On the local scene

We certainly realize our Provincial Government requires every cent it can tax from residents, just to pay interest and principal on its staggering debt. But wouldn't it be good politics (in this an election year) to reduce in Canada, by 3 or 4 cents to cover the recent gasoline price increases. Our estimate of the cost would be in the order of $3 to $4 million, but Premier Joe look at all those prospective votes, from your grateful subjects.

While we don't suggest religious services on Good Friday be restricted or reduced; this column feels it's time a 20th Century look was taken by Provincial Government authorities, on the practice of "rolling up the sidewalks" for 24 hours. In our opinion normal Sunday activities should resume after 4:00 p.m. on this day. Let's have your thoughts on the idea!

IN A LINE: My vote for the most repulsive person on Television, C.B.C.'s Ottawa correspondent, Ron Collister.

The traffic lines seem to grow longer every day on the route to I.O.C. operations and we understand things will get worse before better. With warmer weather the snow is slowly starting to disappear and as every spring, a number of puddles have formed on streets, in both our towns. How about it motorists, by slowing down you save the pedestrians from an unwanted shower.

Local Weather: Here is the official weather summary for the month of March, 1971 supplied by Wabush Aeradio Station, Ministry of Transport, Wabush Airport.

"The highest temperature for the month of March was 29.3 on March 29 and the low temperature minus 28.2 on March 3, 1971. We experienced a total of 23.9 inches of snow during the month to bring our total snowfall for this year to 117.6 inches. A year ago a total of 179.2 inches had fallen to the end of March. Presently we are carrying 35 inches on the ground at the airport. As of April 1 you could expect sunrise at 5:51 a.m. and sunset at 6:41 p.m. and at the end of the month 30 April sunrise is 4:50 a.m. and sunset 7:35 p.m."

An application for certification received from Construction, General Labourers', Rock and Tunnel Workers, Local 1208, affecting a unit of employees of McNamara Corporation Limited, Labrador City, was rejected on the grounds that the unit applied for was inappropriate for collective bargaining.

Editorially Speaking

QUEBEC AND CONFEDERATION: I read recently the text of a speech delivered by Mr. Claude Ryan, the distinguished and brilliant editor of Montreal's Le Devoir, and found it very thought provoking. Reviewing briefly the crisis of October 1970, Mr. Ryan said of the incidents "one of the big lessons learned is that the basis of democracy is much more fragile than most people had thought."

The reaction of the authorities has also demonstrated very clearly their own sense of insecurity and that governments, despite huge majorities, are much more vulnerable than they believed. Ryan said close examination of the events have also shown clearly the reality that Canada is composed of two nations. This, suggested Ryan, is the root cause of "the malaise which is gripping this country because neither of the two peoples is satisfied with its lot in relation to the other."

A few years ago, the editor continued, this was realized and serious attempts were made to work out a solution. Then with the resounding Liberal victories in the 1968 federal elections and the 1970 provincial vote, English-speaking Canadians tended to fall back into a state of complacency, assuming that discontented French Canada was confined to a small minority. Ryan suggested the October crisis has shown this was not true and since then the people of Quebec are about equally divided in supporting or condemning government action such as introduction of the War Measures Act.

Le Devoir Editor continued "in last winter's Chambly vote, where it was a straight two-way contest between Liberal Minister Jean Cournoyer and separatist challenger Pierre Marios, Ryan said the government strategists had hoped for a crushing victory as endorsement of their actions since the October Crisis. They had, Mr. Ryan said, expected the Parti Quebecois' some 31 per cent of the popular vote taken in last April's general election would fall to about 10 per cent. "But the fact that at least 40 per cent of French-Canadian votes went to the opponent of the establishment destroys forever the myth that the government had 80 per cent support during the crisis."

I must say I agree with Mr. C. Ryan more so than with a recent editorial in the St. John's Daily News, to the effect that although Mr. Levesque's Parti Quebecois won 25 per cent of the popular vote in the last Quebec Provincial Election "that does not mean that he can persuade a majority of the Quebec people to support secession. Nationalist crusaders have a tendency to vehement promotion of their cause on an emotional basis and with a damn the consequences attitude. It is probable, however, that a substantial improvement in the provincial economy would make a lot of difference to nationalist sympathies."

