IOCC PROTEST BEING STUDIED

The finance department is awaiting more details before it accepts at full value a protest voiced by the Iron Ore Company of Canada's, president, W.J. Bennett, to the effect that the firm stands to lose two Japanese contracts as a result of proposed tax changes.

Mr. Herb Gray, Minister without Portfolio, gave this information during the courses of questioning in the House of Commons last week.

Mr. Gray speaking for Finance Minister Benson, said the department was informed of the possible lost shipments by the company six weeks ago and asked at the time for more substantial details on the matter.

The Minister was responding to Opposition Leader Stanfield, who asked whether the department had conducted any enquiry into the issue. Mr. Stanfield also wanted to know whether machinery exists to investigate other such fears resulting from the government's White Paper on tax changes. Sources have indicated that IOCC was in the final stages of negotiating a 15 year contract to ship beneficiated ore from Labrador City's Carol Project, to a group of six Japanese Steel Mills.

The deal would mean revenue of $570,000,000 over the fifteen year life of the contract and would involve considerable capital investment by the mining firm to expand its facilities here.

PRESBYTERIAN HEAD TO VISIT

Dr. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson will be arriving in Wabush on Saturday, April 25. He will be given a tour of Wabush Mines on Saturday evening and on Monday morning will address an assembly in the auditorium of J R Smallwood Coilegiate. On Sunday, April 26th, he will lead in a special service of dedication of the sanctuary and Ministers apartment of Christ Church. The service will begin at 2 pm and an open invitation is extended to all residents of the area to worship with the people of Christ Church and to meet Dr. Johnson and his wife over tea and light refreshments following the service.

Born in Montreal, Dr. Johnson graduated from McGill University with the Gold Medal in mathematics and physics. He took his theology at Princeton Theological Seminary, and went on to post-graduate studies at New College, Edinburgh and the University of Berlin.

His first charge was at Long Branch, Ontario. In 1935 he was appointed by the General Board of Missions to overseas service in Manchuria, where he served until 1941, when he was forced to withdraw by the Japanese aggression. For the ensuing five years he served the Church in Canada as Secretary for Missionary Education. From 1947 he was General Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement for Christian Missions, based at New York City.

In 1954 he was called to his present position in which he has oversight of the Presbyterian Church in Canada's overseas Mission involvement. He has been active in World Council of Churches committees, and as Overseas Secretary of the Board of Mission of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, Dr. Johnson has become widely known as a Christian world-statesman, especially for his efforts to bring relief and to effect a reconciliation in the recent tragic Nigeria-Biafra conflict.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson have three daughters and a son. Mrs. Johnson was born in Pennsylvania she is the daughter of a Methodist Minister, and a graduate in Nursery School Training from the Ohio Wesleyan University. She has travelled widely, accompanying her husband on many of his journeys overseas, in the Caribbean, South America, Africa, Japan and Formosa.

A dinner and dance is in the planning for all World War one and two Veterans in the area. The event is scheduled to take place on May 8th. This is the 25th anniversary of the ending of World War 2. It is to be sponsored jointly by Branches 47 and 57 of the Royal Canadian Legion and all members are urged to attend, whether they are members of Approximately 200 people attended the Wabush Boy Scouts annual buffet and dance held at the Legion last Friday evening. Under a rather unique arrangement, Branch 57 donates the use of its facilities each year to the Scouts and Guides. All profits realized during the evening are donated to the group concerned, this helped to defray part of the operating costs of the Scout and Guide movement in Wabush. This years contribution is earmarked to the "summer camp fund". Other community

KINSMEN CHANGE NAME

In a release last week, the executive of the Wabush Kinsmen Club announced that the club name has been officially changed to the Labrador West Kinsmen Club. A spokesman said, the purpose for the change is to eliminate the impression held by residents of Labrador City and Wabush that the Club was serving the community of Wabush only. Because of the name change, the Kinsmen are anticipating greater interest from the Young men of Labrador City.

Complains of TV

The Editor
The Aurora

From the letter Mrs. Joan Campbell of Labrador City wrote, we should all agree that Television in our Twin Towns of Wabush and Labrador City is ridiculous. Sure we have a few good films, like the name of the Game, Walt Disney and the Bold Ones, which was replaced last week by Le Paradis Terrestre, which was about an orchestra. I'm sure more than one TV was turned off when it came on. Maybe our grandparents would have been better now days.

We see too many of those silly Canadian films to satisfy us when we know we can have better. We are paying enough money each year in taxes, it's time we got something out of it. Going back to the subject again, just about every male here is interested in hockey, OK sure we hear the score today and see the game two or three weeks after, why?

