TWO FIRES - The Labrador City Volunteer Fire Brigade, responded to two calls last Friday. At approximately 12:30 p.m., an alarm was sounded from Carol Laundry, where a motor on a compressor had caught fire, this was quickly brought under control, with no damage other than the motor. Less than an hour later a call was received that a fire was in progress in the Royal Theatre, after the Firemen arrived on the scene, they requested the help of the Wabush Volunteer Fire Brigade, both groups fought the blaze for approximately two hours before the all-out was sounded. Extensive damage was done to one of the two apartments over the Theatre, two bathrooms and the furnace room. Cause of the fire was not known at press time, although it is believed to have started in the furnace room. Mr. "Flip" Dawson of the Royal Theatre, said that repairs are being undertaken immediately, and the theatre is expected to re-open within two weeks. - (Aurora photo)

"Up, up and away!"

A single engine aircraft owned by a resident of Labrador City, "took off" on Sunday afternoon past, without the pilot.

Apparently the pilot was experiencing some difficulty in starting the engine and got out of the aircraft to check. As he left the plane the motor increased speed and lit off down the runway, minutes later it was airborne and climbed to two thousand feet, where it encountered a twenty mile an hour wind and started to drift towards Ross Bay Junction. At the time of the pilotless take-off the aircraft carried one hours fuel. To press time the location of where the plane went down was not known.

Fish and fruit

The trout season has opened once again and anglers are beginning to visit their favorite haunts. For a while at least, they will have to chop holes in the ice and dangle bait in the black water below. For those who enjoy fresh, "woody" meat there are rabbits to be caught.

Partridge aren't so plentiful as they were years ago but there are still goodly numbers of sea birds. There's no doubt about it, Newfoundland still has a lot to offer in the way of fish, fruit and fowl.

Undoubtedly the reason we still have these resources is because they have been protected by open and closed seasons.

But how much longer will these good things last?

There is a certain amount of abuse. People take too many fish; they pick berries before the legal date; they snare more than their share of rabbits and they shoot birds which are supposed to be protected. This sort of poaching has always gone on but of course that's no reason why it should persist. The real danger to our wildlife and plants is (for the most part) beyond our power to solve.

Many scientists give mankind only twenty more years of life. Apparently pollution in all forms is reaching such proportions that we won't be able to live in our dirty air and use our water resources for very many more years.

Man has lots of ways to put off his destruction. There are medicines, water purifiers, sprays and so on. While these things may kill germs which are harmful to us, they are in themselves dangerous. A tremendous amount of pollution of today was caused by the excessive use of vegetable and tree sprays. Animals, plants and water are hurt before we feel any pain.

What can we do in Newfoundland to protect our God-given resources and perhaps stop or delay pollution?

This isn't an easy question to answer. The problem is so big that our fresh air and clear water may be spoiled by things going on in other places. The problem is world-wide.

One of the big drawbacks to stopping pollution is the tardiness of governments to bring in effective laws. Big industries pour waste into the water and heavy smoke into the air. These industries employ a lot of people and they pay big taxes to governments, so governments are reluctant to turn off these sources of pollution. That's just one part of the problem.

Perhaps it is not too late for us to make ourselves heard.

Find out all you can about pollution. Make sure that your area is clean and whenever you see brooks, plants, birds or fish threatened, do whatever you can to help. Don't be apathetic and walk away.

Let's hope and pray that the good things we have around us today will exist years from now, so that our children (if they're still alive) will be able to use and appreciate them as we did.

Here 'n' there

ROBBERY RATE: There were 2,358 robberies in Montreal in 1968 and police solved 495 of them while in Toronto there were 1,219 and 566 were solved. The figures come from a Dominion Bureau of Statistics report on crime in 1968, recently released. More than a quarter of the country's 8,047 robberies in 1968 occurred in Montreal. Of the 12 major metropolitan areas listed in the report, only Edmonton had a 50 per cent solution rate.

"MOD LOOK" (AND JOB APPLICANTS): Nearly 80% of 150 companies surveyed by the American Society for Personnel Administration and Bureau of National Affairs regard a male applicant's beard "as a reason for not hiring him or at least a negative factor in the hiring decision". Three-fifths of them would be "turned off" by a female applicant attired in a miniskirt. Male jobseekers with long hair and "mod" clothing elicit a negative reaction from an overwhelming 90% of the companies.

"Standards of appearance are more flexible for the person already on the job," the survey finds. At 45% of the firms, there's no objection to a gal wearing miniskirts after she's hired. But half of the companies "absolutely forbid" female employees to wear see-through blouses on the job. Male workers with long hair and "mod" attire draw frowns from 90% of the concerns, although 75% don't object to longer sideburns of either employees or applicants.

JAPAN'S EXPORTS:-

Ministry of International Trade and Industry, Tokyo, estimate Japan's exports in the next fiscal year will amount to about $19.3 billion, an increase of about 15 per cent from this year. Japan's exports in the year ending 31 March 1970, are estimated at 16.7 billion or 22% more than the previous year.

The sources estimate imports will increase by more than 16 percent in the next fiscal year. The export of heavy electrical machinery, home electrical appliances and steel will continue to increase, they say.

BRITISH AUTO SALES: The British, auto industry appears to have recorded its worst domestic sales year since 1963. New car registration in Britain probably will total about 970,000 in 1969, the first time since 1963 that sales dropped below one million. Although 18 also was considered poor for sales, about 1.1 million new cars were registered. Industry officials blame tighter government instalment purchase curbs and other restrictions for the sales decline.

