BY C.S.D.

Today we will have our first look at Labrador First Investment Fund for the current year. As of December 31, 1970, we had assets of $14,300.00, made up of stocks valued at $13,116.00 and cash on hand (including dividends of $254.00) of $1,184.00

We made two trades during the month of January, selling 33 shares of Northgate Explorations at $9.00 and purchased 200 shares of Robt. Costain, Ltd., at $5.50. With reduced prices in lead and copper, Northgate has dropped from over $17.00 last winter to its present price of about $8.75. In the meantime, Costain was one of the few Canadian builders and land developers to maintain a good profit in 1970. The stock rising from $4.50 in November to nearly $7.00 today.

Considered selling another 100 Ranger Oil, to buy more speculative juniors such as B.P. Oil & Gas and World Wide, when Ranger started to move up again, so we wisely decided to hold, as the stock advanced almost $3.00 a share during January. Unless there are some very special developments within the next few weeks we feel that at $16.00 this company is fully priced, and a further sale would be advisable. As you can see below, that with our most recent purchase we are just about fully committed and this position will be maintained at least through the first quarter.

Here is our position as of 31 January 1971:

COMPANY	NUMBER OF SHARES		31 JANUARY 1971

INVESTMENT TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

Q: What is the meaning of par value and no par value?

A: The par value of a stock is its stated face value expressed in terms of dollars per share. Thus a stock may have a par value ranging from 1c per share to $1,000.00 per share. The most common par value for mining stocks is $1.00 per share while par

On the local scene

Congratulations to the members of the Carol Curling team who captured the Ladies Provincial Championship last week. However it seems several incidents marred their victory.

Comments by the capital's top sport's announcer to the effect that: "After 20 years of trying we finally got a senior national Curling final for the Province and Newfoundland is not represented."

The local Ladies, as host team in St. John's later this month are required to present a Provincial souvenir to the visiting teams. The item selected by the Nfld. governing committee was an attractive triangular clip-on with a map of the island of Newfoundland. It seems they didn't know Labrador existed.

Small incidents, agreed; but when we hear so much talk especially from our Premier that "Newfoundland and Labrador are one, indivisible" it seems to prove our thinking over the years that we are only "one" when the present administration plans another rape of Labrador's resources or raise taxes to further erode our earning power.

One of the very few times we have agreed with Federal Finance Minister Edgar Benson was with his statement, following the decision by Wabush Mines not to proceed with expansion, that it was not taxes or "poor economic conditions" which caused the postponement of the project. It has been common knowledge in mining circles, for the past several years that relations between the Canadian, U.S. shareholders and project managers are not good. The statement by Mr. H. M. Griffith,

C.W.L.: The Catholic Women's League of Wabush will be holding their Annual Card Game and Pancake Supper on Tuesday 23 Feb. at 8:00 p.m. Place: R.C. Church Basement, Wabush. Everyone welcome.

President of Steel Company of Canada that "Canadian participants will continue to explore every possibility of making the expansion project viable" only brings the disagreements further to the fore.

We were told last year, in Sept Iles, by what we considered a good source, that there would be no expansion at Wabush Mines under the present owner-management set-up.

Aurora learns that in spite of an international advertising campaign the Town of Labrador City has been unable to secure the services of an additional medical doctor for the area. We understand efforts will continue with a concentrated advertising program in the British Isles.

According to a release in the Nfld. Government "Bull" the Dept. of Public Works has decided to expropriate certain lands within the municipality of Labrador City to provide a right of way for the new Quebec Cartier Mining access road to Mount Wright. Expropriated will be land 150 ft. wide near Beverley Creek. Persons or parties seeking compensation must do so before the 27th of Feb. 1971.

Mr. John Kelley, coach of the Grenfell Huskies Hockey Team, was recently appointed head bartender at the Churchill Fall's Inn, Churchill Falls, Labrador, Nfld. We also understand the Sir Wilfred Grenfell Hotel has selected one of their employees as the M.C.N. candidate for Carnival Queen 1971.

Plans have swung into high gear as the time (12 Mar.) draws near for the opening of the Labrador West Winter Carnival 1971. Dates for the Crowning of the Queens, Carnival Parade, Sports, Majorette Review, Closing Dance, etc., have been decided.

At a meeting held last week, attended by nearly all Clubs and Organizations in the area, it was agreed that this year's theme would be more informal than in the past. It is hoped a decision will be reached within the next few days, whereby purchase of Toques, Buttons or Sashes will enable the wearer to attend any local Club or function during Carnival.

At present (4) business establishments have signified their intention of sponsoring a Princess in the Carnival.

Chairman Lem Rowe and Parade Marshal Gordie McIntyre request all companies or organizations who intend to enter a float in the Parade to apply as soon as possible

Editorially Speaking

For about a year now it has been almost impossible to scan through a large daily newspaper without finding some reference to "Women's Liberation" (or "Lib." if you prefer), or "Woman-power", or "Emancipation Unlimited", etc., etc. However we haven't heard much about it locally (probably I don't attend the right parties).

