONDON DAILY MAIL: "An Automobile Association spokesman said: 'We agree that breath test laws need simplification. They have cost motorists a great deal of money in finding the various loopholes. We think the government should find some way of compensating them.'"

COMPUTER EYES:

The computer has come of age
And is said to be a modern sage.
It promises to cure all man's ills,
But shows me behind in my bills.
It guarantees to cut every price
But always charges me twice.
How I eye with mortal terror
This eliminator of human error.

GROWTH: A man staggered into a bar in Montreal, over the recent holidays, with a frog on his head.

"Goodness," exclaimed the bartender, "where did you get that?"

The frog replied: "Wou'd, you believe it started out as a wart on my stomach?"

NO HELP WANTED: The personnel manager told the job applicant: "Sorry, there's nothing for you here at present; I simply couldn't find enough work to keep you busy."

"Oh, that shouldn't influence you," replied the applicant. "It just takes a little work to keep me busy!"

THE BOARD ROOM:

A lot of little papers with a lot of little scrawls
Lie on the massive tables within the panelled walls.
Patches and cross-hatches - cent and dollar sign,
Horses' heads and arrowheads and hearts that intertwine,
Every kind of animal from elephant to poodle
Our most prolific product is the aimless business doodle!

MEDICAL NEWS REPORT: "A headline in San Francisco Examiner - Job Training for Prostitutes - introduced an article about a rehabilitation program for those leaving the 'profession'."

WITH THIS RING I THEE WED: The wedding ceremony was getting along well, then the clergyman asked the bridegroom: "Will you love her, honor and keep her, in sickness and in health, for richer or for poorer . . ." "Please, Reverend," the nervous bride interrupted, "You're going to talk him right out of it!"

ON ICE? With all the drugs and alcohol being consumed, this could be termed the Stoned Age.

INDICATOR:

Data gathered on the highways
Of the nation and the state,
And on boulevards and byways,
Seem to strongly indicate
That the empty space that's showing
'Tween the couple up ahead
Has a way of swiftly growing
With the years that they've been wed.

SCHOOL DAYS: A 5-year-old, after he had spent his first day in school, was asked how he liked kindergarten.

"I don't think of it as a kindergarten," he replied disdainfully. "I like to think of it as an institution of lower learning."

TEST PALATE: The young bride had put up a valiant struggle to learn how to cook. Her devoted husband suffered through her numerous culinary goofs with a smile and no-comments policy. It was only after he'd asked her to bake him a cake that the real crisis occurred.

Greeting him that evening in tears, she cried, "I made the cake you asked for. But the dog ate it!"

"Please, darling, don't cry," soothed her husband. "I'll buy you another dog."

FIGURE SKATING

The Polaris Figure Skating Club decided last fall to hire a professional instructor, for this season and already results of the move are paying off. Last weekend Darlene Turiff and Wendy Caverly travelled to St. John's to compete in the Newfoundland Sectional Championships. Both skated away with second place finishes in events that they entered. Darlene placed first in her free skating and 4th in figures in the elementary division for a final second place finish overall.

In the preliminary division Wendy placed second in both her figures and free skating for her second place finish. Both girls combined their talents in the girls open pairs dance and again came second. Certainly this is an excellent showing for the Club in their first competition. Congratulations are in order to all those associated with the rogramme.

CURLING

The Carol Curling Club Schoolboy team of David Dunkin, Gary Butler, Ian Turiff and Valdimir Freudenreich will represent Labrador in the Provincial Schoolboy Play-offs to be held in Grand Falls at the end of this month. The boys travelled to Goose Bay last weekend and defeated the Goose team in two straight games, 16 to 3 and 10 to 9.

In the opener our boys led 7 to 0 after two ends, 10 to 2 after four, with Goose Bay conceding after 8. On Saturday afternoon it was much closer as Labrador City built up an early 7 to 2 lead after 5 ends, and then hung on for their victory. The boys are now getting in some exhibition games against men's teams at the club, as they prepare for the big tournament.

'B' LEAGUE HOCKEY

Two more games were played in the B League last week and the results showed the Indians gaining a victory over the Royals on Tuesday night, which helped compensate for their 4 to 1 loss to Wabush on Friday.

Max Ollerhead, Vince White, Gerald Fitzgerald and Tom Kent scored for Wabush while Gerald Doyle replied for the Indians. The score was 3 to 1 after the second and Kent scored with only 33 seconds left to wrap up the victory. Twenty penalties were called in the game with ten going to each team.

On Tuesday night, former A League all-star, Jean LeTourneau led the Indians to their 6 to 1 victory, with four goals while assisting on the other 2 by Drover. John Mason and Bill Todd replied for the last place Royals who have now lost 4 in a row.

Future games will be played, Friday, January 23, Royals vs Indians at 7:15 p.m. and Tuesday, January 27th, Wabush will face off against the Royals at 8 p.m.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The men's basketball league is now back in operation with the first game played last Friday, and not Wednesday as was reported in last week's column. All games will be played on Wednesday's and Friday's, with Wednesday games at the Labrador City Collegiate and Friday games in the Wabush Recreation Centre. Game times are 7:15 p.m. Wednesday, January 21st, the Braves will meet the Saints and Friday Wabush versus Teachers.

MINOR HOCKEY NEWS

A general meeting of the Minor Hockey Executive and interested persons will be held at the Arena on Thursday, January 22nd at 8 p.m. At this meeting a new vice-president will be elected to replace Alex Hicks who has submitted his resignation. Also on the agenda will be a review of the program up to now and a discussion of Minor Hockey Week and upcoming tournaments. Now is the time for interested parents to come out and publicly air the things that they whisper about in the stands. And finally a reminder of the big Minor Hockey Dance to be held at the Ashuanipi Social Club on Friday night, with the Krystals supplying the music.