HOMOSEXUALS AND THE YELLOW PAGES: The California Public Utilities Commission denied a complaint against Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. by the Council on Religion and the Homosexual Inc., and other groups that sought a Yellow Pages heading for "homophile organizations". The commission said the heading was "too limited and was properly refused by Pacific Telephone". In addition to the present classified directory listings of the complainants under the headings of "religious organizations" and "associations", there also are available the headings of social service and welfare organizations and "suicide prevention," the commission said.

WAGE INCREASE: The Teamster's union in British Columbia wants a total wage increase of 45 per cent over two years, union secretary Al Medley said last week. Negotiations have been suspended because of widespread construction shutdowns resulting from a three week strike in the B.C. cement industry.

FRENCH WINE: French wine production in 1969 totalled just exports in the year ending 31 March 1970, are estimated at 16.7 billion or Ministry of Finance announced. The small yield, following the generally poor quality of 1968 production, has pushed prices of 1969 French wine up sharply from the previous year.

ENCOURAGING IMPORTS! Salesmen driving Jaguars or deliverymen driving Volkswagon vans won't be able to do business anymore at U.S. Steel Corp's Fairfield Works near Birmingham, Ala. Effective last month, the plant's management has banned all foreign made vehicles from the plant property. A U.S. Steel spokesman in Pittsburg, emphasizing the move was a "local decision" and "not a policy of U.S. Steel," confirmed that the plant management, "decided to withhold in-plant driving privileges to foreign made vehicles".

The mill management's move reflects the steel industry's concern with rising imports, not only of steel, but of products made with foreign steel. The ban apparently won't apply to employee parking lots, said an official of the United Steel Workers Union Local 1013 at Birmingham.

HOW NOT TO CATCH A THIEF! In Birmingham, England, police took steps to foil thieves who have been victimizing British police to an embarrassing extent, and were foiled by the thieves. All patrol cars must be locked when parked, no matter how briefly. And some unmarked cars are equipped with a special, antitheft device designed to immobilize the automobile. The anticrime measures came to light when two detectives reported that their car, locked and with the antitheft device activated, was stolen after they left it for 20 minutes.

COST OF FIRES IN THE U.S.: Fires in 1969 killed about 12,100 people in the United States and destroyed property valued at 2.4 billion, states the National Fire Protection Association. The association is a 76 year old nonprofit technical and education organization supported chiefly by industry to develop standards and codes for fire safety. Deaths in dwelling fires dipped to 6,550 in 1969 from 6,600 in 1968. The worst loss of life in fires in 1969 occurred in transportation: A ship collision and fire off New Orleans 7 April took 26 lives; the fire in the USS Enterprise in Pearl Harbour on January 14 cost 24 lives. The Property loss in 1969 fires was an increase of $260 million from the previous year and include $1.94 in damage to buildings and contents.

Speaking of sports

Two more games were played in the "B" league last week with the Royals finally ending their losing streak by defeating the Indians 5 to 2 on Friday. Their new found success was short lived, as Wabush defeated them 5 to 2 on Tuesday night to take over first place.

Cyril Tarrant led the Royals to victory with 2 goals, with Ed Butt, Al Wells and Brian Myers adding singles. Jean LeTourneau scored both goals for the Indians who were outshot 33 to 27 over the sixty minutes. On Tuesday night Johnny Mercer scored twice for Wabush with Tom Kent, Dawe and Kelly scoring the other goals. Ed Butt and Al Wells replied for the Royals in the rough encounter which saw 19 penalties assessed. The score was 3 to 1 after the first period, 4 to 2 at the end of the second with Mercer adding the only goal in the third. Future games in the series will be played Friday, February 6th, with the Royals facing off against Wabush.

In the long midget game the Carol Cleaners scored two goals in the last minute of play to win over the Saints 4 to 2.

GUIDING ANNIVERSARY
 - A giant birthday party was held on January 14 at Hart House in Toronto to commemorate the 60th anniversary of guiding in Canada. This was the national party and was carried by radio across Canada. Chief Commissioner, Mrs. Victoria Clydale led the members present in a special candle-lighting ceremony and rededication of Guiding principals and ideals. Over 200 Rangers, Guides, Brownies, Guiders and Ladies Auxiliary members of Labrador City also held a party in the Auditorium of Labrador City Collegiate from 7 to 9 p.m. on Wednesday, January 14th. A guiding film "Challenge of Leadership" was shown which was followed with campfire songs. The highlight of the evening was the cutting of a beautiful cake which was made by Crawley & McCracken and appropriately decorated, while the Guides and Brownies sang, "Happy Birthday Canadian Guiding". The evening concluded with the rededication ceremony, everyone formed a giant circle, held hands and re-affirmed their promise. The first Carol Ranger Company elected officers during their January 16th meeting. Chairman is Debbie Attersley, Secretary Treasurer, Jeanne Snell. The Brownies once again made favours for the trays at the Capt. William Jackman Memorial Hospital and collected and sent used clothing and toys for the annual toy drop on the Coast of Labrador. The Guides held a dance recently, and plans for several bake sales are in the making for the Scout-Guide Week which is scheduled to be held the second week of February - (Hardie Photo)

Players to present "Spoon River" musical

The Carol Players are presenting the three-act play "Spoon River" by Edgar Lee Masters in the Notre Dame Academy Auditorium on February 12, 13 and 14 at 8:30 p.m.