Over the past week I read condensations of two books on the subject which were directly opposite and I pass on excerpts for your comments, with the hope this may liven up the "letters to the editor" column. The first; "The Female Eunuch" (according to the Oxford Dictionary a "eunuch" is a castrated person) by Miss Germaine Greer. Miss Greer is an Australian lecturer in English at the University of Warwick, England, with a PhD from Cambridge, well read and well put together. Some samples from her 354 page book: "The housewives' life is not real: it is anachronistic and thwarting. Women have been exposed to too many other kinds of life to revert to four walls and people two feet high without strain."

"If women are to effect a significant betterment in their condition, it seems obvious that they must refuse to marry. No worker can be required to sign on for life."

"The oppression of women is necessary to the maintenance of the economy. So if the present economic structure can change only by collapsing, then it better collapse as soon as possible."

"A girl who studies medicine will qualify if she works hard enough — but it is still true that women patients prefer male doctors, and so do men."

In sum, says Miss Greer, being a woman in the 20th century is a dead end. "So what should be done?" The following are her recommendations: "They must give up buying all those over-advertised cosmetics, false eyelashes, deodorant spray, manipulated fashions, and other articles that treat women as sex objects." Then, say Miss Greer, let them explore their own sexuality. "Let them choose their own lovers, as men do. Let them avoid marriage. Let them not accept the status quo."

The second book: "How To Be Sensual (And Drive Him Wild!)", by Mrs. Wendy Bradley. Mrs. Bradley is a psychology graduate doing casework in a Toronto geriatric clinic, she is small, gamine, and not voluptuous. The greater part of the book tells women how to set up "sensual occasions" for their men and gets down to such nitty-gritties as how to get pasties off without hurting.

"If you take pains to make your woman feel cared for . . . there is absolutely no excuse for her not performing for you. She should be able and willing to serve you on her knees or jiggle topless for you, do a strip for you, or writhe on the floor in the most lascivious harem dance."

"There's no getting away from it," she says. Men regard wives as possessions. If a man treats a wife as a valuable thing, like his car or his boat, she'll get the best treatment. If he treats her like a human being, she'll get a very rough go because men don't treat human being well.

Wendy Bradley believes a man should also set up sensual occasions for his woman. A woman's concept of sensuality may embrace "candlelight, walking along a beach, sitting by a fire." Setting up a sensual occasion for a man she says, is less simple. The woman must discover and then complement his fantasy role, a project which put her in slave bracelets or Victorian servant-girl ruffles. For instance her husband may come home and do the housework, then be served a drink by Wendy on her knees.

Instead of saying, as Women's Lib does, that men are the enemy, we should recognize both men and women are in a difficult position and should help each other out."

"A return to sensuality," she believes, is necessary and overdue. "In those rare periods when social constructions were realistic parallels of individual motivation, great civilizations flourished: Classical and Hellenistic Greece, the Indus civilization, the Italian Renaissance." These, she points out, were highly sensul culture. Well do you favor Miss Greer or Mrs. Bradley?

Tom is running 135 feet ahead of Jerry, but Jerry can run 11 feet while Tom is running 9 feet. How many feet must Jerry run before overtaking Tom?

ANSWER

742-1/2 feet. Jerry gains 2 feet while running 11 feet; divide 135 by 2/11.

SONG & STEEL: Betty Now Phil, 18, has been fired for a joke that misfired. "I made the remark as a joke," he explained later. "I couldn't believe my eyes when the girls rushed up."

DENY BIRTHDAY PLOT: Rev. Phillip Berrigan 47, three other priests and a former priest indicted by a grand jury in Harrisburgh, Pa., last month, denied a few days ago that they were part of a Washington's birthday bomb conspiracy or plotted to kidnap a presidential adviser. They said the charges by the Government were an attempt to discredit the opposition to the Vietnam war. Berrigan is serving a six-year sentence in Connecticut for destroying draft records.

THE WHIZ SKID: Canadian bicycle on skis towed by snowmobile. A Canadian company has added a new dimension to winter recreation — it's the Whiz Skid. The vehicle is basically a bicycle on skis. You can ride it free-running on snowy slopes or catch a tow behind a snowmobile. The basic design is a girl's bicycle frame. In place of wheels the company has used two short aluminum skis with the front ski secured to a shock absorbent mount.

NEW DETERGENT: A new laundry detergent that is completely free of phosphates, enzymes and other phosphate substitutes such as the chemical nitrilotriacetic acid is now being marketed in Canada. The manufacturer says that as the hardness of the water increases, the cleaning activity of the detergent increases proportionately. Cleaning activity also increases as the water temperature rises.

F I R E D F O R B A C K F I R E: Girls rushed on to a dance hall stage in Reading, England, last month, peeling off their clothes, after disc jockey Phil Miller promised to give $12.50 for the first to strip.

MINI TV CAMERA: Busy mothers who want to keep an eye on their children can get some help from a new, small television camera. The camera can be hooked up easily to a home television set to monitor the children in the backyard, sick room or playroom while mother continues with the household chores. The camera weighs 5½ pounds and operates from a standard electrical outlet.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR NOT THIS MAN

The Editor,
The Aurora,
Labrador City, Nfld.