It's stupid I think, when we can have a good movie on to enjoy, (American Films) not some junk from Vancouver or Toronto, give us something we all deserve. So let's all get together and express our feelings, we are only human and want to enjoy our stay on earth.

Thank you for your time and space.

Salesmen confused

The Editor
The Aurora

I would like to take this opportunity to clarify a possible misinterpretation in your column, "Editorially Speaking" of the 15th of April.

In reference to your paragraph "Two Salesmen", are gaining admittance to houses under the pretext of conducting an advertising survey, is completely untrue, as no salesmen under contract to Colliers either now or at any time in Labrador City or Wabush does, or at any time has the permission, to use the words, "advertising survey" in the context, or the word survey in any context.

I would like to state that the people representing Colliers in both towns are licences legitimately and carry identification from the company.

In closing I also mention that we have absolutely no connection with anybody who has appeared in court for selling without a licence.

Yours faithfully,
Alan W. Blackall
Colliers Encyclopedia.

Editorially Speaking, last week referred to twosalesmen as having been charged under the Hawkers and Peddlers Act; these were salesmen from Merit Encyclopedia not Colliers. The Salesmen presently in town representing Collier's, are licenced as required by law and are operating legitimately. We apologize for any embarrassment we may have caused.

Mind teasers

If  $\frac{1}{3}$  of the number is equal to  $\frac{1}{8}$  of another number, and if the sum of these two numbers is 187, what are these two numbers?

ANSWER

51 and 136. Letting X equal the smaller number and (187 minus x) the larger number, form equation:  $X/3$  equals (187 minus X) over 8. Solve for X, the smaller number.

Asphalt tiles, each 1 foot square, were to be installed on two square floors, one side of one of these floors being 12 feet longer than a side of the other floor. If a total of 2,120 tiles were used on both floors, what did each of the floors measure on a side?

ANSWER

26 and 38 feet. Letting X equal side of smaller floor and (X plus 12) a side of the larger floor, form equation: X squared plus (X plus 12) squared equals 2,120. Solve for X.

Here 'n' there

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. New evidence has been reported that exposure of pregnant women to abdominal X-rays increases the risk of producing mongoloid and certain other defective children. The older the irradiated mother, the greater the risk. Dr. Irene A. Uchida of Winnipeg, reporting on the largest study of its type ever made, said the evidence suggests an eight fold increased risk for producing mongoloid children as compared with non irradiated pregnant women in the general population. She said the study, which involved 972 offspring of irradiated mothers, revealed 10 children with various kinds of chromosomal abnormalities, including eight mongoloids. She said that in terms of the various kinds of abnormalities, the results represented a 10 fold increase in incidence over that noted among 972 "control" children born of non-irradiated mothers. And she said the "significantly higher risk" noted was "positively correlated with maternal age", that is, the older the mother the greater the risk. Half the mothers producing defective children were more than 36 years of age. She told her audience of genetics specialists, practicing physicians and dentists, that she was not saying "that X rays were the only cause" of such noted abnormalities, "but that X rays may increase the possibility" of producing them.

CHURCHILL FALLS The next time someone working at Churchill Falls starts telling the usual fish stories, he will have to put his fish where his mouth is! Bonavista Food Services is currently sponsoring a fishing contest. Everyone working on the Churchill project is eligible, and trophies will be awarded monthly, with a "champion" crowned at the end of the season. Judges will be appointed for each camp, and every fish entered in the contest must be measured. The Contest ends September 15th.

LONDON - The House of Commons yesterday agreed to consider the creation of a separate Scottish Parliament of 71 members dealing exclusively with Scottish legislation. Liberal party legislator David Steel, sponsoring a private member's bill for "better government of Scotland" envisaged Scottish voters sending one member to the British Parliament in London and one to the new Scottish Parliament. He said the minority Liberal party wanted a federal structure in Britain, and this was a way to avoid protracted constitutional wrangling at the outset. Although Steel successfully introduced his bill into the House for discussion, it will meet strong opposition at later stages and is most unlikely to become law.

BOMBAY - A wicker basket containing three coconuts, a bowl of milk, a bunch of fresh roses and a small bottle of honey was lowered into the Arabian Sea at Bombay's Gateway of India last week in a solemn ceremony to invoke the blessings of Chandra Bhagwan, the moon god, for the peril stricken Apollo XIII astronauts. The offerings came from Mr. and Mrs. S. Bhattacharjee, visitors to Bombay from West Bengal. A small crowd, which included two American Hippies, watched as Mrs. Bhattacharjee sang a Sanskrit hymn praising the moon god for his gentle beauty and compassion.