For this production, the Carol Players have engaged a professional director Miss Patricia Carroll Brown.

"Spoon River" is a mini-musical with a panorama of character; some are historically famous, while the majority are of the ordinary comic-gragic types that might be found in any ordinary town. The play unfolds the story of love, courtship, marriage and death.

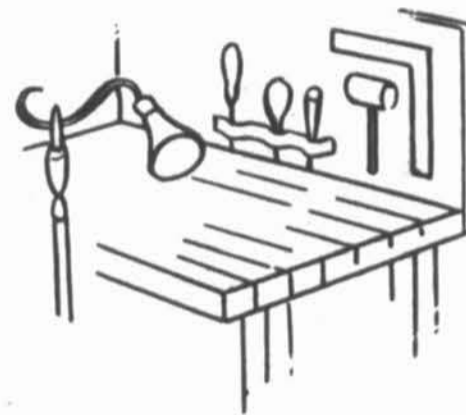

Technically, this is the most sophisticated production that the Carol Players have taken to date. It blends, in equal proportions, song, dance, lighting and the spoken word.

The Club will take "Spoon River" to the sub-regional Festival where they will compete with the Corner Brook Playmakers for the right to attend the regional Festival being held in St. John's in March.

The following members of the Club are appearing in this play: Roy Babstock, Larry Bauer, Marion Crockwell, Jerry Doyle, Jean Farr, Margaret Ghory, Chris Kojan, Dorothy Ann Matthews, Marilyn Walters, Graham White;

The technical side of the play is being handled by: Patricia Carroll Brown-Director, Sheila White-Stage Manageress, Harold Bosche- Production Manager, Tony Duarte- Set Construction, June Whitfield- Lighting, Lillian Bouzan--Publicity, Daphne Neary- House Manager.

Tickets for this play may be purchased from the Drug Stores, any member of the Carol Players, and at the door.

WORKBENCH LIGHT

An old, discarded bridge lamp can be converted into a very efficient and handy lamp for the workbench or shop. It is easily moved about to pour its light down just where you need it... and for very close, precision work you can use a reflector bulb in it. - (Gene Von).

Whalen-Tilley wedding

The Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Labrador City was the scene of a very pretting wedding on Friday, January 9th at 7 p.m. when Sylvia daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Tilley of Wabush became the bride of Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Whalen of Bell Island. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Reverend J. Laperriere, O.M.I., assisted by Reverend W.J. Bellamy, B.A. L.Th.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in an exquisite floor length white gown of nylon and acetate lace over a double layer of rayon taffeta, with an oval shape train of the same lace. Her headpiece was a double satin bow attached to a three tiered bouffant veil, with a design of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations.

Miss Sheila Tilley, sister of the bride, was maid of honour, while a cousin, Miss Linda Hiscock acted as bridesmaid. Both young ladies looked lovely in dresses of light blue crepe with full lace sleeves and matching nylon net headpieces. They carried bouquets of white and yellow mums.

The groom was attended by Mr. Rod Mazeroll as best man and Mr. Paul Hammond was usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Royal Canadian Legion, Wabush. Mr. Wm. Hiscock was the master of ceremonies. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. John Barrow, Sr.

The music at the reception was supplied by the R-Kades, who were guests at the wedding. The groom's brother, Bill is the drummer with the group. All the members formerly of the "Iron Isle" are friends of the groom.

The groom's mother also attended. Best wishes to the young couple who have taken up residence at Wabush.

"Dad got a teeny weeny TV set for our canary an' our nearsighted cat ate it!"

The youth column

by Sharon Bryans

Last weekend the Schoolboy Curling Championships were held in Grand Falls. The team of boys from Labrador City left on Thursday, January 29th. They curled on Friday and Saturday against teams from other parts of the Island.

Dave Dunkin, Ian Turriff, Gary Butler and Vladimir Freudenriech were looking forward to success and a good time, after and arduous week of examinations. Since they were not at school on Friday they had to cram their exams into four days, but it was worth it.

Speaking of exams, personally I think they are useless and do not serve any purpose in the education system. First, because exams are usually based on certain topics of the course and students are not tested on everything they have taken. Examinations are usually preceded by "late night, before the exam study sessions", so students may retain the information for a few days, but one soon forgets this information, it is soon lost to the student a few days after the exams and then has to be relearned before the next set of examinations.

Being human, most students do not review daily the work that has been taken previously and one of the reasons for this is lack of time because they usually have a lot of homework. The strain of trying to learn the course in one night is usually too much for a person and they forget half of what they learned.

Students become tense and worried about failing which also causes them to feel badly, they feel like they are being pulled at both ends and everything inside is being stretched apart. Is it really worth it to make the students go through the agony for one week every term to judge their progress? I hardly think so. It would be much easier for teachers and students if the day to day work was taken into consideration instead of just one big regurgitation at the end of the term. Robots can take information and feed it back to you in another form and this is all the education system is asking of the students. The students would retain knowledge for a longer period of time if they were tested weekly or had a short review of the previous lesson at the beginning of each class. Also the information might have more meaning if the students were taught the subjects in relation to their own lines.