Dear Sir:

Your paper The Aurora ran an item that I wish to remark upon.

Christian friends and interested persons, many of you have read an item in the Aurora paper concerning the Christian and Christmas.

It has been assumed by some that I BERT JOHNSON, a worker for the Lord, penned this letter as it was printed with a non de plume. I wish to say a few words about this letter, I do not know of its contents, but as I have read the two letters in reply I can very well reason out what the letter said, and I do not agree with the manner in which it must have been expressed, judging by the remarks of the replies.

I wish to make it known that any material at all that comes from my typewriter into the public newspaper, no matter what it contains, as always in the past, was accompanied by my name and post office box number. I print or say nothing that I cannot be responsible for, as I am not ashamed of the work of the Lord, nor to preach the word of God, His purpose in coming to man in the first place. A time that most people the world over wish to celebrate, a remembrance of the first coming of our Saviour the Lord Jesus Christ. It is commendable that Christ like people, wish to keep alive an advent which will have such a great bearing upon them at the time of His second appearing, the time when He comes to gather His own.

I say it this way, I do not force my beliefs upon others, my mission is to show people who do not read the Bible, that there is a real reason for doing so.

Yours very truly
A. F. (Bert) Johnson

employees. Earlier Canadian Pacific Air said it planned to hire 115 additional stewardesses and 65 more stewards. If sought for CP Air routes to Peking and Shanghai are approved, the line may hire even more. The stewards and stewardesses CP Air said it will hire this year will ease the need brought on by increased trans-Atlantic and Trans-Canada flights, plus a new four-a-week flights to Israel. The Air Canada layoffs include 375 employees in Canada, plus staff in U.S. and the Caribbean. Most of the Canadian employees were in passenger-handling and airport-ramp-area duties. The Chairman of Air Canada, Y. Pratte, said the expected growth of business and vacation travel had not materialized. The company has been forced, he said, into a strict austerity program "to reduce spending and limit operating expenditures without significant impact on passenger services."

SCANTY CLOTHES FOR SAFETY: Britain's Road Safety Council has put scantily clad girls on its calendars in hopes of keeping motorists' minds on safety. A spokesman for the council said people used to cut out pictures of vintage cars on the old calendars, ignoring the safety message. Now they keep the calendars, with their safety message, intact.

FAST-SETTING CEMENT: A new fast-setting cement which expands as it sets patches breaks in concrete driveways, sidewalks, patios and basement floors. It is not necessary to prepare the old surface. Simply mix the patching cement with water, stir and pour.

JESUITS GO CO-ED: Holy Cross College, the last Jesuit institution in the U.S. exclusively for men, will admit women students in September. Rev. John E. Brooks, S.J., president of the Worcester, Mass., school, said 180 to 200 women will join the 600-member freshman class.

For your information

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB OF WESTERN LABRADOR: The most exciting event of the weekend of 30-31 January was the lift-off of the Apollo 14 spacecraft from Capt Kennedy, Florida. Millions watched the event on T.V. and millions more listened on radios around the world. But in the United States and Canada thousands of Amateur Radio operators were absorbed in a much more serious event which concerned not just three men in rocket flight to the moon, but the testing of North America's emergency radio facilities.

The weekend of 30-31 January was the date of the Annual Simulated Emergency Test. Radio Amateurs operating from bays, inlets, lakes, oceans, towns, cities, communities from every section of North America took part in the operation.

The word was SIMULATED EMERGENCY. Amateurs generally have an efficient communications system, and each province or state has its own daily "nets" or meetings on the air for the purpose of relaying messages around the countries involved. But how effective are these "nets"? How good is the Amateurs method of communication? How fast can a message be passed from Bonita, California to St. John's, Nfld? The only way to find out is to try it. Test the communications system that the "Hams" are so proud of. Simulate an emergency and originate messages for anyone in any town in this continent and see how fast you can get it there. The results are sometimes amazing.

The purposes of the simulated emergency test are several fold:

1. To provide a test of local amateur emergency communications organizations such as the Amateur Radio Emergency Corps.

2. To provide a test under extra strain of the National Traffic System, the Trans-Canada Network and all local networks such as the Nfld. - Lbdr. Network.

3. To demonstrate to the Governments and to the public, amateur radios ability to function, during conditions paralleling as closely as possible those that might be encountered during an actual disaster.

4. To provide operator training and experience in emergency communications practice.

It was quite a test. Radio Amateurs in the Wabush-Labrador City area went on the air early Saturday morning (30 Jan.) and checked with the Nfld. network every hour until 11:00 p.m. 31 January. Between times the "hams" checked in with other provincial and state networks to accept messages or relay messages on these systems. In Nfld.-Lbdr. alone over 200 stations checked with the Emergency Co-Ordinator for Nfld. Bob Jones VOIC A of Gander. Messages coming to the Wabush-Labrador City area were delivered minutes after their arrival to the person concerned via telephone.