About the only sentence I can agree with was "secession by Quebec could break up Canada as we know it now." Certainly it would and possibly for the good of the other nine provinces and Quebec.

I will elaborate further on this point in a subsequent editorial.

MARCH ADOPTIONS REACH NEW PEAK

Placements of provincial wards in adoptive homes reached a record high during the month of March according to figures just released by Hon. Stephen Neary, Minister of Social Services and Rehabilitation.

"The 86 children for whom the Director of Child Welfare was able to find adopting mothers and fathers during March was a remarkable 25 per cent higher than placements made during last December, the previous high for one month," commented Mr. Neary.

It is felt that the suggestions of the interdenominational committee for more constant reminders to their respective congregations concerning the Children's Crusade for Adoptions have much to do with the improvements. The committee last October had suggested continuing the Children's Crusade throughout the year instead of just during the month of December as in the original concept when it was introduced in 1969.

To provide for proper liaison between the clergy and the Department, the Child Welfare branch sends out statistical and other information on adoptions periodically. An increasing number of pastors are passing on this information from their pulpits in sermons aimed at communicating the joys and responsibilities that go with providing a home for the little ones who must otherwise remain wards of the provincial government.

Hère 'n' There

ALL WASHED UP: Fleur Jarvis, 23, and Jane Ovans, 22, complained to public officials in Tavistock, England, because they have had to travel 1,200 miles during the last six months to stay clean. The ladies have no bath in their municipal-housing apartment, and make a 16-mile trip twice a week to Fleur's parents' home to bathe. Municipal authorities have promised to install a bath.

U.S. CIGARETTE PRODUCTION UP: Cigarette production and wholesale sales in the United States increased in January (the first month of the ban on television commercials) about 6 per cent over the comparable month a year ago, the internal revenue service reported last month.

NUDE MALE STRIPPERS UNFAIR: A half-dozen female strippers in Toronto recently exposed themselves in freezing temperatures to protest male competition. The girls, most bare breasted and carrying placards with such slogans as "nude males scam" and "higher wages for female nudes," are employed at a midtown nightclub that had just added two male strippers to its program. The girls, one just in panty briefs, paraded and talked with reporters and photographers for about 30 minutes outside the club while about 25 persons stood around in the 31-degree temperatures to watch. Joy Morrison, 21, who has danced at the club for four years, said the men are being paid $10.00 a week more than the girls. None of the girls would say how much they were being paid. Miss Morrison said the girls had "no beef" about men stripping. "If you men can look at women, we can look at the boys."

LEARNING FROM EXPERIENCE: Part of an English grammar school's domestic science program for girls aged 13 to 15 is how to take care of babies. The Hertford pupils can now practise on the real thing, borrowed from mothers in the town.

ISRAELI EXPORTS: A sharp decline in Israeli exports in the first half of 1970 was more than compensated for the last half of the year. For the year as a whole there was a 6 per cent increase, mainly because of higher sales of industrial goods. In 1971, Israel hopes to more than double its exports, according to Adin Talbar, deputy director of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry. Because of huge defense expenditures, currency reserves fell to under $400 million from $900 million in late 1967. Government expenditures jumped 28 per cent last year and many observers fear a great increase in inflation if this trend continues this year. Income taxes, already among the world's highest, have risen again. This should keep consumption stable despite an expected 8 per cent production increase in 1971.

EARLY: The bride was left waiting at the church altar in Bari, Italy, while her groom-to-be excused himself and rushed off to fight a fire that had broken out in his parents' home. As soon as firemen arrived at the house, the groom hurried back to the wedding. "Patience begins even before the wedding ring," commented the bride's mother.

ESKIMOS FAVOR OWN PROVINCE: The Eskimos of northern Quebec surprised a meeting of the Quebec Indian Association recently, when they said they want to form a separate Eskimo province. The Eskimos invited the Indians to join their new state with all the privileges and powers conferred by provincial status; the Eskimos said this is the only way to deal with the Quebec and Federal Governments.

Scanning the Market

BY C.S.D.

As I write this column the Dow-Jones has broken the 920 mark, its highest level since June 1969. In Toronto stock prices have recouped their losses of last spring's sell-off and are headed for the T.I. 200 mark. However we still believe there are good buys available and in future columns we hope to suggest at least three each week.