BURY ST. EDMUNDS (England) - Following complaints about noisy pop groups playing at Suffolk municipal hall here, engineers have fitted an automatic electronic cut-out device which switches off the power when the music gets too loud.

TORONTO - Herman Lorenz, 32, the first helicopter pilot in Toronto to be charged with impaired flying, was convicted yesterday and fined $200 or 20 days. Mr. Lorenz crashed a helicopter into a picnic table February 7th, 1969 while practising emergency landings.

RICHMOND, Va. - "Good God, not again". This was the reaction when a 29-year-old Richmond man was told by doctors that his wife Patty, delivered her third set of twins. "I am stunned", said Donald Gibson a department store employee whose family already includes twin 16 month old boys and a four year old boy and girl twin combination. The latest twins are healthy girls. The Gibson's pediatrician said three consecutive sets of twins is a medical rarity. Another Gibson comment: "No more babies".

MOSCOW - A mini-revolution may soon nudge the staid Soviet fashion scene in the 1970's. A mini-skirt rarity here, and Western fashion watchers do not expect skirt hemlines to soar inches above the knee. But there is a campaign to provide Russian teen-agers with their own fashion shops. This innovation was recommended by fashion designer Alla Levashova, who in the past has blamed official bureaucracy for the drabness of women's clothing in Russia and called for more creative freedom for designers, had some harsh things to say about the fashion scene in her country. She deplored titillating women's fashion fancies by modelling - on television and in magazines - items which were beyond the reach of ordinary shoppers. Such things as "high boots with laces, flowered trousers, sheepskin coats for winter, "just try and get them she said". Young people don't want to wear homemade clothes, so there should be a colorful selection available at a price to suit the teen-agers pocket. Young people want to be eye catching in their clothes, she said, and to be the first to wear something not seen before. "This is the easiest way to attract attention, and there is of course nothing immoral about that," she added. Despite Miss Levashova's confidence, there are bound to be many older Russian women who will disagree with her. Stories abound in Moscow of female Western residents, and foreign tourists who have gone out in modest miniskirts or slacks and received incensed lectures from outrages, matronly citizens, although the men tend to stare approvingly, as in any other world capital.

POLARIS ICE SHOW REVIEW — "Polaris Potpourri," staged by the Polaris Figure Skating Club in Labrador City, was presented on Saturday, April 11, at the Labrador City Arena. Both afternoon and evening audiences were entertained as stereophonic music, glittering trees, props, and gaily costumed skaters put their best foot forward. The show opened with a precision number composed of senior skaters clad in black leotards trimmed in gold sequins. Then, seventy-five junior and intermediate skaters presented the fairytale "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The fairytale unfolded as the dwarfs, huntsmen, soldiers, wood nymphs, forest animals and butterflies befriended Snow White against the stepmother and evil queen. Music dramatized each scene with pieces such as "The Teddy Bears' Picnic" and "Hi-Ho-Hi-Ho." The second part of the show featured "Dancing to the Carousel Waltz" where six couples, dressed in waltz-length sunshine yellow dresses and sparkling green tunics, danced a group number accompanying soloist Wendy Caverley, who skated in a glittering lilac outfit. Then came the "Mexican Tijuana Brass" with their multi-coloured ruffles, sombreros, and Tijuana rhythm backing. Ann Robertson, soloist, skated brightly in a white dress with red trim, while Brenda Lake and Debbie Attersley skated a pair clad in black and with frills. This was followed by the comedy duet "Is' the By'" with Helen Murphy and Wendy Caverley; after which Mr. Alan Davidson skated a solo to "Malaguena." To appeal to the Discoteque set, "The Joker is Wild" featured twenty girls in a swift-moving number in which Helen Murphy and Philomena Hurley skated a pair to "Boots." As a tribute to Osaka '70, and to complete the show, ten skaters presented "Sayonara Means Good-Bye." A Chinese gong decorated the ice, and the skaters wore glittering Chinese tops, long pants, and Coolie hats. During the number Ann Robertson and Gail Miller skated a pair in beautiful green and yellow geisha costumes, then, Darleen Turriff, in Chinese pink, skated to "Grand Avenue." Both shows ended with a grand finale. In the evening, Wendy Caverley, on behalf of the club members, graciously presented the club's retiring president, Mrs. Nancy Mann, a lovely brooch of Labradorite and sterling silver. Mr. Alan Davidson, the club's pro, was also presented Labradorite cufflinks by Darleen Turriff on the members' behalf. Bouquets of pink carnations were presented to the executive by Nancy Bain, Brenda Roberts, Jennifer Plue and Diane Mills. Flowers were also presented to ladies responsible for costume co-ordination and backstage preparations by little Penny Mann as a token of the club's appreciation. This year's ice show was indeed a success — a source of approximately two hours of colourful, glittery, smooth-moving entertainment to the residents of Labrador City and Wabush.