Referring to information, have you noticed how people buy a book or magazine because of its sexual title or cover. Sex seems to be the "big hang-up" of everybody. If something is related to sex they will buy it. Just notice yourself when you enter a book store, even if you are not interested in buying that type of book, where do your eyes rest first? Maybe you can not help it, with the eye catching titles or pictures. Is it because of its articles on birth control, the new morality, the youth cult towards a sexier appearance or an article on how to keep your sex appeal in middle age? Our society is really in need of help if the only way we can sell books and magazines is with the sexual angle.

Maybe if more people tried to nourish their minds instead of their sexual drives, there would be less talk and more progressive steps made in things such as abortion and birth control.

RUSSIA'S ECONOMY STAGNATES: Exports peg the national production increase at only 2.5% for 1969. Bad weather trimmed farm output; industry's annual gain slowed. A campaign to recover from a winter-wheat disaster hurt the rest of the economy. Diversion of 400,000 extra trucks to summer farm work disrupted transport around the nation. Some analysts see continued trouble ahead. They claim high capitol spending can no longer bring large production increases, without a bigger labor force or faster technological gains. One lag cited: only 10% of Soviet steel is produced by the oxygen process, versus 30% in the U.S., and 80% in Japan. Moscow hoards gold rather than spend it abroad for modern machinery.

NOTE OF THANKS

Mr. "Flip" Dawson wishes to express his appreciation to all who helped in any way during the recent fire at the Theatre. Especially the firemen of both towns, the Police and the Iron Ore Company of Canada.

The March of Dimes

What a pleasure it is to live in a young healthy and affluent community such as we have in Labrador City and Wabush. So nice that we tend to forget that all areas and all people are not as well off as we are.

In Labrador City-Wabush we are going to have our "March of Dimes" campaign during the week of February 9th to February 14th. Therefore we should all consider what this organization does, its reason for existence is to assist crippled children.

In our area we have a young community and what is more natural and wonderful than the fact that we have many children, valuable to us all, but this blessing increases the chance that we may have a crippled child and one crippled child is one too many. I'm sure you will all agree, it grieves me to inform you that we have in our own towns, seven such children.

Although we have Medicare it does not cover such items as special boots, braces, wheel chairs, prosthetic appliances and other services. In the province of Newfoundland last year, in excess of $40,000.00 was spent on these items, so you see our need is as great as ever. We plead for your aid in the form of a check, made payable to the "March of Dimes" and mailed to P.O. Box 975, Labrador City. "Don't let your contribution be a lame one." - (Contributed).

By CHARLES RENDELL

"MARE'S TAILS AND MACKERAL SKY, MAKE SAILORS WISH THE LAND WERE NIGH"

I suppose a good many haven't got a clue as to what this type of sky looks like. Then I must describe it, the name is apt and descriptive as the clouds are very high, small, rounded, cottony-wool dabs sort of evenly spaced and red well after the sun has set, once again because of their great height.

The small even, roundness of their nature conjured up the fish scale bit I suppose. Then there are curved scarves of puffy white cloud swathes strealed here and there and decorating the general presentation. The whole arrangement appears to be stationary, sort of painted across the great dome of the sky and it really is a beautiful effect. But if you look closely you'll see a smart movement of the whole pattern out of the North East.

We were on holiday driving toward our camp-site when father-in-law looked up, jolly like, and grunted from the back seat, "won't be very civil by maarning!"; "Don't be so fullish," snapped his wife, "anything to spile a good time and you're all for it". "I don't care if it's salmon's scales and a haarse's mane, you could'nt find a better day than this in the whole island. Anyway be thankful and don't be looking ahead to the future, you're always living in the past."

But the old man was still on, "If we beds down under canvas tonight we'll 'ave to double reef 'er afore four aclock with the water running in the 'winard' scuppers and out the leuard ones. I guarantees 'ya it won't be tidy after the riot". The exchange ended there. I made a mental note of the old man's prognostications as he was rarely wrong where the weather was concerned.