Today we will ramble a little with various market notes:—

OWNERSHIP OF SHARES BROADENS: Despite the stock market decline last year, the number of shareholders grew by about one million to an estimated 31,900,000, a New York Stock Exchange study shows. Dr. William C. Freund, the exchange's senior economist, predicted the number of individual shareholders in the United States will grow to nearly 40 million in 1975 and to 50 million in 1980. In a speech for a meeting of the Conference Board, a business research organization, Freund said individuals probably would buy and sell an average of 11 million shares a day in 1980, compared with 7.9 million in 1969.

VANCOUVER EXCHANGE HAS SECOND BEST YEAR: Despite a 31% decline in share trading volume and a 60% drop in dollar volume in 1970, the Vancouver Stock Exchange still had [its second-best trading year in share volume and third-best year in trading value. And, with stock trading rebounding upward, exchange President John A.

Van Luven is quite optimistic about the prospects for the current year, although he anticipates more short-term rather than long-term investing. "The economy generally is picking up," Van Luven says, "but the two major factors which remain uncertain are the continuing problems of inflation, and the spectre of the white paper on taxation."

Although trading in industrial and oil stocks continues to increase, the Vancouver Exchange is still largely a mining exchange. Of the 1970 trading value of $454 million, $64 million was in industrial stocks, $43 million in oil stocks, and $261 million in mining stocks. There was also over $81 million traded in interim listings, companies that would normally trade over the counter. The V.S.E. began its interim listing system for these companies in 1969, and Van Luven says that it has been very successful. About 50 companies have been granted full listing, some have been suspended, and about 150 currently have interim listing status.

Van Luven does not feel that a single national stock exchange is a practical proposition in Canada and suggests that there will always be a place for regional exchanges. At the present time, the V.S.E. is discussing the interlisting of issues and interexchange trading with the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange. Actually, Van Luven explains, negotiations

The lighter side

Rather than our usual format this week, we decided to insert two recent articles that came our way. One was from applications received this winter by the Toronto Welfare Dept. The other by a Religion Writer, entitled "Word from Solomon."

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

An "interview" on women's liberation with the author of that ancient compendium of Hebrew wisdom, the biblical Book of Proverbs:

.. Q. Where is women's place?

.. A. The wisest women build up their homes. (Prov. 14:1)

.. Q. What does a foolish woman do?

.. A. She raises her voice in public places. (Prov. 1:20)

Q. What kind of woman gets involved in these protest movements?

A. A women never content to stay at home. She is loud and wayward, now in the street, now in the market, lying in wait at every corner. (Prov. 7:11-12).

.. Q. Is there any way to get her off this kick?

.. A. A contentious woman is like a continual dripping on a rainy day. To restrain her is to restrain the wind. (Prov. 27:15-16)

.. Q. You find this type pretty quarrelsome, I take it?

A Better face a she-bear robbed of her cubs. (Prov. 17:12).

Q. You try to avoid them, then?

A. When they call upon me, I will not answer them. When they search for me, they shall not find me. (Prov. 1:28)

Q. What kind of woman do you prefer?

A. A lovely doe, a graceful hind. (Prov. 5:19)

Q. That types makes a good companion, huh?

A. You will at all times be bathed in her love . . . when you lie in bed, she will watch over you, and when you wake she will talk with you. (Prov. 5:19)

Q. Aside from militant feminists, what kind of woman do you must deplore?

A. A Beautiful woman without good sense. (Prov. 11:22)

Q. You believe that character and intelligence are more important than charm and good looks?

A. Charm is a delusion and beauty fleeting. (Prov. 31:30)

Q. How do you feel about the institution of marriage?

A. Better to live alone in an attic than share a palace with a nagging wife. (Prov. 21:9)

Q. What if a guy is lucky enough to find a good, loyal and loving wife?

A. Her worth is far beyond jewels. (Prov. 31:10)

Q. How does a good housewife spend her time?

A. She rises while it is still dark and prepares food for her family . . . she sets about her duties with vigor, and does not shrink from hard work. She attends to her business well and is the last to retire at night. (Prov. 31:15-18).