Amateur Radio exists as a hobby but a hobby in the "Public Interest, convenience and necessity." When a "hobby" can handle 24,000 messages in less than 48 hours it sure beats crib playing, as a hobby in the public interest.

The NTA Executive, at its regular Saturday meeting, received a report on the ballot regarding acceptance or rejection of the latest Government salary offer. The result of a near complete vote is overwhelming to reject that offer. 86 per cent of those voting rejected the offer. In addition to voting to reject the Government offer, a large percentage of teachers have pledged sufficient financial support in the event that withdrawal of service becomes necessary. Moreover the response to the vote is consistent, irrespective of the time when the ballots were cast, and equally decisive in urban and rural areas. The results leave no doubt as to the unity of the NTA on this issue. The Executive has approved a plan of action aimed at securing a just and reasonable settlement and is ready to consider the Government's response to the teachers' message.

On Jan. 28th, 1971, a very lovely wedding took place at Our Lady of Assumption Church, Labrador City, between Miss Vera Ginn, daughter of Anna and Alexander Ginn, Stoneville, Nfld., and Mr. Allison LeRoux, son of Mrs. Margaret LeRoux, Wabush.

The bride looked very pretty wearing a floor length gown of White Brocade. The bride was attended by Dorothy Alexander, Maid of Honor. Bridesmaid's were Chris. Rodgers and Judy Messervey. Junior Bridesmaids were Holly Parsons and Donna Alexander. Flower girl was Lisa Alexander, who wore a gown identical to the bride. Allison was attended by Leo Alexander as Best Man. Dore Fitzgerald and Tommy Rodgers were Bridesboys, and Terry Ginn, brother of the bride was ring bearer. The reception was held at the Royal Canadian Legion, Wabush, where some two hundred guests were in attendance. Toastmaster for the evening was Peter Kannis. Ushers were Jim Harview and Bud Messervey. Out of town guests were Vera's mother, Mrs. Anna Ginn and Terry from Nfld. Mrs. Lillian Gariner from Toronto; Mr. Billy Alexander from Schefferville; sister and brother of the groom's mother.

This was an extra happy occasion for Mrs. Jen Alexander, Grandmother of the groom who had nine of her ten children present for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoux now reside at 128

Grenfell Drive, Wabush.

Happy birthday to Bonnie Skanes who celebrated her 8th birthday on Feb. 7th. Greeting come from Mommie, Daddy and Raymond.

Bon Voyage goes out to Miss Mary LaCour who will be leaving Wabush shortly to take up a new post with the Bank of Montreal at Churchill Falls.

THANK YOU

Mrs. Fred W. Houghton (Nita E. Wood), wishes to thank most sincerely, the co-hostesses and all friends in both Wabush and Labrador City, who so kindly planned or participated in any way, in making Friday, January 29th such a memorable evening at the Canadian Legion - Hall Wabush.

I regret I cannot thank everyone by letter and trust that this expression of gratitude will serve to show the deep appreciation for the party and beautiful gifts.

CURLING After a comparatively quite year in Curling circles the Carol Club Ladies dramatically came up with a Provincial Championship, winning the coveted Clift Trophy, with a spotless 8 win - no loss record. After ten years of trying, a local team finally made it. Congratulations are in order to Mavis Pike, Frances Hiscock, Ann Bright and Sue-Ann Bartlett. This team will host the Dominion Ladies Curling Championship being held in St. John's 22 thru 28 Feb.

It is the first time a team from our area has represented the Province in a National Finals played in Newfoundland. Best of luck ladies from Aurora and our readers.

The team would like to thank the Town of Labrador City, Eastern Provincial Airways, Ashuanipi Social Club, Curlmaster Brooms, Carol Curling Club and others for their kind donations.

This week "the Illings" and "the Bartlett's" will be competing in the Provincial Mixed competition and later Jim Ward's team will carry the Club colors in the men's play-offs.

SKI NEWS: The results of the Nfld. Zone Championship races held in Corner Brook, 30 Jan., showed Smokey Mt. skiers to be strong competitors. However Lady Luck was not smiling and a series of misfortunes prevented the Labrador City skiers from doing as well as they had anticipated.

Dave Mattisson won the men's Giant Slalom with Robin Jardine coming 3rd. Carol Sheppard tied for first in the ladies Giant Slalom with Tina Doyle from Corner Brook. Young Randy Archer placed 3rd in the combined totals with a 3rd in the Spécial Slalom and an 8th in the G.S. The winner of the combined scores was Corner Brook skier, Terry Filarte, with T. Wasmaier, St. John's, second. Corner Brook girls, Tina Doyle, Donna Thistle and Pauline Staples made a clean sweep of the women's combined scores.

The congratulation and best wishes of the Smokey Mt. Ski Club are extended to the 1971 Newfoundland champions.

The Granny Greeners had their first team races on Sunday, Jan. 31, and terrific weather contributed to the good time. The masquerade dance held on Saturday, February 6, was a highlight of the season.

