SCOUT & GUIDE WEEK held from February 15 to 22 concluded last Sunday with a Joint Church Parade of Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies in Labrador City and Wabush participating. In the words of District Commissioner Rev. W. Bellamy, "it was a success". All events that were scheduled during the week were held, with the exception of the "hike", which had to be cancelled due to the minus twenty degree temperature. In the area for Scout & Guide Week was Mr. Frank Kavanagh of the Provincial Scout Executive. Mr. Kavanagh made the presentation of awards on behalf of the Scouting movement to the following people; Paul White, Jack Cornell Award, Rev. W.J. Bellamy, 10 year service pin and medal, Anne Prietha, 15 year Lapel badge and medal, Gilwell Neckerchief and Woggle to Michale Blackburn, Scouters Warrants to Vera Adam of the 1st Wabush Pack, and Dan Bell of the 1st Wabush Troop. Mrs. Kevin Greene was presented with the Guide Thanks Badge, in appreciation of her long association with the Guiding Movement. Robert Gosse was awarded his Queen Scouts Badge, which is one of the last to be presented, as this award has been abolished in the new Scouting Program. On hand for the presentations, were approximately six hundred Cubs, Scouts, Guides and Brownies along with their leaders, in the Royal Theatre. (Aurora Photo)

Here is Paul White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam White of Labrador City, receiving the Jack Cornell Award, for perseverance in Scouting in spite of severe physical handicap. Paul obtained his Scout Badge while in hospital at Montreal where he has undergone major operations. Making the presentation on behalf of the Chief Scout of Labrador is Mr. Frank Kavanagh of the Provincial Scout Executive. It is expected that Paul will receive the medal from the Governor General of Canada in June. (Aurora Photo)

Labrador politics

The Editor
Aurora

Dear Sir:

I wish to take exception to a comment made by Mr. T. Burgess, M.H.A., carried in your edition of Tuesday, 24 February. The wording in part states that I wanted to see Labrador cut its ties with Newfoundland and try for territorial status. It infers that I am a "separatist".

When Premier Smallwood made his infamous statement that he would "rather lose Labrador than spend one cent in building a road to Quebec," I, and the majority of Labrador West residents, were infuriated. I stated on several occasions, that the Liberal (Smallwood) Provincial Government's attitude towards Labrador and especially Western Labrador was unreasonable. The road comment was the "last straw". If this was the administration's policy towards Labrador it would be to our advantage to seek Territorial Status, under the Federal Government. Agreed, I made such a remark but it was made against the one-man Provincial Government.

Recently I have had discussions with members of the Progressive Conservative Party executive. The policy of the P.C. Party is directly opposite to that of the present "ruling body". A comprehensive plan is being drawn up covering the future development of Labrador. A plan that will ensure that a fair share of revenues collected in Labrador will be expended in Labrador.

As to the Dept. of Labrador Affairs; at present, it serves no useful purpose and should be disbanded. The Minister's knowledge of Labrador Affairs was revealed earlier this week by his statement on I.O.C. PLANNED expansion. But how could he know what's going on in Western Labrador? He hasn't spent much more than 18 hours here in the past 18 months.

Another point I wish to refer, re: Mr. Burgess comments: "After the next election the strength of the Liberal and Conservatives will be about the same, and our New Party will hold the balance of power." This is merely wishful thinking. Why not reality? In the 1968 Federal election, based on Provincial Districts the P.C. Party won about 28 of the 42 seats. In 1969, a month prior to the "confirmation of the leader", a poll conducted by a Toronto group FOR THE LIBERAL PARTY, reported, if an election were held during September 1969, the Smallwood party would win approximately 15 seats. So there was very little change between 1968 and 1969, and there seems nothing on the horizon to change these figures in 1970.

If the people of Labrador elect 3 N.L.P. members they would only be increasing the opposition. This I feel would be a grave mistake for the residents of Labrador. The P.C. Party will have a definite plan for the orderly development of Labrador.

Labradorians, your vote in the next Provincial election will have a marked bearing on the future of this area for years to come. You will be asked to decide; for progression - for retrogression. There is only one party that can lead us in the seventies, the Progressive Conservative Party Of Newfoundland and Labrador.

The lighter side

ANYONE FOR TEA? From the London Daily Mail: "It was the last straw when a group of naked footballers charged into the netball girls' tea-making session in the sports pavillion. Captain A.P. Cross said at yesterday's meeting of Tongham parish council, near Aldershot: 'At times you get 40 young girls and 50 men in the pavillion. With people running about in the nude it doesn't help the girls making tea.'"

FROM A SHAREHOLDER: During the question and answer period of the big oil company's annual meeting, a little old lady raised her hand. She was invited to the nearest microphone and asked: "Mr. Chairman. One thing has worried me ever since I bought shares in this company. When you build a new gas station on a street corner, how do you know you'll find oil?"

WORD GAME:

From strikes to schools to drugs to prices,
The current word in use is "crisis";
No longer are there problem times,
"Emergencies" or "waves of crimes";
A warlike sound, however slight'll
Seek and find a "crisis" title.
Our air, our water and our space
Are leaders of the "crisis" race,
Our kids, our morals and our books
Are proof of how a "crisis" looks.
Though once extreme and downright scary,
"Crises" are now so ordinary
That when we see the headline grow
We're grateful things are status quo.

SAD TREND: It's true we shouldn't expect something for nothing. But considering the enormous prices we are currently paying for shoddy merchandise, must we accept nothing for something?