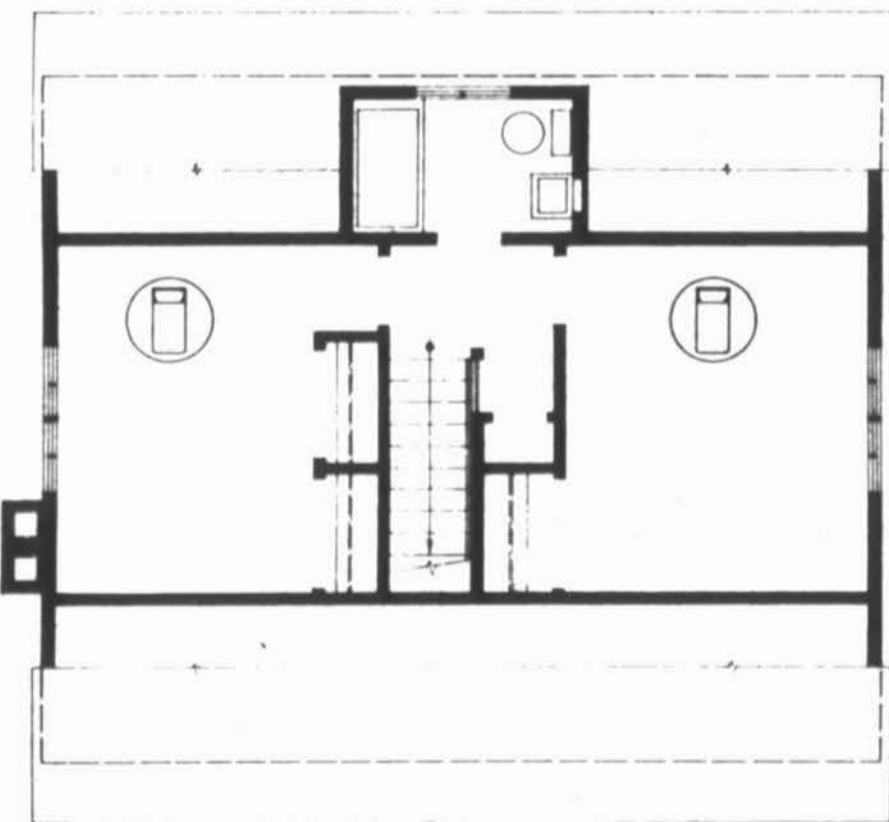

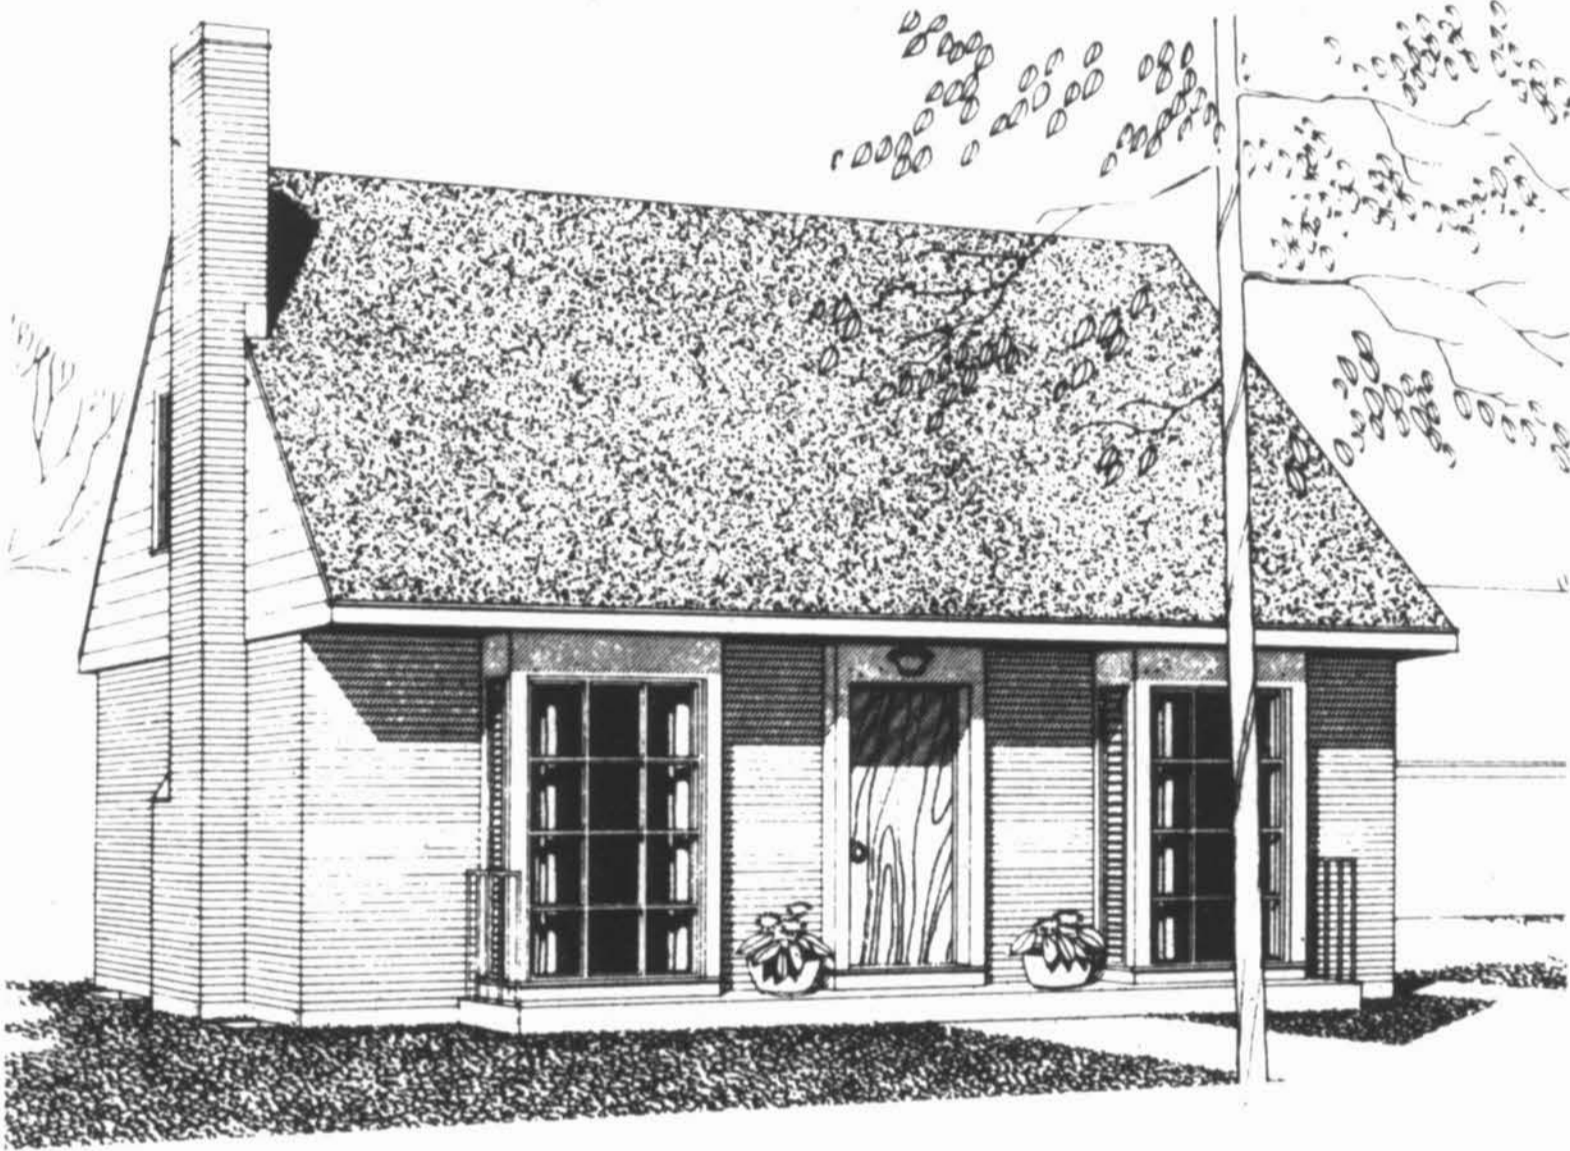

It was a calm night, though overcast and starless as we squackingly fought with our bedding.

Around 2 a.m., while I was still wrestling with a lumpy sleeping bag, there went a shivering through all the forest just behind us, it was only for an instant then complete silence again as the dew dampened foliage fell back to drooping again. I had just about won the 'battle of the bulges' when a gust of wind ripped at the tent and sent all the leaves to chattering, teeth-on-edge. A minute later there came a repeat performance, more vicious than before, and then a deluge of rain. The tent made as if to go heavenward and very nearly succeeded. From then until the following midday the storm raged, and it still defies description. As soon as the world began to move I grabbed the kids, one under each arm, and apeing my way past guy ropes and cooking paraphernalia reached the car and dumping them in the back seat, screwed the windows up tightly, as the car was bucking as if improperly clutched in gear.

Turning I could see no sign of the tent although it had been only ten yards away. Good enough reason why, too! We never saw a strand of it afterwards! The balance of the tribe was groping toward me with blankets and whatever they could haul, my wife encumbered only by the book on astrology she had bought at a corner store last night.

Well we spent a most uncomfortable session in these cramped quarters with the gale rocking us persistently. That really was a storm! There were not even any fish in the bay for a couple of weeks afterwards. I have never forgotten this portent and heartily recommend it to you all for good heeding.

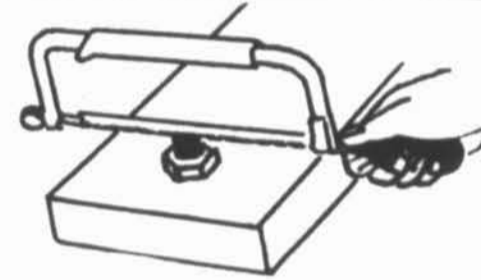

What's new in home designs?