Ottawa - Canada: Council grants totalling $212,257 have been announced including $120,000 for the 1970 Charlottetown summer festival and $35,000 for the 1970 Shaw festival at Niagara-in-the-Lake, Ont.

CANNED BEER FOR NEWFOUNDLAND? Premier J.R. Smallwood says, canned beer for Newfoundland consumers is a distinct possibility. British Columbia brewer, Ben Ginter, says the Premier is in the final stages of negotiations for the purchase of Atlantic Brewing Company Limited, facilities at Stephenville. If negotiations are successful canned beer would not be made exclusive to Tartan Breweries Ltd., the firm which Mr. Ginter heads. The company's main office is in Vancouver.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. HIGH FINANCE: - Investments in penny stocks and individual initiative have led a grade 8 class here into the world of finance at an early age. The class at King Edward school took their profits from chocolate bar sales and invested them to earn more money for a class trip to Ottawa in May.

Here and There

Ninety-three dollars were put in D'Eldona gold mine penny stock. The stock has fallen, but the class is not selling until May. The remainder of the money was distributed $1 per student, for them to invest and multiply. One girl bought baking supplies and made cookies which she sold in packages of six for 20 cents. With these profits she purchased more supplies and made more cookies, ending up with a profit of $18. Another girl made $12.76 by raffling a cake she made, and one boy netted $7.95 from a school yard candy store. One budding executive set up a company, sold shares, opened a broker's office and held several shareholders' meetings. However his company ran into difficulties through buying the wrong type of leather for manufacturing and found the workers wanted too high a wage. However, a profit of $23.38 was realized in the end. The company folded, as did all the others, after one month, with total profits for the class of $100. During the project, the class was visited by a local bank manager, credit union loan manager and a minister who spoke on the evils of greed.

"See-through, but not too". Peter Kirkland Ltd. says it has a $78,000 order from the Soviet Union for 30,000 see-through negligees and 10,000 slips. A spokesman said the Russians insisted that the garments be transparent, a few inches longer than usual and "specifically asked for more lace and more frills".

Minor Hockey

There will be a general meeting of the Minor Hockey Association at the Ashuanipi Social Club on Thursday, April 23rd at 8 pm. All interested people in the area are encouraged to attend. The main topic of business will be the presentation of a new constitution. It is hoped to have this new constitution accepted, for the annual meeting to be held in May.

Mining Briefs

MINING STORY: When the Mining Association of Canada commissioned a national opinion poll about a year ago, it wanted some measure of the Canadian public's knowledge of the resource industry. It found that four out of five Canadians know little or nothing about the mining industry's position in the domestic economy. "The poll confirmed what we feared," says J.L. Bonus, the association's managing director. Last fall the industry embarked on an extensive print ad campaign, that was aimed at wider recognition of the industry's role in the economy. Advertising was prepared and placed by Public and Industrial Relations Ltd. of Toronto. To supplement a series of print ads, the association is presently planning a radio campaign that will also spell out the industry's sale. This year the association will be spending close to $200,000.00 on advertising and feels the amount will be well spent. "For one thing," says the association's manager, "people in Ottawa are aware that the industry is not going to sit back and take anything that government throws at it."

BIG IRON ORE FIND BY U.S. STEEL: U.S. Steel Corp., which has been quietly exploring for minerals in west-central Nevada for years, has discovered a major iron ore deposit that also contains copper, near the town of Yerington, state and local-government officials confirmed. "I don't think there is any question that they have a large deposit of iron ore along with other minerals," M. Gallagher, Nevada's state inspector of mines, said recently. He called the find "a real large deposit of iron ore" and said the discovery is "Known to have some copper too." The exact size and quality of the discovery isn't known. Another well-informed Nevada mining source, said the U.S. Steel find was the largest natural-ore discovery in the U.S. in many years. He said it amounts to "over a billion tons," which would be enough to supply the entire U.S. Steel industry for eight to ten years, at last year's consumption rate. Furthermore, the source asserted the U.S. Steel ore is of very high quality. He said it has been found in three separate bodies, the top of which is some 1,000 feet below surface, and one of which is suitable for open-pit mining. The significance of the find remains to be seen. Conceivably, a large body of good-grade ore in Nevada could help tip the economic scales toward location of large basic steelmaking facilities along the West Coast, where such facilities are relatively few. Also, the find, if substantial, might lessen the U.S. dependence on imported iron ore, which has been growing in recent years. However, such long-range implications of the reported discovery are speculation at this point.