PRODIGY'S PROBLEM: Perhaps the cruelest thing a parent can do nowadays is to push a bright child through school, too fast. What if he arrives at college too young to grow a beard?

THE COLLEGE STUDENT: Remarks from a U.S. College Hockey Coach: "We've got to treat college students as men. You have to remember that they can't concentrate on hockey all the time like you can in high school."

GENERATION REVISITED:

Oh, long-haired, moustached, bearded one,
Some short-haired, shaven, father's son,
You won't like what I have to say,
That you resemble a past day,
Which you may find quite a bother;
You look just like your great grandfather.

LOVERS TURN: He rounded the bend at about sixty, a sudden skid, and the car overturned into a ditch. They found themselves together unhurt alongside the wrecked car. He put his arm around her waist to comfort her, but she pushed it away, saying as she did so: "It's all very nice, but wouldn't it have been easier to run out of gas?"

WORKING RULE "OF A WELL-KNOW AIRLINE": "If passengers wish to arrange a card game aloft a stewardess is permitted to join them, but she is allowed to play for love only, never for money."

STALE TALE: "You're not eating your fish!" snapped the waiter, glaring at his customer. "What's wrong with it, sir, if I may ask?"

"Long time no sea," said the dour diner.

NOT BAD EFFECTS:

He eats five times a day, I guess,
And drinks still more than that.
You'd think he'd be a frightful mess
And really gross and fat.
No diet is suggested, though.
His doctor doesn't scold.
It helps a bit, perhaps, to know
He's only six months old.

CLASS DISCRIMINATION: A Washington, D.C., area retail chain offers four models of humidifiers, "The Imperial", "The Crown", "The Royal", and, for budget buyers, "El Cheapo".

QUICKIES: A new product appears to make thin hair look more dense. Its name: "Thicket". . . . A New York bank, with a photo identification on its credit cards, offers to provide new identification at no charge if the cardholder decides to grow a moustache.

On the local scene

In a two part article carried in the St. John's Daily News, February 23rd and 24th, Tom Burgess claims that he was "concocted into public life", by the promises of Premier Smallwood. In a special interview with the Daily News, Mr. Burgess "set the record straight" on why he entered politics; why he left the Liberal Party and why he formed the New Labrador Party. Mr. Burgess described the Directors of Labrador Affairs as "all political stool-pigeons". He referred to Miss Lillian Bouzanne, Resident Director of Labrador Affairs for Labrador West as getting $12,000.00 a year - just there to test the political wind for the Liberals, "all they are doing is political work for the Liberal Party", he said. The Labrador West MHA attacked the government for the state of communications all over Labrador and the CBC for their Radio and Television Service, and predicted that the New Labrador Party will take all three seats in the next election.

Are you satisfied with local TV programs? The CBC thinks so! We have been endeavouring to convince the CBC that you are not satisfied with television programming and content - but the CBC is not convinced - because practically no complaints have been received by them. To convince the CBC that you are not satisfied: Whenever an undesirable or unpopular program is televised write us your suggestions or complaints for forwarding to CBC. Write the Labrador West Chamber of Commerce P.O. Box 1796, Labrador City, or you may drop your letters in any of The Aurora boxes in the shopping centres. We will pass them along to the Chamber of Commerce.

The Progressive Conservative Association of Labrador West will be holding a special meeting at the O'Brien Hall tonight. The purpose of this meeting will be to elect delegates to attend the Provincial Leadership Convention to be held in May.

He said that the winner for 1969 has been decided and will be named when the award is presented on Monday, March 9, one week after the official opening date for the 1970 campaign. It is proposed that the community will place the Cup on public display in a prominent place until the next winner is named the following year. The presentation of the first award will be made by a Timmy representing all the crippled children of Newfoundland and Labrador. The Cup will be received by a representative of the sponsor of the Easter Seal Campaign in the award-winning community. - (Tooton's Photo).

MERC 40, 115 and 135-hp MODELS

Last year the Merc 800 with Direct Charging and Thunderbolt ignition caused quite a stir among boating enthusiasts. More power in less space, increased economy and efficiency were the result of this engineering breakthrough. For 1970 there are three new models with Direct Charging and Thunderbolt ignition - the 40, 115 and 135-hp Mercs. To improve performance, economy and efficiency even more, Perma-Gap spark plugs were developed. A new, super-tough alloy which resists spark erosion is used for the center electrode. Under normal operating conditions, Perma-Gap plugs will last the lifetime of the engine. Thunderbolt ignition and Perma-Gap plugs are standard throughout the 1970 line of Mercury outboards. Come on in and meet the newcomers, 40, 115 and 135-hp Mercs.

Sub-regional festival won by Carol Players

The Carol Players won the sub-regional Drama Festival at Corner Brook on Saturday, February 21. This win gives to Labrador City - Wabush the honour of representing the Western Newfoundland Division at the Regional Festival being held in Gander on March 17th - 21st.

The Carol Players' "Spoon River" was directed by a professional director, play "J.B." by Archibald McLeish, directed by Jim Boyles.

The adjudicator of the two day festival was Mrs. Evelyn Garbary, a lady of great charm and grace an ageless wonder to those who participated in the Festival.

The Carol Players, she said, showed good professional technique and had excellent speech and diction which supported them through a difficult first act. There was greater warmth in the second act, Mrs. Garbary agreed, which was communicated to an audience of well-wishing Corner Brookers. (and a few home-sick Labradorians who had been on the Island and had gone to Corner Brook to be with the Carol Players for the Festival.) Mrs. Garbary stated that since the play "Spoon River" gave no guide lines to the Director as to how the play might be staged or costumed, the set and costumes came straight out of Patty Brown's imagination, and were perfect. The adjudicator said that Miss Brown used every trick of her trade; without being obvious coats were put on, taken off, props appeared from nowhere, as if by magic.