Q. Doesn't she also spend a lot of time in the car, running errands for the family?

A. Like a ship laden with merchandise, she brings home food from far off. (Prov. 31:34)

Q. And what does a good wife get for all of this unpaid labor?

A. She is clothed in dignity and power, and can afford to laugh at tomorrow. (Prov. 31:25)

Any liberated modern woman who takes umbrage at these views will find it not at all surprising that the Book of Proverbs is attributed to King Solomon, a notorious male chauvinist who had 1,000 wives and concubines but still couldn't resist a little extracurricular activity with the Queen of Sheba.

The following sentences were taken from actual letters received by the Toronto Welfare Department from applications for aid and assistance.

1. I am writing to the Welfare Department to say that my baby was born two years old. When do I get my money?

2. I am forwarding my marriage certificate and six children. I have seven, but one child died and was baptized on one sheet of paper.

3. Mrs. Jones has not had any clothes for a year and has been visited by the clergy regularly.

4. I cannot get sick pay. I have six children, can you tell me why?

5. I am glad to report that my husband who was reported missing is dead.

6. This is my eighth child. What are you going to do about it?

7. Please find out for certain if my husband is dead. The man I am living with can't cat or do anything till he finds out.

8. I am very annoyed to find that you have branded my son illiterate, as this is a lie. I was married to his father a week before he was born.

9. In answer to your letter, I have given birth to twins in the enclosed envelope.

10. In accordance with instructions, I have given birth to twins in the enclosed envelope.

I'M FINE

There's nothing whatever the matter with me
I'm just as healthy as I can be
I have arthritis in both my knees
And when I talk, I have a wheeze
My pulse is weak, and my blood is thin
But I'm pretty good for the shape I'm in.

My teeth will eventually have to come out
And my diet I hate to think about
I'm overweight and I can't get thing
But I'm pretty good for the shape I'm in.

Arch supports I have for my feet
Or I wouldn't be able to go on the street
Sleep is denied me night after night
And every morning I am a sight
My memory is failing, My head's in a spin
I'm practically living on aspirin
But I'm pretty good for the shape I'm in.

How do I know my youth has been spent?
'Cause my get-up and go, has got up and went
But in spite of all that, I'm able to grin
When I think of where get-up and go has been.

Old age is golden, I've heard it said
But sometimes I wonder as I go to bed
My ears in a drawer, my teeth in a cup
My eye on a shelf until I get up
E're sleep dims my eyes I say to myself
Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf?

The reason I know my life has been spent
My get-up and go, has got up and went
But I really don't mind when I think with a grin
Of all the places my get-up has been.

I get up each morning and dust off my wits
Pick up the paper and read the "Obits"
If my name is missing, I know I'm not dead
So I eat a big breakfast and go back to bed.

When I was young, my slippers were red
I could kick my heels right over my head
When I grew older, my slippers were blue
But I still could dance the whole night through.
Now I'm old my slippers are black
I walk to the corner and puff my way back.

FACT-FINDING COMMITTEE TO SECURE PROVINCIAL
REACTION TO REPORT ON STATUS OF WOMEN IN CANADA

Hon. Stephen Neary, in his capacity of Acting Minister of Labour, has been asked by his colleagues in Cabinet to study, report upon, and make recommendations on provincial impact of the recently published report of the Royal Commission on the Status of Women in Canada.

"It seemed to me right away when I was handed this assignment," states Mr. Neary, "that it would be presumptuous indeed to whip through the Report and then pass on my personal reactions and assessments to my colleagues. It appeared much more desirable, and in keeping with the spirit of our recent legislation establishing in statutes recognition of the rights of women, to have a group of representative women study the Report and make decisions as to which of its 167 recommendations had a bearing on life in Newfoundland and Labrador; make suggestions as to their practical and statutory implementation; and establish priorities among these recommendations."

Within the next few days Minister of Labour Neary will be establishing terms of reference for a fact-finding committee and appointing its membership.

Groups and individuals interested in acting on this important volunteer committee or making submissions to it may submit their names either in letters addressed to the Minister of Labour, Confederation Building, St. John's, or by telephoning to the Minister's secretary at 722-0711, Ext. 690.

EQUITY CUTS BOTH WAYS: One intriguing aspect of the report of the Royal Commission on the Status of Women has received comparatively little notice. Missing no tricks, the commissioners refer to husbands and wives though as "spouses" entitled to equal rights before the law. They call for the abolition of discrimination in a number of cases where it is the men, not the women, who are getting the thin end of the deal.