NEW HOUSE DESIGN — This 1 1/2-storey house, by Architects WILSON & NEWTON of Toronto, is designed to meet the needs of a family requiring a downstairs bedroom and bathroom.

The rectangular shaped combination living-dining room has a fireplace, and windows at either end. A door leads into the back garden from the dining area. The kitchen has room for a dining table. Upstairs there are two good sized bedrooms and an additional bathroom. The basement provides space for normal utilities. Construction is of brick veneer.

The floor area is 1,196 square feet; the exterior dimensions are 33 feet eight inches by 33 feet ten inches. Working drawings of this house, known as Design 301, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

RUSTED NUT

When a nut has rusted fast on its bolt and is in a restricted place which prevents the use of a wrench, and a chisel and hammer cannot be used either, try splitting the end of the bolt lengthwise with a hacksaw. Cut down through the bolt until the nut is also cut in half. Then drive out the bolt with a hammer and punch. —(Gene Von).

MIND TEASER

If an artist were to increase the sides of a square canvas he is painting each by 7 inches, its area would be increased by 812 square inches. What are the present measurements of the canvas?

ANSWER

54 1/2 inches square. Subtract the square of 7 from 812; divide result by the sum of 7 and 7.

SOCK IT TO HER! "How can I cure my wife of snoring?" the man asked his doctor. "By kindness, understanding, helpful advice and patience," replied the doctor. "But I've tried all that," cried the harassed hubby. "In that case," advised the doctor, "you might try sticking an old sock in her mouth."

PROGRESS REPORT: An executive was boasting of his success to a less-successful fellow worker. "Both of us started with the company at the same time. You could have climbed the ladder to success with me. What stopped you?"