The Carol Players came home with marvellous words of praise for the hospitality given them by The Playmakers. Having lost, was indeed a disappointment for the players of Corner Brook, but like the troopers they are they rejoiced with Labrador City - Wabush in their first win, and expressed their good wishes, and more, in that they promised that some of their players would go to Gander to give their support to the Carol Players at the Regional Festival, where they will compete against St. John's, Grand Falls and the host town, Gander, for the top drama honours of the province. Newfoundland is a member of the Atlantic Region Division of the Dominion Drama Festival, and from the four winning plays in this area one will be chosen to represent the Atlantic Region at the Dominion Festival, which will be held in Winnipeg. The members of the Carol Players who were left behind in Labrador City - Wabush staged a welcome for the homecoming victors. At the airport Miss Brown was presented with flowers by Mr. Albert Chatwood. Later in the evening at the reception a formal toast was made to Miss Brown and to the members of the cast of "Spoon River", and as behoves artists this toast was given in verse, written and read by Albert Chatwood:

How shall we thank you for the work,
Which you so patiently have done?
It is impossible!
And yet, dear friend,
For such you must be called,
We must attempt to show you what we feel.
Where had we been without you?
Heaven knows!!
Grasping and stumbling on towards a goal.
We had aspired to things too great for us,
And knew it not.

When you appeared in answer to our plea,
You saw our gifts, our possibilities,
And patiently and kindly led us on
To greater heights than we had thought to reach.
You even surprised yourself!

And now that you've come back
We've gathered here,
To honour you quite simply,
Among friends.
For all too soon alas,
You must depart for your own home,
And leave us here, bereft.

Still we'll have memories,
Of pleasant hours
Working together each at our mutual task.
Yet not a task, for all were pleasant hours,
Together spent.

Come back again, and soon,
We all implore!

Here 'n' there

FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORT ESTIMATES: (Newfoundland) Gander: Runway repairs $60,000; repairing heating and ventilating system $61,000; installing no-break power unit for area control centre $50,000. Labrador Coast: Establishing beacons for aircraft $85,000. St. John's: Torbay Airport, center line lighting $300,000; extending air terminal building $250,000; precision approach radar installation $400,000. Wabush: Installation of ILS at Wabush Airport $199,000; two single dwellings $90,000. (Quebec) Sept Iles: Combined maintenance garage, trades workshop and sand shed $500,000. Schefferville: Paving runway (08) $500,000; sand storage building $54,000; medium and low intensity runway lighting $50,000.

AUTO TUNNELS, FOR PARIS: Societe des Grands Travaux de Marseilles proposed to Paris authorities a plan calling for construction of large underground passageways at all key crossroads of the French capital to solve the city's hopelessly tangled traffic. Only passenger cars would be allowed to go through the tunnels. Trucks and other vehicles would have to drive on the surface. The company - France's leading public works, road and dam builder - claims traffic, now moving at a snail's pace, would be speeded up 90%.

FLOWER POWER: Seeds with swinging names invade the latest crop of garden catalogues. A U.S. supplier features "Sweet Bippy", a new petunia, and an impatiens labelled "A Go-Go." Plant breeders who used to favor winsome name like "Little Boy Blue" now offer marigold varieties named "Groovy" and "Tiger". One new sweet alyssum variety that spans the generation gap: "Tiny Tim".

NAME CHANGE: Newfoundland Telephone Co. is the new name of Bell Canada's subsidiary in the 10th Province. Formerly known as Avalon Telephone Co., the firm's new title "will ensure a better identification of the company with the province it serves", a Bell Canada official says.

LIFE ON THE "NEVER-NEVER" FOR BRITAINS AT 18: Britain may turn into the glib salesman's paradise - and creditor's nightmare - now that persons 18 years old and over qualify for easier installment credit. Since last month, anyone over 18 is permitted under law to buy on credit without parental guarantors. Some debt-collecting agencies already have expressed fears that young people may let themselves be talked into wild spending or let payments lapse. The eligibility comes under provisions that lowered the age of majority, and voting age, from 21. Despite some fears, however, many companies welcome earlier installment credit for teen-agers and predict this will provide an important boost to retail sales.

MINI-BUSES FOR AIRPORT: A fleet of European made mini-buses will be put into service at Toronto International Airport this year by Air Terminal Transport Ltd., a subsidiary of Charterways Co., Ltd., London, Ont. Charterways has ordered 25 mini-bus bodies in 15-passenger and 27-passenger models from a Belgian manufacturer and expects delivery this spring. The mini-buses will replace limousine service on Air Terminal Transport's runs from the Toronto airport to Hamilton, Burlington and Oakville. They will also augment limousine and bus service between the airport and downtown Toronto. The 25 buses, with Canadian-built chassis, engines and automatic transmissions will cost $400,000 altogether.