The Winter Games team will be leaving for Saskatoon on February 14. The good luck wishes of all residents of Lab. City-Wabush surely must go with them, as they go to represent Nfld. in competition with the best in Canada.

CANADIAN SKI PATROL: Your Part In Safer Skiing-Ski Courtesy: Too often, accidents happen because skiers do not know the rules of the slope. The following tips were first published by the U.S. National Ski Patrol System, and have been widely adopted throughout the U.S. and Canada.

The Golden Rule for Skiers is - "Be aware of others."

SKIING with Al Raine
Head Coach, Canada's National Ski Team.

TURN YOUR FEET

Intermediates—11

I am always surprised by the number of people who do not understand the pivoting action of the skis. In almost every parallel turn, the skis begin turning with a swivelling action or pivot of the feet. This pivoting is centered at the boots. The boots are the axis of the turn.

The pivoting power is in the ankles and lower legs. You will be able to see this if you sit on a chair and turn your feet on an axis through the middle of the arches. This is the same action that should be taking place when you are skiing. It is simply your feet turning.

1. Wait your turn in lift lines. Line cutting is reserved for ski school classes and ski patrolmen.
2. Do not walk on ski slopes without skis.
3. Fill your sitzmarks (fall marks). The hole might cause another skier to fall.
4. Ski in control. Be able to avoid other skiers and stop when necessary. Don't be a schuss boomer.
5. Wear ski retaining devices to avoid runaway skis.
6. Give way to a beginner. His control might not be as good as yours.

HOCKEY: "A" League: While the Saints had their poorest week of the season earlier this month, dropping a 6-5 decision to the Braves and being held to a 3-3 tie by the Huskies, they still have a 10 point lead in the standings, as the schedule nears its final stages.

"B" League: In another low scoring game the Juniors got by the Indians 3-2, with three of the five goals scored with less than (4) minutes remaining in the 3rd period. The Huskies with 15 wins in 21 starts have a commanding lead.

In the scoring races, B. Kelley of the Huskies is the points leader in the "A" league, with H. Hynes, J. LeTourneau and E. Blundell of the Saints battling for the runner up spot. The "B" league scoring race is all Huskies, with just a few points separating K. Power, J. Power, B. Delaney, R. Kavli, A. Spracklin and R. Mercer.

MINOR HOCKEY: The local Peè-Wee all-stars are off for Quebec City on Friday, February 12, via Wabush Mine's Aircraft (at no cost to the Association).

On Saturday they will play an exhibition game against Val Cartier, Quebec and on Monday at 9.40 a.m. will play the only German team entered in the International Pee Wee Tournament, Baden Soellingen, at the Coliseum. If successful in this game their next encounter will be against a Canadian team on Thursday at 8.00 a.m.

Several other exhibition games will be played before returning home on Monday, February 22. The team will consist of J. Anderson, K. Sherren, B. Léonard, B. Bullen, F. Simka, D. Arnold, E. Lake, A. Trahan, F. Leonard, S. Gage, G. Jenkins, M. Tobin, C. Bastow, N. Kent, D. Honsberger and W. Curran; with R. Belliveau as Team Coach and J.Y. LeTourneau as Team Manager and Assistant Coach. This year 102 teams are entered in the Tournament and the boys are aiming for the "C" championship.

The regular Minor Hockey schedule will continue during this period and we will publish the latest statistics next week.

TANYA SNO-KART CLUB: There will be a general meeting at the Club Lodge on Thursday, at 7.00 p.m.

Following the general meeting there will be a meeting for those interested in a Snow Rally which will be starting from the Lodge at 1.00 p.m. on Sunday, February 14th. This rally is a new event for club members and should provide an entertaining afternoon with something hot to eat and drink at the half-way mark and further refreshments available on return to the Lodge at about 4.00 p.m.

Come on members --- let's get out and have some fun.

BASKETBALL: According to the latest standings Bowings Bullets and the L.C. Lions are tied for first place, but the Bullets have a game in hand. The P.M. team from Wabush are in the cellar; still looking for their first win.

Paul Dubey of the Bullets still leads the scoring race with his average of 20 points per game. Bruce Randell of the Lions and Frank Burke of the Bullets are runners up.

Over the weekend of 30-31 January the Regina High School Team of Corner Brook were visitors to our area. On Saturday the highly-touted high-schoolers defeated Bowings Bullets 54-47 and on Sunday beat the local All Stars 56-51. Bern Joyce of Regina potted 40 of his team's 110 point output. In both games the visitors trailed at half-time.

BOXING: In what must have been one of the finest bouts held locally (or for that matter in this Province) "Irish" Pat Murphy of New York decisioned Terry Hayward of L.C. The approximate 1,200 fans in attendance gave a standing ovation at the conclusion of the 10 round bout. If these boys meet locally again we venture to say it will draw an overflow crowd.

In the semi-final Stan Hayward disposed of his opponent in 45 seconds. The amateur bouts were quite crowd pleasing with Coady over Jones, Alyward and Cutler a draw, and Parsons over Bruce.