The Nevada mines inspector couldn't estimate the extent of U.S. Steel's land holdings in the discovery area. However, it was also learned that the Federal Bureau of Land Management in Carson City, Nevada, recently issued a little-noticed press release saying it had granted U.S. Steel a "patent" on 600 acres of public land in Nevada. Such a patent gives the holder ownership, rather than mere lease privileges, to mineral rights on the land. It's understood that such patents aren't normally given unless the applicant can demonstrate that it is economically feasible to commercially develop the mineral deposits.

B.C. FIRM SELLS MORE COPPER TO JAPAN: A contract covering the sale of additional copper concentrates from its Island Copper Mine has been concluded by Utah Construction and Mining, according to E.W. Littlefield, president and general manager. The contract, entered into with Mitsubishi Shoji Kaisha Ltd. and the Dowa Mining Co., provides for smelting at Onahama, Japan, over a 5-year period starting in 1971, of approximately 70,000 tons of copper concentrates annually. This represents about 30% of the annual production anticipated from the Island Copper mine and mill. The copper will be purchased by Mitsubishi and Dowa at prices based on the London Metal Exchange quotations.

Solve-a-crime

By A.C. GORDON

An excited young man, Ralph Keller, is ushered into your office, and as he seats himself you note his neat, plaid sportcoat, yellow shirt, blue tie, and the sharply creased gray flannel trousers.

"My uncle, Walter Harrison . . . his house has been burglarized," the young man begins. "There was cash and there were some negotiable bonds in his library safe . . . all of it gone! Uncle Walt has been away for about two weeks, and I've been living in his home. He told me to keep an eye on things until he returned, and now . . ." Ralph Keller runs his fingers through his hair and shakes his head sadly.

"You see," he continues, "I was upstairs in the bathroom lathering my face up for a shave, when I heard a suspicious noise downstairs. I ran down the stairs just in time to see a man run out of the library and out the front door. I yelled and ran after him and, as I passed the library door I saw the safe on the opposite wall was open. By the time I got outside he had jumped into a station wagon and was pulling away. I ran around to the side of the house, jumped into my car which was parked on the driveway, backed out, and tried to overtake him . . . but I lost him in the traffic."

"How about his license number, and the kind of station wagon he was driving?" you ask.

"Sorry . . . I was just too excited even to think of those things. After I finally gave up the chase, I drove straight here to your office. I can tell you, though, that the man was big . . . over six feet . . . weighed well over 200 pounds, dark brown hair . . . and he was wearing a brown suede jacket. That's all I can remember about him."

"Don't you usually keep the library safe locked?" you ask.

"Yes, and that's another bit of carelessness on my part. I guess I forgot to lock it." Again the young man shakes his head in dismay. "Uncle Walt sure is going to have plenty to say about this when he gets back!"

"You'd better think up a better story for Uncle Walt than the one you've told me!" you say.

Why do you suspect Ralph Keller of framing the burglary?

SOLUTION

According to the young man's story, he had been in the process of lathering his face preparatory to shaving when he heard the noise, and had immediately run downstairs and outside in pursuit of the "intruder," and then had driven straight to your office. If he had really been shaving, he would hardly have been dressed as you saw him, wearing shirt, tie, and coat. Also, he stated positively that all the cash and bonds were gone from the safe, even though according to his story he had only glanced into the room and seen the open safe as he ran past the door.

Honda has the answer to how to get around the boondocks in the summer—the new 50cc Mini-Trail. The Honda Mini-Trail stands around 27 inches high, weighs in at just over 100 lbs. soaking wet, has a 3-speed box and wide stance nobby tires for off-road trailing, and is built like a brick barn. What's more, it folds up to fit in the trunk of any normal size car — so you can take it with you on vacation, to the lake, or going hunting. Even your kids can ride it off the road — if they can persuade you to give them a turn.

"B" LEAGUE FINALS

At press time the best of seven finals between the Indians and Wabush is tied at a game apiece. The Indians won the opener 5 to 2 while Wabush scored a late goal on Tuesday night for a close 4 to 3 victory.

In the opener, the Indians took advantage of the long layoff that Wabush had and led all the way. They opened a 2 to 0 first period lead, maintained it at 3 to 1 after the second, and outscored Wabush 2 to 1 in the third. Jerry Doyle, Ed Hong, Mitchelmore, Jean LeTourneau and Eric Blondell, all scored singles for the Indians, while Dave Fitzgerald and Dave Kelly replied for Wabush.