WHEN THE MILITARY DEPARTS: Bangor, Maine, has become a prime refuelling stop for trans-atlantic jets. Since the former Strategic Air Command bomber base became a commercial airport in mid 1968, it has lured business from such other western Atlantic stops as Halifax, Montreal, Gander, and Goose Bay. An oil company study told Bangor officials to expect to sell an average of five million gallons of jet fuel a year in the first three years of the airport's operation, building to a 10 million gallon peak after 10 years. But in 1969, airport crews pumped some 14 million gallons of fuel into more than 1,500 airliners. Now the estimate is that 26 million gallons of fuel will be pumped this year, 100 million in 1980. Another miscalculation: Bangor officials erected 150 bleacher seats at the airport last June for plane watchers. But they haven't been enough for routine crowds of 250 to 300.

CEMENT PLANT TO CLOSE: North Star Cement Ltd. will close its Corner Brook plant for three to four weeks beginning March 6th. The shutdown is expected to end when demand catches up with supply. About 75 hourly paid employees will be affected.

RECORD B.C. BUDGET: Premier W.A.C. Bennett recently brought down a record BALANCED BUDGET of $1,165,460,000 for British Columbia. The budget up 14% from last year, includes a wide range of social benefits with NO TAX INCREASES. He predicted that the province will continue to expand its economy and social services throughout the 1970s.

We shall endeavour to retain what's learned
But we want more,
Our aspiration's great.
Leave now, and know you must
But come again.

The Carol Players in their flush of victory will present "Spoon River" one more time to the home audience on Wednesday, March 11th, and then it is on to Gander.

Labrador City - Wabush have marvellously supported the Carol Players by their attendance at the three earlier performances. In both towns organizations and companies have unstintingly backed drama in the area.

Scanning the market

By C.S. DEVINE

DEMAND FOR STOCKS WILL GROW: Although business is slowing, we do not expect any easing in monetary policies either in the U.S. or Canada until June. Inflation continues to be a major problem and government is determined to halt it. Fiscal policy in the United States is only restraining, and a restrictive monetary policy will be the key factor to slow business and correspondingly to stop inflation. Slowing down business reduces corporate profits which, in turn, makes it difficult for unions to obtain their wage demands.

Corporate profits in the first half of 1970 will be lower than most people expect. We are in an earnings market. Although there is resistance at the Dow 750 level, the next major support level appears to be 720. On the other hand the Canadian market appears to be relatively stronger. The Toronto Stock Exchange industrial index now 180-182, could pull back to about 170-175. The Canadian market seems definitely stronger, technically, than the U.S.

Therefore, in spite of the prospect of lower earnings in 1970, the Canadian market has a strong base. Dividends should increase, to escape capital gains. The Economic Council of Canada reports that the Canadian economy possesses the essential ingredients to sustain five years of strong economic growth. Although 1970 could be a year of slow to no growth, the 1971 - 75 era looks quite exciting. A building boom of unparalleled dimensions is expected. Consumer spending on durable is expected to be fast growing. Government expenditures in the health service and educational areas will be large. In summary, given the present period of economic uncertainty, the Canadian market appears to be relatively more attractive and therefore safer than the U.S. market. This in itself will encourage demand for Canadian equities. Investments in banks and life insurance companies appear particularly attractive.

STILL GOOD BUYS FOR SHORT TERM: Restrictive fiscal and monetary policies are at last having the desired effect, although bond markets have given no indication yet that this is the case. A poor reception has been given to new bond issues in recent months, even those at extremely attractive rates of 9% and upwards. The huge losses suffered by investors in long-term fixed-income bonds and debentures has destroyed their confidence in such purchases. It appears that a long time will elapse before this confidence is restored. Greater efforts to control government spending plans would be far more effective in this respect than implementation of a new system of taxation designed to ultimately gouge more dollars out of an already overtaxed middle-income group.

Most experts will agree that planning an investment program in such an atmosphere with any degree of certainty as to near-term results is extremely difficult. U.S. common stocks, as measured by the Dow-Jones averages, are now selling at an estimated 13 times earnings for industrials. The Toronto Stock Exchange average for industrials is about 16 times earnings. The New York market after reaching a 4 year low recently seems to be turning around, to the accompaniment of a heavy volume of trading. This would suggest a rally may at last be under way. This could carry it back into the 800-plus range, as measured by the popular Dow-Jones industrial average. However, it is still too early to jump in and follow the move too far. Better wait and see what success is achieved in the fight against inflation. Unless this battle is won, it is difficult to envisage a strong dollar.

For your information

WHAT JUNK? The U.S. Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel terms old car bodies, refrigerator carcasses and the like "obsolete metallics". Furthermore, it says, "Obsolete metallics shouldn't be viewed as waste or junk, but as an economic resource-mines above ground."

VOLKSWAGEN INSPECTION: Volkswagen of America Inc. has asked owners to return about 11,000 station wagons, trucks and campers, produced at the start of the 1970 model year, to dealers for inspection of tie-rods. In a number of instances, vehicles had lines attached to the tie-rods rather than the front axle beams, which may have slightly bent the tie-rods. This could lead to excess wear and might cause vehicles to tend to pull to the side.

U.S. UNION'S AVERAGE 8.2% PAY BOOST: A new Labor Department report confirms what employers already know - that unions won big gains at the bargaining table last year. Major settlements covering nearly 2.5 million workers in 1969 provided record increases in wages and benefits, the department's study shows. Among the indicators of union success are: (a) A median increase in wages and fringe benefits of 8.2% in 1968 and 5.5% in 1967. (b) Wage increases alone over the contracts' terms averaging 7.1%, up from 5.2% in 1968 and 5% in 1967. (c) A median first-year wage boost of 8.2%, up from 7.2% the year before and 5.6% in 1967; labor men continued to seek especially fat pay increases in the "front end" of the contracts to offset fast-rising prices. The building trades continued to set the pace for other unions last year, winning a median boost in wages and fringes of 12.9%. Major settlements were reached in the metal-working, transportation, lumber, petroleum, and apparel industries in 1969.