Under section 186 of the criminal code, every parent is liable for the support of his children and every husband for the support of his wife. Non-support is a criminal offense. The commissioners recommend that the code be amended "so that a wife may be held to support her husband in the same way that the husband may now be held to support his wife."

As regards provincial legislation, the report notes that in nine provinces the laws dealing with support of a spouse reflect the traditional concept of his wife's dependence on her husband. Only in Alberta and the Yukon Territory is the obligation made reciprocal. The commission therefore recommends that the provinces should revise their laws "so that a wife who is financially able to do so may be held to support her husband and children in the same way that the husband may now be held."

The list of present discriminations against men is not long but is still substantial. It would be sensible for Ottawa to get rid of them during the next revision of the criminal code. It is time that the provinces also up-dated their laws. If common sense prevails it should be possible to get such change through without waiting for a Men's Liberation pressure group to spring up.

WHAT IS QUEBEC? HERE IS THE OFFICIAL WORD! Although the answer to "What does Quebec want?" may still be in doubt, an official answer to "What is Quebec?" has finally been published.

Here are excerpts from a booklet, Quebec, distributed to potential immigrants and investors:

1. "Although 1.3 million Canadians of French descent live in Canada's other nine provinces, Quebec is the home of almost five million more. It is the heartland of French Canada and, therefore, represents one of the two foci of Canada's cultural and ethnic dualism. Because the majority of the province's population is French in origin and language, and to the extent that it has real difficulty in sharing the activities of the central government, Quebec has always striven as much as possible to develop its autonomy within the framework of confederation. Since the 1867 constitution gave the provinces sovereignty in the field of education, Quebec has based most of its fiscal claims on this constitutional provision. It has, therefore, been in almost constant conflict with the federal government. The constitutional conflict over the division of powers is to be found in most federal systems."

2. "Quebec is theoretically governed, under the fiction of the Crown, by a Lieutenant-Governor, who holds office for five years. Appointed and paid by the federal government, the Lieutenant-Governor represents the Queen in provincial matters; it is well-established convention that he has no personal power and must abide by the decisions of his ministers. In fact, the responsibility for governing lies with the Premier."

3. "In spite of the efforts made in 1774, 1791 and 1840, a full-fledged constitution did not make its appearance in Canada until 1867. Originally, this was a federation of four states, including Quebec, to which six others were later to be added. Such was Canada of the last 100 years. Especially in recent years, the use to which Canada has put its Federal system has been the object of criticism whose virulence varied with the opinions of the critics. The 1867 constitution is under attack and we do not yet know what will become of it. On the official level, Quebec is asking at the very least for constitutional revision."

AMERICAN CARS GETTING FLIMSY: U.S. Senators were told last month that the flimsiness of American cars "appears to have worsened with 1971 models, meaning that owners will pay an average of $116.05 more than last year to repair damages in a minor front-end collision."

Dr. William Haddon Jr., president of the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, a nonprofit research group financed by the insurance industry in hopes of lowering damage claims, disputed auto industry claims that new cars are better built to withstand crash damage. He told a senate commerce subcommittee on consumer affairs that despite the government's auto safety efforts, "the largely cosmetic, egg-shell front and rear ends of the new automobiles remain with us in showrooms and on the streets," guaranteeing automakers huge profits in sales of replacement parts.

Techniques to overcome "the fragility problem continue to be ignored by the automakers," said Haddon, former chief of the national highway safety administration. "Technological remedies remain on the shelf, where they have gathered dust for years." In tests conducted last fall, he reported, the new large, medium-priced models of the Big Four Manufacturers were run into a stationary barrier at a speed of five miles per hour.

The average cost of repairing the damage in a front-end collision was $331.69, up $116.05 from the cost of repairing the 1970 models of the same four cars in tests conducted a year earlier. The average repair bill this year for a single-car, rear-end collision involving the same cars was $329.28, a boost of $110.62 over the $218.66 figure for last year.