The youngsters from the newly formed Labrador City Boxing Club also put on a good show with Lawlor over Ouelette and Drover & O'Driscoll and Drover & McCarthy fighting to draws.

Officials for the evening were: Roy Bessette, Referee; Bruce Brown, Announcer; Bill Rough, Joe Rainey and Ron Hardie, Judges. Timekeeper, Karl Ringer.

LABRADOR CITY LADIES' SOFTBALL LEAGUE: Below zero temperatures did not prevent a good turn-out at the annual meeting of the League held on Thursday past.

The executive elected for the 1971 are President, Mr. P.K. King; Vice-President, Miss Joan Power; Treasurer, Mrs. D.A. Matthews; Secretary, Mr. M. Connors.

THE FRENCH LADIES' BOWLING LEAGUE OF WABUSH

Results and standing of the teams for the last Sunday of January, the 31st, 1971 are as follows:

CHEQUE PLEASE: Montreal's mayor, M. Jean Drapeau, ran Expo 67 with ease. But smaller things can be more difficult. Recently the Quebec Superior Court put a padlock on his sumptuous restaurant, Le Vaisseau d'or in the Windsor Hotel. The hotel says he owes $42,750.00 in back rent, and has seized the restaurant's furniture.

NO GOOD NEWS IN EMPLOYMENT: If you're determined to find good news on the employment scene these days, you've got to be willing to clutch at straws. On that basis, there are a couple of tiny, clutchable straws in the first-quarter 1971, job outlook published last month by Manpower Services Ltd., Toronto. The industries involved are retailing and farm machinery manufacturing and distributing, just two of 24 groups surveyed.

Fifteen percent of the farm machinery people surveyed said they expect to take on additional workers in the first quarter (vs only 9% a year ago). Similarly, a slightly greater number of department stores expect to be hiring in this present first quarter than did so a year ago. End of good news, even in those industries: 22% of farm machinery makers forecast staff cuts (compared with 11% a year ago) and more department stores will be laying off staff this year than last. With the other employers surveyed, it's an outlook of uncompromised gloom: fewer forecast staff increases this quarter than in 1970's first quarter. The overall average was 7.7% of the 1,300 surveyed employers looking for staff increases (13.5% a year ago); 14% looking for staff cuts (12.7%); and nearly all the others forecasting no change in staff levels.

NARROW MISS: Archery enthusiast Heinz Mueller of Chertsey England, was rushed to hospital last month after shooting himself in the stomach with an arrow from an antique crossbow. "It's his hobby," his mother told police. "He was loading it when it backfired." Mueller's condition was described as "satisfactory" after emergency surgery to remove the arrow.

The Bible Today

Koine was an amalgam of Greek dialects that replace classical Greek and flourished under the Roman Empire. For the most part the authors of the New Testament books wrote in this common language. It becomes the "treasure in earthen vessels" (2 Corinthians 4: 7, King James Version) in which the Gospel was swiftly carried to all parts of the Empire, penetrating every level of society.

A similar development is taking place in Papua and New Guinea, a mountainous, forested island territory in the South Pacific. Its 2.2 million citizens have a bewildering physical, cultural and linguistic diversity.

One of their few common ties is Pidgin English, or Neo-Melanesian once despised and maligned but today spoken by 40 per cent of the population and spreading rapidly.

A prominent leader in the development of Pidgin is the Bible Society in the territory. After more than a decade of painstaking work by translators, reviewers and consultants, a Pidgin English New Testament was published early last year. This landmark edition of Scripture has been hailed as "the best written Pidgin yet produced," and specialists assigned to standardizing the language's spelling have declared "Nupela Testament" as the norm to follow.

Because of its official acceptance by all groups, from Roman Catholics to Seventh-day Adventists, the Pidgin New Testament will become the standard text for Bible study and training materials. It will be used as well in church-sponsored literacy programs.

BOOK EDGES

The badly-soiled edges of books can be cleaned very nicely by using some fine grade of sandpaper fitted around a curved sanding block, as in the illustration. Sand with light pressure, just enough to remove the stained portion of the paper — (Gene Von).

The lighter side

NEW GLANDS: The young bride and her 65-year-old groom just returned from their honeymoon. The minute the boat docked, the bride gave the old man the slip and rushed headlong up to the office of her husband's doctor.

"Doc," she began, "just before we were married, you performed some kind of an operation on my husband. I must know exactly what you did to him." "Oh, it was really very simple," replied the doc. "All we did was fix him up with a new set of monkey glands."

"I thought it was something like that," complained the bride. "During the whole damned trip all he ever did was sit around and eat peanuts and scratch his back."

THE EARLY ARRIVAL: Brother: "I thought I told you not to tell mother how late I came in last night." Sister: "I didn't. I just said I was too busy getting the breakfast table to notice the time."

NOT TOO BRIGHT: When his son brought home a test paper marked "zero," the angry father phoned the teacher and complained: "My son studied half the night for that exam, and I don't think he deserves an "zero." "Neither do I" said the teacher. "But it's the lowest mark I could give."