PRICE RESTRAINT: Montreal residents can take some cold comfort in the fact that, willingly or not, they seem to be in the vanguard of the war on inflation. The Montreal Real Estate Board reports that the average price of single family homes in greater Montreal dropped by 3.9% last year. The most pronounced drop was in the west section, which includes the well-to-do and largely English speaking communities of Westmount,

Town of Mount Royal, Hampstead and Montreal West, as well as the French speaking town of Outremount.

PC'S will elect delegates

Election of delegates from Labrador City - Wabush, to attend the Progressive Conservative leadership convention of 15 May, will be held at the O'Brien Hall, Labrador City on Wednesday 11 March at 8:30 p.m.

This meeting will be one of approximately forty being held throughout the Province this date.

It is hoped that about 90% of the delegates to attend the convention will be selected by Wednesday 11 of March. Their will be no slates, now blocks, of delegates; all will be elected as uncommitted.

Why the policy of holding District meeting so early, more than two months before the leadership election? The convention committee feels this will enable all candidates to visit the majority of districts and afford them an opportunity to speak to delegates, as to local problems and the program the candidate would follow if he is elected leader at the convention of 15 May. Early reports indicate a large turn-out is expected throughout the Province for the meetings of Wednesday, March 11.

"B" LEAGUE HOCKEY

Two more games were played in the "B" league last week and the results show Wabush increasing their first place lead. On Friday Wabush defeated the Indians 7 to 3 and on Tuesday they defeated the Royals 3 to 2. In the opener Vince White, Paddy Dawe and John Mercer all had two goals each while Dave Kelly fired the other. Dawe and White also added 2 assists each. For the Indians, Jean LeTrourneau, Cyril Butler and Steve Doran all scored singles. The Indians outshot Wabush 36 to 35 over the route. On Tuesday night Wabush overcame a 2 to 0 deficit to win their game. The Royals had taken their early lead on goals by Ed Butt and John Myers, but Max Ollerhead and Tom Kent scored in the second and then Dave Kelly scored at 10:25 of the third to wrap up their victory. The next games to be played in the Series will be Tuesday, March 6th, when the Indians will face off against Wabush.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The Braves and Teachers both registered easy victories over Wabush in the two basketball games played last week. On Friday the Braves defeated Wabush 45 to 33, while on Wednesday the Teachers beat them 53 to 26. Dennis Talbot led the Braves to their victory scoring 17 points, while Bob Vluc and Ivan Manuel added 11 and 9 respectively. Paul Martin scored 12 for Wabush with Nels Shelley throwing in 8.

On Wednesday the Teachers broke open a 15 to 15 half tie game by scoring 38 points in the second for their 53 to 26 victory. Bob Chick led all scorers with a 26 point night, while Art Squarey followed with 11 and Jim Dunn with 8. Nels Shelley once again led Wabush with 13 points. Wednesday, March 4th, the Braves will meet the Saints and on Friday the Teachers will play the Braves.

SKI NEWS

In addition to the news of our Nancy Green Team placing second, in the Nancy Green Provincial Championship, last weekend Bob Archer, Perry spitznagel and Carol Swierkot travelled to Mount Avila in the Laurentians to compete in the Laurentian Zone Championships. They raced slalom and giant slalom. These races were for "A" classified skiers only.

MINOR HOCKEY

The Labrador City Minor Hockey Association will be sending four all star teams to Sept Iles over the weekend to compete in their annual invitational tournament. For the Pee Wees it will be their second tournament while the Mosquitos, Bantams and Midgets will be making their initial appearance this season. The boys will leave on the Friday afternoon train returning via the same route on Sunday night. Full results of the tournament will be carried in next week's issue.

SCHOOL BASKETBALL

Labrador City Collegiate senior girls won their first championship in two years last week as they defeated J.R. Smallwood Collegiate 36 to 11, to win the best of five series in three straight games. They won earlier games by the score of 30 to 19 and 29 to 18. The LCC senior boys team kept pace with the girls by defeating JRSC 54 to 36 last Thursday to also win their series in three straight games. They won the first game 75 to 29 and the second 56 to 45.

Notre Dame Academy won the junior girls championship, finishing the double round robin series with a 3 to 1 record. Labrador City Amalgamated won two and lost two, while J.R. Smallwood registered a single victory upsetting LCA 14 to 13. The junior boys series is not finished, but right now JRSC is in the drivers seat, they have 2 victories and a single defeat, while LCA are 1 to 1 and NDA have a single victory and 2 defeats.

HERE AND THERE

Edward Lannon, who last year was the top male gymnast in the area recently represented Memorial University at the Atlantic Gymnastic Championships in Nova Scotia. He was one of three members of the team. The Labrador City Men's Basketball Team competed in the Provincial Intermediate "C" Championships last weekend in Baie Verte. The calibre of our "B" all star team was pleasantly surprising. I feel that this team is certainly as good as last year's Royals. The Bantam all stars will be making their first appearance this week. They have a real good shot at the Provincial Championships this year.

A local curling team skipped by Jack Dunkin, recently won an invitational bonspiel at Churchill Falls.

The Minor Hockey Association is holding a Carnival Raffle with the winner taking home $5000 in addition every 10th ticket holder gets his money back. The drawing takes place at the Ashuanipi Social Club on March 19.