THE BIBLE TODAY

When Pope Paul VI made an unprecedented visit to the Philippines last November to attend the Pan-Asian Conference of Roman Catholic bishops, the Philippine Bible Society presented him with white leather bound copies of the Gospel of Mark. The Society also released the same Gospel in a 70,000-copy edition, and these were distributed during the Pontiff's three-day stay.

Published in Tagalog, the official language, plus Ilocano, the commemorative Mark Portions represent the first fruits of an ambitious plan to provide straight-forward, translations of Scripture in languages spoken by 80 per cent of the Philippines' 36 million citizens.

DAILY LIGHT By D. R. Parsons

"Bearing his cross." (John 19:17)

"And they compel one Simon a Cyrenian, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear his cross." (Mark 15:21)

When the two single beams were lifted from the Lord's bleeding shoulders and laid on those of the sturdy Cyrenian, Simon became what none ever had been, or ever would be, in all history in the Lord's passion; he became for a brief space the substitute of Jesus! Simon came into Jerusalem that morning, from the village home where he had been a guest, unconscious of the tragedy enacted during the night, and was soon caught in the throng accompanying Jesus to Calvary. Through the dense excited mass of life this heavily-built countryman forced his insistent body till he came to the edge of the procession. From this vantage point he could peer in and get sight of Jesus; could catch the weariness of His face. Was it the merest accident that Simon was taken into the heart of the tragedy? The guard looked round and saw Simon, his prominence and bulk, perhaps an unconscious sympathy look growing on his face, and before Simon knew what had happened he had been dragged out from the people and the cross was placed on his shoulders, and he was walking beside Jesus to Calvary.

O good fortune of the Cyrenian to have a stout body, to be born a countryman, to carry a kindly heart! It had won him an honour denied to kings and conquerers.

And none so favoured as this Cyrenian, for they journeyed together within an iron wall, no man could interrupt or annoy; they were so close together that the cross seemed to be on them both. That Jesus spoke to Simon as He did to fe in all His ministry, there can be little doubt, since no one could render Jesus the slightest service without being instantly repaid, and this man had succored Him in His dire extremity. What Jesus said to His substitute Simon never told. But one thing is certain; in the heart of the tragedy on the way to Calvary, Simon met Jesus. And with what kindness Jesus must have spoken to His Crossbearer as they went forward together under one cross, one common disgrace! Alone with the Redeemer one gathers precious treasures!

For a short while this man carried the load of wood. In return, Jesus carried his sin, and that of his children after him; for by the time this Gospel was given unto the world Simon was known as the head of a distinguished Christian house; a man honoured in his sons, Alexander and Rufus.

Nothing save, a few droops of blood on the ground remained of the great tragedy as Simon journeyed homeward that evening; but, in the meantime, Jesus had accomplished the deliverance of the world; and Simon, the Cyrenian, had carried the Lord's cross! What a privilege!

Taken from the throng to carry another's cross, with Jesus.

ANOTHER OLD FIRM CLOSING: Mason & Risch Ltd. of Toronto, Canada's oldest piano maker, will close before the end of June. The company, owned by Aeolian Corp. of New York, has operated for about 100 years. It closed for three months last year until employees agreed to take a temporary wage cut of $1.00 an hour. Forty workers are affected by the shutdown.

NFLD. MANUFACTURERS UP SHIPMENT

IN 1970: Newfoundland manufacturers shipped $235 million of products in 1970—an increase over 1969 of 8.7 per cent. Dominion Bureau of Statistics recently reported, the value of manufacturers' shipments in December in Newfoundland was $19 million—an increase of 11.8 per cent over '69.

Speaking of Sports

HOCKEY: Congratulations to the Carol Lakers (including seven players from Wabush) Provincial Intermediate "A" Champs for the third straight year, by virtue of a come-from-behind 9-8 victory over the Clarenville team, recently. At this writing there is nothing definite on the Eastern Canadian play-offs, although it almost certain the team will be travelling before the month ends.

SENIOR HOCKEY: The finals between the Huskies and the Saints are still tied at 2-2 and unless several matters in dispute are straightened out, we may have seen our last game of the season. Huskies are attempting to have the finals played this week but the Saints, say they will be unable to ice a team until Tuesday the 20th. Let's hope things are rectified by the time this Aurora is distributed. We feel it would be a shame to have such a successful season end on a sour note.

minor hockey; The season is fast reaching its conclusion. Already three championship's have been decided. In the Pee-Wee section it was the Wings; in Bantam the "Royals" were the division winners; and Midget-Juvenile the "Rangers" came out on top. The Mosquito winners will probably be declared this weekend.