There were 17 penalties in the game including two fighting penalties, to Cyril Butler of the Indians and Max Ollerhead of Wabush. Jerry Doyle received a match penalty on the same play and received a one game suspension.

On Tuesday night the league's top scorer, Johnny Mercer scored with only 25 seconds left to give Wabush their 4 to 3 victory. Vince White, Tony Barton and Paddy Dawe scored the other Wabush goals while Leo Gear, Cyril Butler and Ed Hong scored for the Indians. Sixteen minor penalties were called in the game with eight going to each team.

Meanwhile interest in the series is picking up as on Tuesday night there were over 400 fans in the Arena. People who have not seen a game yet should certainly make an attempt to get out to the Arena as for 25 cents you are getting in on one of the few bargains that are to be had in the North.

MINOR HOCKEY PLAYOFFS

The Carol Cleaners defeated the Saints 7 to 6 in overtime last Sunday to win the deciding game in the Midget and Juvenile semi-finals. The victory sent them into a best of 5 series against the Huskies and currently the Cleaners won the first two games 2 to 0 and 3 to 1.

By

Jack Drover

In the Bantam semi-finals the Wabush team pulled quite an upset as they defeated the second place Braves in 2 straight games, one game tied.

They won the opener 3 to 2, tied the second 4 to 4 and won again on Thursday 5 to 2. Wabush and the Royals opened a best of 5 finals series on Saturday. The Pee Wee semi-finals are also going the limit as the Canadians and Wings battle. The Canadians won the opening game 2 to 0 while the Wings fought back on Tuesday for a 3 to 1 victory. The deciding game was played Saturday and the winner advanced to the finals against the Kings.

Meanwhile the Maple Leafs put on a late season drive to finish on top in the Mosquito division. The Flyers and North Stars, Seals and Hawks, and the Blues and Penguins played a two game total goal series over the weekend.

MENS BASKETBALL

The Braves and Teachers both picked up victories in the two games played last week. Both games were rather low in scoring as the Braves defeated Wabush 45 to 20 and the Teachers defeated the Saints 41 to 29.

In the Braves victory, they led 20 to 10 at half time and outscored Wabush 25 to 20 in the second half. Bob Vlug led the Braves to victory with 20 points while Mike Murphy chipped in with 13. Gerry Barron had eleven of Wabush's 20 points.

Mike Gallivan sank 14 points to pace the Teachers to their victory. Deit Foerstel with 9 and Art Squarey with 8 were next in line for the Teachers, while Bill Dwyer once again led the Saints with 12 points.

TIN CAN CURLING

The annual tin can curling bonspiel will be held at the arena on May 1st, 2nd and 3rd. Due to the large number of students that have entered in the past, the Curling club has found it necessary to move to the Arena and take advantage of the spacious facilities.

Students from grades 4 to 8 are eligible to enter and if it is anything like last year, then the ice at the Arena will not see too many free minutes.

Editorial viewpoint

LABRADOR IN DRAMA FESTIVAL: - We talk a great deal about the new Newfoundland of which, of course, Labrador is a part. But it is also true that far away in the wilds of the northern hinterland there is a very new Labrador in the shape of two communities which have yet to celebrate their tenth birthday but are already establishing very high standards in the cultural field. Witness to this is the invitation to the Carol Players of Labrador City to bring their production of Spoon River Anthology to compete in the national finals of the Dominion Drama Festival. It was a year ago that the Carol Players entered the provincial festival for the first time. They showed then that they had a lot of talent to draw upon. Now, with a very difficult entry because the dramatization of Edgar Lee Masters famous poem makes extraordinary demands on the players as individuals and a team, they have won the provincial contest and the right to represent the whole Atlantic region. They will take with them to Winnipeg the hearty congratulations and very best wishes of all the people of Newfoundland and it is to be hoped that later they may be able to bring their play to St. John's. Meanwhile we shall all be in there, rooting for them. - (Reprinted from the St. John's Daily News).

Renovating the older garden...

By A.R. Buckley
of The Plant Research Institute, Ottawa

Landscaping the grounds may seem very difficult to a novice gardener, but it is merely child's play when compared to re-landscaping a newly acquired established property which already has an old overgrown garden. Yet this problem has to be faced by many inexperienced gardeners every year.

Such a garden has most likely been planned around the facilities and living habits of another era and most new owners are at a loss to know how to revise and recondition it for present day use and enjoyment.

The best and most practical plan is to leave the garden as it is and try to adjust plantings here and there as a compromise. In doing this, make a rough chart every two weeks of the plants in bloom and decide which ones you want to keep. Wait until mid-September and then take everything out that is movable. Set aside the plants you want and throw out those you don't need to fit in with your plans. In the meantime order some plants you would like to include.