Norm Gillespie and Jane Drover vice-president and secretary respectively, of the Newfoundland Gymnastic Association, are in Edmonton this week attending a National Judges Clinic. They are the only two attending from Newfoundland.

Finally, a reminder that the Chamber of Commerce is giving a $100 prize to the group building the best Carnival Ice Sculpture.

What's new in home designs?

NEW HOUSE DESIGN - The center hall arrangement of this 2-bedroom bungalow, designed by Architect M. G. DIXON of Ottawa, is its principal asset.

In a small house such as this provisions for privacy and the isolation of noise are essential. The positioning of the entrance doors and the inter-connecting hallway achieve this object. Wide roof overhangs provide protection from the weather to both the front and the back doors. From the rear entrance there is ready access to the basement which, in addition to providing space for normal utilities, contains an area which could be developed for recreational or workshop use. The house should be placed on the lot with the fireplace wall facing north.

The floor area is 978 square feet; the exterior dimensions, including the carport are 51 feet by 28 feet. Working drawings of this house, known as Design 125, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

The Alarm Clock

By CHARLES RENDELL

Two legs to support me without any feet,
Two hands without arms to measure each beat
A face full of numbers, no nose and no eyes
A belly of cog wheels, coiled spring, and some dials.

My friends are the minutes and hours of time,
My ticks and my tocks and the bell of my chime,
A shelf or some nook, some spot by a bed,
Any place that is handy to see what I've said.

I watch through long hours when folks are asleep,
I'm awake at each dawn at the sparrow's first peep
I alarm on the second and wake everyone,
You should just see the faces and grumblings of some.

I get plenty of glances but rarely a smile,
Seems my job is to hurry up kids all the while,
The oldsters just glare and shout, "hurry we're late",
Looks like jarring, and perking, and pestering's my fate.

I moment first squallings and note each first smile,
I chronicle first words and walks of each child,
Christenings and birthdays, all stages of growth
Are ticked by my tock and recorded enroute.

I've watched by the sick and heard many a sigh,
Seen many a tired look as night time dragged by
But it isn't my fault I am only so strong,
And folks do more timing when something goes wrong.

But I've also seen gladness seen many a joy,
And watched the keen laughter of small girls and boys
Ticked glad anniversary, welcomes and bliss,
Many happy reunions, and homecoming kiss.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The organized Bible Society work in Czechoslovakia, going back to 1807, was closed down in 1953. Now thirteen churches have joined to re-establish it under the title, "Czechoslovak Bible Work." The first president is the Rev. M. Sourek, of the Evangelical Church of the Czech Brethren. Translation, production and distribution of the Holy Scriptures in Czechoslovakia are its objectives. A new translation of the Czech Bible for Christians of all Churches is in hand, several of the Books being already completed in translation.

Action Set in The Arctic

Mention the word "Arctic" to the average Canadian and he'll think of ice, snowstorms, Eskimo carvings, below zero temperatures, remoteness and isolation. He'll say he'd like to visit but wouldn't want to live there.

So, for all the young Canadian stay-at-homes, Action Set took a visit to the Arctic in honor of the Centennial of the Northwest Territories. It's a two-parter, heard Saturdays, March 7 and 14 at 10:30 a.m. EST on the CBC radio network. There'll be reports and interviews by John Kastner from Inuvik and Yellowknife.

The first program, March 7, gives Arctic residents a chance to tell "southerners" what it's like up north. The second part, March 14, investigates the problems and issues of the Arctic.

Inuvik, NWT, (the place of man) is a short distance away from the oil drilling which occasioned the voyage of the SS Manhattan. A planned, "model" community, Inuvik is a city on poles with a four-foot square "utilidor" snaking through the town to provide heat, water and sewage service. Inuvik residents talk about their lives in this northern settlement. Nellie Courmoyer talks about the changing social customs of the North, an RCMP constable describes the special problems of his work, and high school students describe their activities and feelings about life in the Arctic. Brian Cousins of Inuvik's station CHAK is DJ and musical host.

One of the problems facing the NWT concerns young people. There is a great deal of migration, forced and otherwise, of Eskimos into the cities and towns. Children from remote areas are brought into main centres, boarded and sent to school. They see their parents only in the summer. Consequently, many of them have difficulty in communicating with their parents in addition to the generation gap problem. Once educated, the young people don't want to trap and hunt as their parents did. This is one of the reasons more jobs are needed in the north. Graduates are having difficulty finding employment.

Oil, natural gas, Arctic sovereignty, provincial status, bureaucracy and royal visits -- these are some of the other topical issues facing Canada's Arctic citizens.

Take a quick, comfortable trip to Canada's Arctic frontier with Action Set. These editions are produced by Ron Gordon.

ACTION SET - Action Set's John Kastner reports from Canada's Arctic Frontier: Inuvik, N.W.T. No, the white giants aren't snowmen, they're sculptures in front of the Samuel Hearne Secondary School. Action Set visits the northland on the March 7 and 14 shows heard Saturdays on the CBC radio network.

By SHARON BRYANS

Last weekend, Saturday February 21st, the Labrador City Collegiate had one of its most successful dances of the year, thanks to the Royal Canadian Legion which provided the student council the Chevelles. The attendance at the dance was excellent, with a large number of students from Wabush and Schefferville.

Saturday, February 21st LCC hosted a basketball tournament, senior girls and boys basketball teams from Wabush, Labrador City and Schefferville participated. Students from Labrador City were provided with transportation to the Collegiate in the morning to watch the girls' games. The bus returned to LC at noon and left again for Wabush at 1:30 so the students could watch the boys games. Because of their success the senior girls' team will possibly be going to St. John's on the Weekend of March 21st and 22nd.