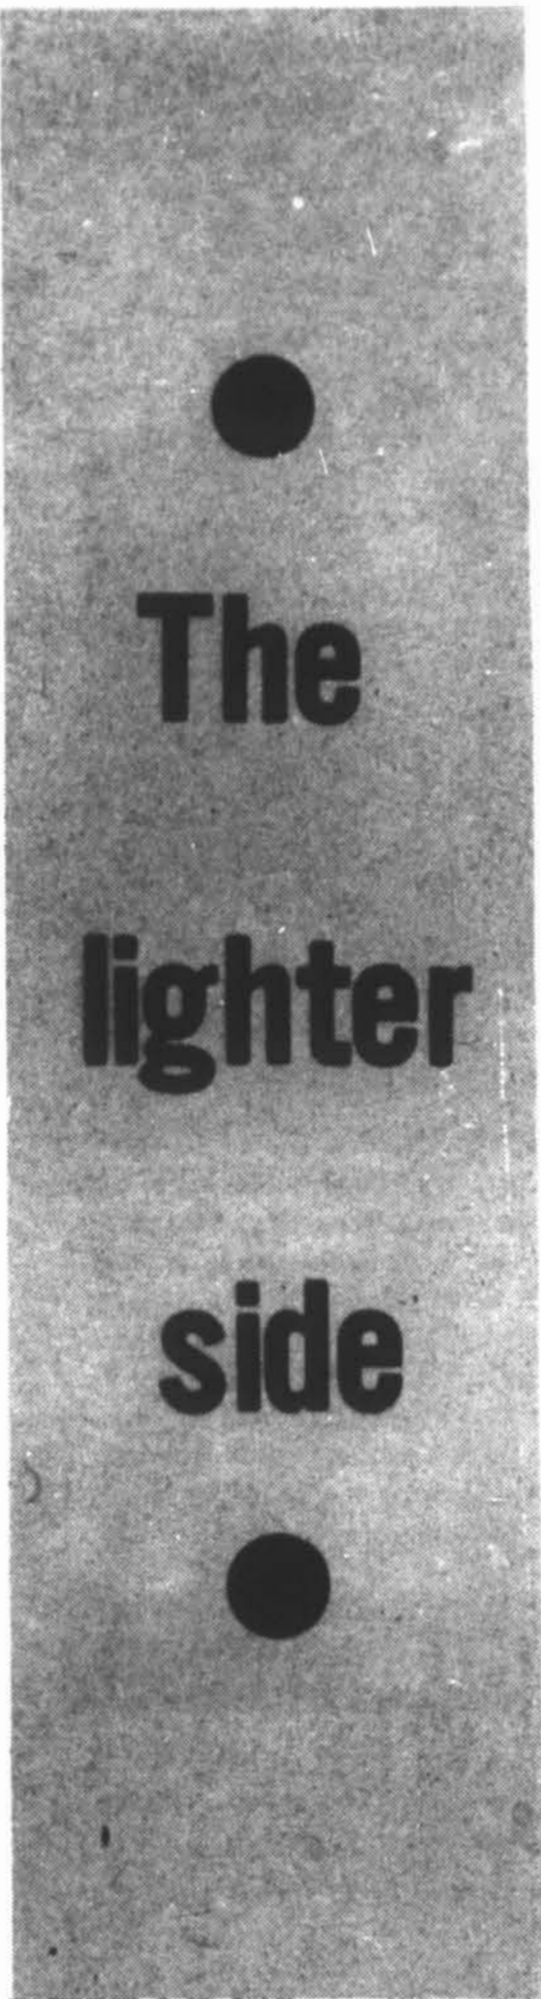

"I was too busy holding the bottom of your ladder," was the dry reply.

SWEET REVENGE: The housepainter complained so chronically of a sore throat that his employer, a lady physician, insisted on giving him a check-up. "I'm afraid I'm going to have to paint your throat, Joe," she told him. "Okay, Doc," replied the painter, "but aren't you going to let me see a color chart first?"

CONVERSATION PEACE:

So you ask me how things are!
Should I mention my surgical scar,
My trick knee that's out of whack,
The root canal or sacroiliac,
My allergy, recurrent sneezes,
My sinusitis or migraine bout,
The flaming joint with acute gout,
My stolen car, business doldrums,
Or sticky little family problems?
So you want to know what's new!
Everthing's fine, thanks. And you?

GROWTH DETERRENT: There's not much chance for this world to get better as long as folks insist on the front of the bus, the back of the church and the middle of the road.

WORD'S I'VE EATEN LATELY: "Don't worry, dear, just watch me talk my way out of this ticket." "Sure, we've got enough gas to make it to your brother's house; the gauge is just a little off."

"Look, I'm just going to play a quiet game of cards with the boys, and if I start losing too much, I'll quit."

PUTDOWN: Glaring angrily at the young doctor, an elderly lady patient snapped, "Don't you dare tell me I'm all right, young man! I was in failing health before you were born."

INVETERATE INVESTOR: When eight year old Nelda was taken to the bank to start a savings account, her mother told her, "Fill out the form dear, after all its your account."

The little girl proceeded to fill it out, but paused as she came to the space labeled "Former Bank." After a moment's pause, she wrote, "Piggy."

POPPING OFF:

Popcorn eater in a movie
I don't find so very groovy.
Not that I am bothered, when kids go out
Come in again.
I don't mind the popcorn smell,
Which I really stand quite well,
Nor thy sound of popcorn crunching,
paper rustling, people munching,
Nor the floor of floatsam, jetsam,
It's that I, at last, must get some!

FINNY GIRL: Two women were discussing the fishing trip from which their husbands had just returned.

"Honestly," sighed one, "I don't know which is worse, for Henry to catch the fish I have to clean, or lose fish I have to hear about!"

HOUND SOUND:

My neighbour says this of his dog:
"His bark's worse than his bite."
I don't quite see how that could be
He practices all night!

To head new party

Tom Burgess the MHA for Labrador West has notified the Speaker of the House of Assembly, Hon. George Clarke, of his intentions to sit as a Member of the New Labrador Party, when the legislature re-opens.