PROPER DRESS: A tall beautiful blond entered a shoe store and asked for a pair of black shoes with the lowest heels possible. The puzzled salesman looked at her and asked, "What are you going to wear these with?"

"If you must know," she answered haughtily, "with a short, bald-headed bank president."

WHEN GOD CREATED MAN: When God created Earth, he called Man before him and said, "I'm giving you twenty years of normal sex life." Man objected, but God wouldn't budge. "Just twenty. That's all." Then he called the Lion and gave him twenty years of normal sex life. The Lion said, "But God, ten years is plenty." Man spoke up and asked for the Lion's other ten and the Lion gave them to him. God then called the monkey and gave him twenty years. The Monkey said, "Ten years will be sufficient." So again man spoke up and received the Monkey's extra ten. The Donkey was called next and given twenty years like the others. He wanted only ten, and Man again asked for and received the ten years of added sex life. Last, God called for Paul Parrott and gave him twenty years of normal sex life. Then Man asked for his extra ten years, and Parrott said okay. This shows why Man has twenty years of normal sex life, ten years of lion about it, ten years of monkeying around about it, ten years of making an ass out of himself and ten years talking about it!

THE CHEAP-SKATE! Did you hear about the guy who was so cheap that he walked down the ramp of the plane that had just landed and grumbled: "There goes $2.50 worth of insurance down the drain."

THE CONFESSIONAL: A young lady got on a city bus with a tall boy and was told she had to pay full fare because he was over six years.

"How can he be over six," asked the mother, "When I've been married only six years?"

"I'm here to collect fares," the driver said firmly, "not confessions."

THE FAREWELL GIFT: The maid had just been discharged. Extracting a $5 bill from her purse, she threw it to Fido, the family dog. When asked why by her former employer, she answered: "I never forget a friend. That was for helping me clean the dishes all the time."

THE TASTER: During lunch hour, a loud-mouthed chap was boasting that he was an expert on drinks, both soft and hard. A co-worker slipped around the corner to a service station and returned with a bottle of liquid. "Take a swig of this," he challenged, "and tell us what it is." The braggart took one swallow and gasped, "That's gasoline!"

"I know that," the other man said calmly, "but is it premium or regular?"

CHARGES FROM THE HOSPITAL AREA: A young mother, having had very little time to get to a hospital, gave birth to a child on the hospital lawn. The father was greatly chagrined upon receiving the bill marked: "Delivery room and maternity ward - $170.00." Greatly upset, he wrote to the authorities, carefully explaining that he did not have to pay this fee because of the child being born on the lawn.

Several days later he received a new bill marked: "Green fees, $120.00."

HUSBAND NOT WANTED: When the middle-aged widow was asked if she would marry again she replied: "I have a dog that growls and sleeps all day, a parrott that swears, and a cat that stays out all night. What do I want a husband for?"

The Carol Players

The Carol Players are sponsoring a poster competition in connection with their forthcoming production of THE LAND GOD GAVE TO CAIN, adapted from the novel by Hammond Innes. The poster entries should advertise the time and place of the play's presentation, details of which may be obtained from school art specialists or from S. Phillips (944-5302). The entries will be judged in two classes based on school grades IV-VII, and VIII-XI. There will be a cash prize of $5.00 for each category. The final date for entries will be February 15th. Entries may be handed in to school art specialists.

Scanning the market

values of $5.00, $10.00, $25.00, $50.00, and $100.00 per share are most frequently found among the industrial stocks. Conversely, no par value stock is stock which does not carry any such stated face value.

At one time all stocks were issued with a stated par value. But since 1912, when the issuance of no par value shares was first legalized in the United States, "n.p.v." stock has become more commonplace and popular.

The development of the no par value stock came about as the result of certain shortcomings which a par value stock possessed. Since there is usually little relationship between the book value and par value of a stock, it was claimed to be deceptive to place a specific value on the certificate.

Consequently, no par value stock is a more accurate and less deceptive description. Further, since it is held that the main value of a share of stock is its fractional claim on the net earnings and assets of the company, the par value figure is largely meaningless.

Preferred stocks are almost always issued with a stated par value and their dividend rates are expressed as a percentage of their par value or in dollars and cents per share per year.

Q: What is the extent of a shareholders liability to the creditors of a company?

A: The shareholder's liability is limited to the paid-in value of his shares. In other words, once the full subscription price has been paid into the treasury of the company at the time of the initial offering, no additional claim for money may be made upon the shareholder or future owner of those shares (he can lose all he invested in the company, but no more). This is known as "limited liability" and all stocks entitled to this restriction bear these words on the face of the certificate.

"Hey - Wait a Minute"

BY "YOUR CANDID LAYMAN"

LAUGH OF THE MONTH: Provincial Cabinet Minister to get Executive Assistants. There will be a rush for the position with the Department of Labrador Affairs. The minister does nothing, so it follows that his assistant will do even less. At least it will give the Minister a golf partner during the summer, and a gin rummy partner during the winter.

SNOWMOBILE OWNERS - A MENACE: If onlookers are to judge snowmobile owners on some of the hazards created by the owners themselves, then they are a menace.