On March 1, the beginning of education week, LCC science students held a science fair. Students from the Collegiate taking any science course were encouraged to participate. This involved preparing a project of display in their particular field, which could be easily understood by elementary school children. The purpose of the science fair was to give the younger students an idea of what each of the science courses offered in the high school is about.

Last week LCC students picked their Teen Princesses for the Winter Carnival, the girls chosen are, Doreen Roussy, Joan Bruce, Charna Turiff and Pat Dineen. The girls are candidates for the title of Carnival Teen Queen, who will be chosen on Friday, March 11 at the Teen Carnival Dance.

The status quo seems to be growing all the time. The message of the Hippies to get off the materialistic kick, hasn't affected our modern day middle class society at all. In fact the "silent majority" seems to be more caught in materialism and the acquiring of status symbols than ever before. It seems that the public in general upon increasing wages, increase competition among themselves for expensive material possessions. Many people today don't work at a certain profession or job because they like it or find it satisfying and interesting, but because they receive a higher paycheck than if they were employed at their preferred career.

This psychological outlook seems purely indifferent to one's happiness in everyday life. People are being very selfish working where they aren't capable, which doesn't really improve their lives in the long run. If the person knows himself that he could be giving more to society and to his fellows by being employed in another profession, why does he continue in that profession? Maybe a person does this because he hasn't yet realized that even though money is a necessity to stay alive, it is not all there is to life. This person has yet to discover the happiness gained through simple observance and appreciation of natural beauty. By earning more money this person thinks that he will be recognized as a good successful citizen by his fellow workers and friends. But what good is this recognition and status if there is not real human happiness and friendship along with it. It's great to be a dictator of a country but it's pretty lonely up there looking down on all the little nobodies. So you see it is all the little nobodies and trivialities of everyday living that will bring us the most happiness.

Mind teaser

If three bells begin tolling together at the same instant, and they toll at intervals of 1, 1-1/2, and 1-1/12 seconds, respectively, in how many seconds will all 3 bells again toll at the same time?

ANSWER

117 seconds. Convert all three numbers into fractions with a common denominator of 12; find the least common multiple of the numerators; divide 1,404 by 12.

What's on the stove market now?

Are you in the market for a new stove? If so, the first thing you must decide is whether you want an electric or a gas unit. Then you must choose between the various brands and features that are available today.

Do you want a free-standing stove, a built-in unit, counter elements with a wall oven, or the type that has an oven above and below? These are the questions you must settle before making your purchase.

Take time to compare prices. The price of stoves can vary from store to store as well as from brand to brand.

Besides the initial cost, you might have to consider financing it. The least expensive method of paying for any appliance is to pay cash. If you can get a discount, so much the better. If, on the other hand, you plan to buy it on credit, check what it will cost to borrow the money (in dollars and cents as well as in per cent of interest), from such sources as banks, credit unions and finance companies and then compare these rates with those being charged by the store.

The majority of free-standing gas and electric models are 30 inches wide but they also come in 24-inch widths. Some smaller ones are also available in the 20½-inch and 22-inch widths.

Features such as oven light, oven window, oven timer, minuteminder and raised edges to prevent spills are generally considered standard equipment nowadays.

The elements, the procelain drip bowls and the chrome rings should be conveniently removable for easy cleaning.

Automatic oven timers are now commonplace. These allow you to place food in the oven, set it to start at a certain time and leave the house knowing things will be all right in the oven department.

The oven timer is almost universal and can be set to warn you when things are "done".

Warning lights when the elements are on and for oven pre-heating are a necessity.

An appliance outlet is most convenient — especially when it can be timed so that your coffee can be ready and waiting when you awaken.

Interior oven finishes can be of either procelain, enamel or stainless steel. Some brands have removable oven doors and wall panels for easier cleaning.

Removable liners of aluminum foil or Teflon-coated side panels can assist in oven cleaning. The disposable foil liners are quite expensive, but can prevent build-up on the oven walls. They have to be replaced from time to time. The Teflon panels offer easy removal of oven grease — they are removed and washed in the sink. Care must be taken not to scratch the surface coating.

Self-cleaning ovens promise to dominate the market in the next few years. At the moment, a self-cleaning oven costs from $40 to $130 more than the conventional style.

The current method of self-cleaning uses temperatures of up to 900 degrees for a two-hour cleaning cycle and requires only the occasional removal of a resulting fine ash. There is a safety lock to prevent opening the oven while it is dangerously hot. It costs from five to nine cents per cycle to clean but this is less than the usual oven-cleaning chemicals.

Many appliance guarantees will use simpler, more straightforward language in the future but in the meantime find out what the guarantee actually includes. Does it cover the entire product or only parts? For how long is it in force? Who pays the labor charges? Does the guarantee cover delivery and hooking up of the appliance? What charges are you responsible for? Keep your guarantee handy for easy reference.

It is advisable to purchase only stoves that have either the approved label of Canadian Standards Association or the Canadian Gas Association.

Most manufacturers of kitchen stoves have their own service outlets in cities across Canada. Check this out before calling in a repairman. Read the instruction book carefully to avoid unnecessary repair calls. (It has been known for a consumer to run up a $7.50 service charge just to replace a fuse!) Keep your appliance manual at hand — it can help you get more value for your money if you study it.