This plan of action for renewing the older garden gives an immediate sense of 'clearing'. Then follows the creative planning that is one of the many thrills of gardening.

When you are making general observations on the performance of individual plants during the summer, also note the way in which the old garden fails to meet the living needs of your family. This information may then be used as a basis for the new design.

In general, the trend in family gardening today is to keep the flowers in close to the house where they may be enjoyed from the patio.

A distinctive planting may be made to emphasize or disguise a particular feature of the garden landscape, either to enhance its appearance or to screen it from view.

An airy, spacious effect is often achieved by uprooting a tired, worn-out hedge and opening up an overgrown nondescript border. The new plantings should relate to the house, providing perspective, scale, form and a succession of seasonal interests.

Tradition and association play an important part in planning a garden for family living. Fragrances, for example, are especially persistent in the memory. Long hardy favorites of an old home garden, such as lilacs, shrubby roses, herbs, peonies, clematis and spireas are still good plants to select.

At the other extreme is the inspiring assortment of plant types or new cultivars that have become popular in home gardening because of their suitability to contemporary garden design. Such plants are usually selected for container planting. These include such succulents as cacti, aloes, crassulas and other sun-loving types, geraniums and sun-tolerant house plants. All will offer a great variety of forms, color textures that harmonize with structural and paving materials.

An overgrown garden may be brought back to an orderly state by heavy pruning in the early spring before growth begins. This applies particularly to deciduous materials. Most hedges may be cut to within a foot of the ground. Shrubs or small trees may be topped back and the lateral branches shortened or thinned.

Shrubs that develop in a clump formation may be cut to the ground if the canes are weak and leggy. Sometimes a better plan is to cut out some of the older or heaviest canes, giving the young vigorous ones more light and space in which to develop.

Evergreens that have become shapeless and straggly, with lower branches weak and thin, might just as well be removed as there is small chance of their recovery. This is especially true of cedars and junipers. An exception is the yew (Tasux) that will put out new growth from mature wood, if pruned back. This should be done in early spring.

Shrubs that have been drastically pruned or cut back will require a two to four year period to grow back into shape, but often a showy vigorous shrub is created because of the well established root systems. Recovery can be hastened by applying a complete commercial fertilizer at the time of the initial cutting back and in the spring of the following year.

The same general plan may be used for renewing shrub roses as for shrubs. For these and climbers, cut out old heavy canes, letting vigorous ones develop. This may be done immediately after blooming or in early spring.

Most perennials can be improved by being lifted and divided. Those that bloom in spring or early summer usually establish readily if divided in the fall, while those that bloom in fall may be divided in spring. If areas that are planted to ground covers are to be revised, the plants may be lifted, divided and reset in spring. Dig the soil well, add humus and a complete fertilizer before replanting.

Pros and cons of the credit card craze

BY CONSUMERS' ASSOCIATION OF OTTAWA

"Credit cards have been the debt of me, I charged when I should have retreated."

Are those innocent-appearing little cards which promoters claim will "uncomplicate" our lives a blessing or a curse? Are they an aid to keeping track of our finances, or an open invitation to disaster?

From a rather slow start less than 10 years ago, these plastic cards are today bulging wallets across the entire continent. Consumers' Association of Canada became concerned when hundreds of letters flooded in to protest the receipt of unsolicited credit cards through the mail. Their efforts to control this by legal means or through post office regulations were unsuccessful.

So now the Association advises you to destroy or deface, at once, any card you do not wish to use. A useful follow-up is a letter to the issuer, stating your objections to this means of advertising and enclosing the mutilated card.

But if you feel you need such cards, to help you live with them and stay solvent Consumers' Association of Canada suggests that following precautions:

Guard your credit card well; never leave them in a glove compartment or other spots from which they may be easily stolen.

Check frequently to make sure they have not been lost if you make limited use of your credit cards and if you find they've disappeared, be sure to notify the issuer at once — by registered mail. Most companies will not charge for purchases made on an unsolicited card if you have never used it, but once you have used or signed the card, you are completely responsible for all purchases made with it, unless the issuing company is notified. Keep a record of your card numbers and the address to notify.

If you make many purchases at a store which promotes the use of credit cards you may wish to obtain and use one. You are paying for credit on each purchase and by using a card will gain a month's interest on the money you have on deposit in the bank. Use it for large purchases.

You gain not only a month's use of your money, but the opportunity to inspect the purchase and have any defects remedied before you are required to make payment. The wise use of a credit card will also help you establish a good credit rating.

Never impulse-buy just because it is so easy to charge a purchase. Remember the bill will always arrive with the first of the month. Don't let your credit cards become the "debt" of you!