The Leader of the New Labrador Party was elected on the Liberal Ticket in the Provincial election of 1966.

Soon after his election, Mr. Burgess became somewhat of a maverick in the Liberal ranks by his disagreements with Premier Smallwood. Last year he broke clear of the Liberal Party and crossed the House to sit as an Independent.

Mr. Burgess has said he has no plans at present to organize the New Labrador Party on the Island. He is confident, when the next election is called, which is expected in the near future, that all three seats in Labrador, North, South and Western will elect New Labrador Party candidates.

THE NECKTIE: Wideneck ties mean fatter paychecks for many members of the Amalgamated clothing workers Union. Union members in New York City recently won piece-work pay rate increases of 21% to 28% for all work on ties that measure more than 4½" across.

Scanning the market

By C.S. DEVINE

As the market (at this writing) tests the 740 figure it is obvious it remains a riddle. The key question for financial analysts is wherein does investment lie?

Who has the right investment policy now? Is it the conservative bankers, worried about security, who put their money into only Canadian blue chips or is it the "so-called performance" funds, worried about their bonuses. Short term money and Canadian blue chips, this is definitely the market just now; with considerable dispute about the future level of interest rates (I feel it will go down but not before June of this year) and about the pace of U.S. troop withdrawal from Vietnam.

Benson, (my ugly Canadian) looms on the horizon; capital gains tax, a five year wealth tax, lower depletion allowances for mining industries, and higher taxes for small business. (As Joe Smallwood would say a "great", great "great", Canadian).

For the investor oils are good value. There are a number of good values both for the short-term and medium-term investor. In Western oils, exploration in the Arctic will in time provide some good results and participation in such companies as Canadian Industrial Gas & Oil Ltd., Canadian Homestead Oils Ltd., and Dome Petrol Ltd., could prove rewarding. In Alberta, exploration is on the increase. Aquitaine of Canada, is well situated there, as well as in other areas. This company's history indicates a good record of exploration success.

Home Oil at current levels seems to be good value for participation in the Alaska "North Slope", although first drilling results may be a disappointment.

Value of trading in issues listed on Canada's six stock exchanges was a record $8.2 billion during 1969, a gain of 13% over the previous high of $7.2 billion in 1968, according to figures compiled by the Toronto Stock Exchange. The value of trading in mine and oil securities on all Canadian Exchanges totalled $2.6 billion. The T.S.E. accounted for $1.5 billion of this figure. Of the $5.6 billion in industrial trading, the T.S.E. accounted for $4.2 billion.

Volume of trading in listed Canadian securities on the six exchanges was 1.86 billion shares, about the same as in 1968. The record year for share volume was 1964 when 1.9 billion shares changed hands. Trading on the T.S.E. during the past year contributed 67% to the total value and 44% to the total share volume of all listed trading in Canada. In 1968, the comparative figures were 69% and 52% (here came Vancouver).

Solve - a - crime

BY A.C. GORDON

You have been called to the home of the wealthy retired financier, Bernard Standish, and are now seated in his study with him and his 20-year-old nephew, Tom Standish.

"It's not so much the money that bothers me," says the elderly Standish, "it's the fact that my trust in one of my employees was probably misplaced. In addition to Tom here, of course, my housekeeper, Mrs. Wiggins, my secretary, Miss Harding, and my chauffeur and general handyman, Joe Regan, all have free access to the house. Earlier today I left this cash, $5,000, with Tom to keep until my return from my daily stint of jogging through the fields outside. When I did return, Tom was very agitated... said the money had been stolen from the place where he had concealed it... a real quick job, because I wasn't gone from the house more than about twenty minutes."

"One of the three persons Uncle Barney just named must have seen me putting the money away," speaks up Tom. "I'm not used to carrying around that much cash... would have felt too uncomfortable about it... so I slipped it inside that dictionary on Uncle Barney's desk... I even remember the exact location... between pages 221 and 222. But you see, it's gone." Young Tom picks up the dictionary and, holding it by its covers, shakes it violently. "Nothing in there," he says.

"Did you see any of these three persons after you hid the money?" you ask.

"Oh yes. . . I saw Mrs. Wiggins dusting some of the furniture in the room across the hall; and Miss Harding and Joe Regan were in the kitchen drinking coffee together. Do you want me to call them here so you can question them?"

"Not until I straighten out a couple of points in the story you've told me," you say. "In fact, I'm not too sure it will be necessary to question them at all!"

What has made you suspicious of Tom Standish's story?

ANSWERS

In the first place, Tom told you he had slipped the money inside the dictionary between pages 221 and 222. This would have been impossible, because the even number following an odd-numbered page is always on the back of that same page! Furthermore, if Tom HAD slipped the money into the book, there would have been no particular reason for his checking on it within the short period of twenty minutes in time to report to his Uncle its disappearance. It would have been much more natural and logical for him to discover the money's loss after his uncle's return.

Mind teaser

Billy walks to the top of a hill at the rate of 2 miles an hour. and then immediately rides his bicycle back down the hill at 12 miles an hour. If it takes him 14 minutes to make the round trip, what is the distance up the hill?

ANSWER

2/5-mile. Let X equal distance up the hill and then, using the formula that distance divided by rate equals time, form equation: X/2 plus X/12 equals 14/60 (there are 60 minutes in one hour). Solve.