Before you invest in your new stove, it might be wise to get all the available information you can from various sources. Utility companies have home economists on staff to help you. Also get the facts from the retail stores who handle appliances. There is also a buying guide on stoves available on request and free in single copies only from Consumers' Association of Canada, 100 Gloucester St., Ottawa 4.

Pollution . the 'now' danger

Is there a solution to pollution? What is pollution and what causes this dreadful problem? How long can we expect to survive, if our broad-scale programs employed to combat pollution, fail? Can we depend on Science with its technology to save us?

Briefly, pollution is a by-product of industrial civilization. Today our physical environment is being polluted faster than ever before. Our water supply is constantly being poisoned by various concoctions of acids, gases, chemicals and industrial oils, etc. The pollution processes in many of our lakes and waterways have already passed the point of being reversed. Heated water discharged into lakes by electricity generating plants has upset the hatching process of fish while accidental oil spillage into the sea, kills thousands of birds and greatly affect the ecology of the area. If something is not done soon, we will find ourselves racing against time and find that we have lost the race.

Our air is also drastically polluted. Why? One of the greatest causes of air pollution is the automobile. Thousands of them daily spew tons of carbon monoxide and poisonous lead into our atmosphere.

It is believed that carbon monoxide is an hidden factor in unexplained road accidents because it dulls the mind and slows down reactions. Statisticians for the auto industry say that there will be almost twice as many cars by the year 2000. Twice as much carbon monoxide; twice as much lead and twice as much smog lying over our cities - can you imagine it? Let's not forget the waste forced into the atmosphere each day by industries. This is also expected to increase greatly within the next few years. Medical opinion is that cancer-causing chemicals are already present in our atmosphere. There is no doubt about it - our air is in grave danger unless some changes in the present trend occurs soon!

Obviously our air and water are not our only problems. How are we to cope with the problem of disposing of our solid waste - that is; plastics, tin cans and bottles etc., which present such undeploable sights near most of our cities; not to forget, of course, the thousands of old cars abandoned each year to the trash heap. These pose severe problems since they do not decay by natural processes but rather tend to remain as living proof that our planet is fast becoming a cesspool of human waste.

Has nothing been done to combat pollution? Yes, much, but we are still gradually losing ground. Millions of dollars has been and is being spent on anti-pollution programs but still the upsurge in pollution continues. Plans are presently underway by the auto industry to produce cars that will burn only lead free gasoline; but the answer to auto-caused air pollution is not a lower octane gasoline but rather a complete phase-out of the gasoline engine. At present our hope seems to lie with the electric car; but can we afford to allow this pollution to continue until this is a reality?

Greater restriction must be placed on industry. Although governments have already imposed fines on industries causing pollution, this in itself is not enough. Money will never clean our atmosphere or de-pollute our water. It's time we started to think while we still can. I think it is much better to live without some of our modern gadgets than to pollute our environment in providing the same.

It's much too late to continue treating the symptoms; it's time we look for a means of prevention if not, even our technology which created pollution in the beginning, will be unable to save us.

Editorially speaking

Why not read?

Looking at pictures, listening to the radio and watching television are so easy that it makes us sometimes wonder why we should bother with reading at all, either for entertainment or education.

This is a point which can bring up quite a bit of argument. There will be people who say that TV, radio and photos are going to take over some day and the printed word will become obsolete. There are others who will argue that it will be impossible for people to communicate with complete success without printed words.

Well, whatever the future holds, one thing is for sure: there is no one alive today who can really afford to do without reading and writing.

By far, the greater part of our knowledge is carried by the printed word and people learn most reading and writing. This is not to say that they are not at times, profoundly impressed with things they hear and see on radio and television. But when all is summed up, most of our real deep-rooted knowledge is taken from books and notes.

Middle-aged and older Newfoundlanders of today are unbelievably lazy when it comes to reading.

They read very few good books.

Perhaps the reason for this is that their schooling was scant and it had never been impressed upon them that books can bring them untold information and entertainment.

Young Newfoundlanders, on the other hand, have gone 'miles' ahead of their elders in learning. They read far more than their parents do and they are able to get far more information out of a wider variety of books.

Apart from the serious side of reading for knowledge, young people are able to keep themselves entertained with the printed word while their elders sit in front of television night after night and allow themselves to soak up whatever is tossed at them - trash or treasure.

There must be many good reasons why people should take up reading. It not only improves their minds and makes their conversation more interesting, but it helps close that generation gap. It would be a sad thing indeed if older people allowed themselves to be completely overtaken by their children so that there would be no intelligent communication between the young and their parents.

Education is spreading and it is demanding more and more of young people. They are absorbing greater quantities of knowledge and it is more complex knowledge than that which their parents learned.

There's no doubt about it. If we are all to remain intelligent beings with thoughts of our own and not those of TV show producers, we should occupy more of our leisure time reading stories, documentaries, poems, opinions and facts.

THE BIRDHOUSE

You can simplify the chore of cleaning out the birdhouse if you'll make the floor of the house removable, fastened by two screw hooks. Just saw two slots opposite each other in the floor cut from 1/8-inch tempered hardboard, which has less tendency to warp than wood. Drive one-inch brass screw hooks into the ends of the house so that the L-shaped ends of the hooks can be turned sidewise to lock the floor of the house into position. Since most of our feathered friends prefer nesting in clean houses, they'll appreciate your thoughtfulness - (Gene Von).

distinctive raised lettering...
rich-looking, elegant.

individual look of finest craftsmanship.

But it costs only about half as much as you'd expect.