To prevent unpleasant surprises at the end of the month, try keeping a list of the amounts charged. This way you can be more certain that you have not charged more than you can pay when the bills come in. Check your bills when they are received to make sure they are accurate listings of your purchases. Even computers make mistakes!

If you have questions regarding your account, or if charges are recorded after a card has been stolen, get in touch with the issuing company immediately to state your case and have an investigation made. One of the greatest dangers of credit cards is that the holder must assume legal responsibility for all debts incurred in their use, whether or not authorized. To avoid mistakes in billing, notify all companies of your change of address immediately when you move.

Whether credit cards are good or bad depends on the uses to which you — the consumer — put them. Consumers' Association of Canada suggests that you remember that careless use of credit cards can lead to serious personal debt. It may be a factor in continuing inflation and can be a severe shock at the end of the month. But, carefully employed to make the best use of your money, then can be a useful family financial tool.

So it's up to you — don't let credit cards become the "debt" of you!

"Investment Terms and Definitions": Q. What is borrowed or loan capital? A. It is money borrowed by a government body or a corporation to enable it to finance its operations when its own resources are inadequate. Such loans can either be temporary or of longer duration. Bank loans are paid off in a relatively short period of time whereas bonds and similar borrowing instruments can be outstanding for a long time, usually from one to 30 years.

Q. What is interest. Interest is the income return to a lender on a loan. It is the fee which is asked for the use of borrowed money until it has been returned to its owner. Interest is comparable to rent which one pays for land, house, apartment or office.

What is share capital? Share capital and capital stock are the same thing. They represent the value expressed in monetary terms which the owners of a company have invested in the business. Because many businesses today are too large to be financed by a few, the resources of many individuals are required. Consequently, the ownership of the company is divided into small, convenient portions called shares, which are owned by individual investors and investing institutions. The purchase of these shares results in ownership of, and investment in, the business.

The Bible today

"The old is gone, the new has come" (2 Corinthians 5:17). The New Testament from which this sentence is taken - the Today's English Version published by the Bible Society - has been instrumental in bringing about just such a change for two young men once confined to a correctional institution in Waikari, New Zealand.

Three years ago one of the youths came to the institution's chaplain bearing a battered copy of the TEV New Testament. Holding the book up, he said: "I'm going on the straight and narrow road from now on - not because of the punishment I've received and deserved but because I've discovered in this book that God loves me and has a purpose for my life." Once out of confinement he became a lay reader in the Anglican Church.

More recently another youth in the same institution, also brandishing a TEV, remarked to the chaplain: "I think I'm going mad! After reading this book, I'm sure God wants ME to be a person. What shall I do?"

The institution receives the New Testaments from the Bible Society in New Zealand.

Dear Mr. Crosbie:-

Mr. J.W. Mahoney,
President,
Liberal Party of Newfoundland and Labrador,
P.O. Box 5034,
St. John's, Newfoundland
Dear Mr. Mahoney:

I acknowledge receipt of your letter dated April 18th, 1970 enclosing a copy of a Resolution which you say was unanimously passed at a Meeting of the Executive Board of the Liberal Association of Newfoundland and Labrador held on April 18th, 1970.

The Resolution you enclosed is not in accordance with the facts insofar as they relate to myself since I have not ceased to be a member of the Liberal Party of Newfoundland and Labrador. As you know I have submitted no letter of resignation from the Liberal Party of Newfoundland and Labrador.

Under the Constitution of the Liberal Party in Newfoundland and Labrador adopted at the Convention held on October 31st and November 1st, 1969 in St. John's the powers of the Executive Board are contained in Article 111. Under paragraph 8 (e) of Article 111 the Executive Board is stated to have the following power:

"It shall have the power, after written notice to the person affected, and after providing him with an opportunity for a hearing with the right of Counsel by a two-thirds vote of the members thereof present at a meeting, to suspend any officer or expel any member, subject to an appeal, in each case, to the Annual Meeting from such a decision."

It is quite clear that the Executive Board has not complied with the Constitution of the Party. At no time did you give me written notice or provide me with an opportunity for a hearing with the right of Counsel before making your decision.

In any event your letter to me and the Resolution does not expel me from the Liberal Party of Newfoundland and Labrador but simply pretends that I, and the others named, have ceased to be members of the Liberal Association.

I now write merely to inform you that your letter and the Resolution passed at the Meeting of the Executive Board is of no validity whatsoever since the Executive Board had no power to pass such a Resolution and has not complied with the Constitution of the Party. Unless you receive a written resignation from me I will continue to be a member of the Liberal Party of Newfoundland and Labrador in