Such a self-created hazard occurred on Field St. (L.C.) recently. A snowmobile was being towed behind a car, and the person seated on the snowmobile was a child.

Who would have been to blame if another vehicle had hit the snowmobile and either injured or killed the child?

- The driver of the car?
 - The driver of the second vehicle?
 - The RCMP for failure to enforce regulations?
 - The Town Council for failure to enforce regulations?
 - The people of Labrador City because of their complacency?
- WOULD YOU, PERSONALLY; FEEL ANY SENSE OF GUILT

A TIP OF THE HAT: A tip of the hat to Real Ste. Marie for his financial assistance to the World of Sport in Labrador City during 1970.

This quite, self-effacing sponsor deserves a great deal more than a tip of the hat from this paper.

How about it -- Ski Club, Hockey Associations, etc?

LAST BUT NOT LEAST:

YOUR HERO

It's thirty degrees below zero,
In Lab. City all is still,
As your wife sets about dressing a hero,
To send to the school on the hill.

Meanwhile in St. John's on the island,
A Premier lies peacefully asleep,
Oblivious to all outside the island
A habit that goes very deep.

Not for him the mountain of clothing,
Not for him the cold, biting wind,
Not for him the prospect of walking,
On roads made dangerous to limb.

For him it's a taxpayers' limousine,
Maybe chauffeur driven to boot,
But you little hero can daily be seen
Heading for school on foot.

No bus service for your hero,
It would cost St. John's too much,
I fear you'll have to change his name
To John C. Doyle or such.

Your Candid Layman.

Looking into labor

LABOR BARGAINING: In Ontario, construction men hope to ease into new rules with a one-year contract. In a co-operative action without precedent, both employer and union groups last month urged their members to negotiate a one-year extension of existing labor contracts, rather than entering into new two-or-three-year agreements. Wage rates would still be open to negotiation.

Ontario's new labor relations law, which give management the right of collective bargaining takes effect, Monday next 15 Feb. Most contracts expire at the end of April. Both management and labor leaders are wary of entering into long-term agreements on such a brand new foundation. There is no guarantee that the one-year plan will be endorsed by all the unions, or all the companies. But optimists in the industry see it as a first step toward more orderly bargaining. The second step would be to negotiate province-wide contracts on a craft-by-craft basis.

This by itself is no panacea. For one thing, it could kill any future hopes for multi-trade bargaining, one of the cornerstones of the Goldberg commission of the 1960s. It would also do nothing to prevent one craft from trying to get a lot more than another. But at least it would see one wage scale, possibly with variations by region, for each of the 22 crafts employed in the industry.

Union leaders favour this approach because it eliminates the need for employer groups to seek accreditation to bargain on a region-by-region basis. Unions are opposed to the act's provisions for management bargaining units. The test of the one-year scheme, if it is approved by both parties, will come at the bargaining table. In the past 10 years, the Ontario industry has set the pace for inflationary costs and wages. Toronto area construction wages rose by 10% annually in eight years, and by 17.5% in the other two. The unions have yet to say how much money they want at this time, but employers have no reason to feel optimistic about this aspect of their labor relations.

PROFESSIONAL LEAN TO LABOR UNIONS: Engineers may be forced into bargaining with employers through labor unions unless special bargaining procedures for professionals are made possible, officials of two professional organizations said recently in Samia, Ont.

Mr. R.V. Scott, general manager of the Society of Ontario Hydro Professional Engineers and Associates, said at a conference of the Canadian Society for Chemical Engineering that the Marine Engineers Benevolent Association, a San Francisco-based AFL-CIO affiliate already has approached the Hydro society. The MEBA, he said, already includes more than 10,000 U.S. professionals, including large groups of engineers in the California aerospace industry. It may soon acquire its first Canadian affiliate at Canadian Marconi Ltd. in Montreal, a unit which would include about 200 engineers.

"Let me also make it clear that it is society policy to avoid outright trade unionism if possible and locate an effective middle way for the professional between management and labor."

Mr. E.A. Crockett, a Sarnia employee of Polymer Corp. Ltd. who is registrar-treasurer of the Association of the Chemical Profession of Ontario, said his association and other professional associations are seeking separate Ontario legislation for unions for professionals. Mr. Scott said the Hydro society has indications that engineers soon will be removed from a clause in the Ontario Labor Relations Act that prevents certain professional groups from being covered under contracts with labor unions. Scott said those who abhor the advent of unionism in the professions "are not absolved from a responsibility to empathize with the deep frustration experienced by groups of professionals who turn to this alternative. They work in large, usually impersonal, institutions, utilities and super corporations. They are frequently told that they are part of management, but this statement will not stand up under close scrutiny. Just because they may supervise a number of subordinates does not mean that they occupy an effective management position relative to their own conditions of employment."

"Many of them feel that their value is not sufficiently recognized or utilized, nor do they have an influence on working conditions and standards at all commensurate with their professional and educational accomplishments."

He said the salaries of engineers also are deteriorating in relation to the rates of pay in society as a whole.