The Pee-Wee all stars will be travelling to Gander tomorrow for the Provincial "A" Tournament. At the same time the Bantam all stars will be at Port aux Basques and the Midget all stars at Clarenville. The Pee Wee team will consist of J. Anderson, K. Sherren, B. Leonard, B. Bullen, F. Simka, D. Arnold, E. Lake, A. Trahan, F. Leonard, S. Gage, G. Jenkins, M. Tobin, C. Bastow, N. Kent, D. Honsberger, and W. Curran. The names of the Bantam team was not available at press time. Hope to have their names on their return from winning the Provincial Championship, at Port aux Basques.

The Midget-Juvenile team will be as follows: D. Munn, R. Pattison, K. March, G. Hunt, P. Penney, R. Pike, J. Boulet, W. Gear, T. Costigan, L. Brown, L. Goose, K. Green, Butler, C. Gear, and B. Hodgson.

BASKETBALL: On Sunday 4 April, Lab. City Lions moved into a first place tie with Bowring's Bullets as they handed them their fourth loss of the season. Bruce Randell led his Lions with 17 points and was closely followed by Fred Farrel who had 13. High-liner for the Bullets was Paul Dubey who netted 15 and was he only B.B. player in the double figures. Final score a close 47-46.

On Tuesday the Bullets kept their hopes for a first place finish alive with a 88-66 win over the Perry Maint. team of Wabush. Leading the Bullets were John Murphy who swished 30 points and Paul Dubey who had 19. High for the P.M. team were Chris Griffin, Jerry Barron, and Barry - Hatt who had 15,13, and 12 respectively.

One game left in the regular schedule. This will see the Lions play the Perry team. A win for the Lions would result in a deadlock for first and points for and against would decide first place. The leading scorers, at present, are John Murphy 257, Paul Dubey with 230, and Bruce Randell with 208.

boxing; understand Terry Hayward is attempting to arrange a ard for Sunday 25 April. Should have more on tis next week. Terry's injured right hand will require the attention of a specialist and possibly an operation. So he may be absent from the ring for some time. Labrador West's top Amateur boxer Dave Simon is in Charlottetown, P.E.I. this week; no thanks to the Provincial Physical Fitness Officer. In conversation with Coach Bob Rayworth we learned the Govt. Dept. turned thumbs down, on a request for travel assistance to the local boxer. And only the generosity of local organizations made his visit to the Atlantic Province's finals possible.

BROOMBALL: The play-offs are well advanced. Here are some recent quarter-final results. "A" Series — Raiders 2 — Bears 0. K. of C. 3 — Lambs 1. Raiders 2 — Bears 1. K. of C. 4 — Lambs 2 (Dube had a "hat trick"). In the "B" Series it was Hawks 5 — Aces 1. Rangers 6 — Appollos 3. Hawks 2 — Aces 1. Rangers 4 — Appollos 1. Judging from the above socres. it looks like the Raiders and K. of C.

in the "A" semi-finals and the Hawks meeting the Rangers in the "B" semis.

SKI NEWS: Unfortunately our early deadline, did not permit us to carry the results of The Eastern Canadian Skiing Championship, hosted by the Smokey Mountain Ski Club, last weekend. In our next issue we will have pictures and the various winners of the meet.

"POLARIS ON PARADE"—A REVIEW

On Saturday, April 3, the Polaris Figure Skating Club presented their annual ice show at the Labrador City Arena. There were two performances: 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The first half of the show was devoted mainly to the children, with a presentation of "Babes in Toyland" — Victor Herbert's musical comedy. As the story took place in Mother Goose Land, various characters such as Mother Goose, Humpty Dumpty, Little Miss Muffet, Jack and Jill, King Cole, Gonzorgo, Roderigo, Barnaby, Mary (Quite Contrary) and Tom (the Piper's Son) were depicted on the ice in costumes fitting for the part they played. Throughout the first half there were group numbers such as Gypsies, Dolls and Teddy Bears, and Toy Soldiers—as well as solos by Mary, Valerie Power; Mother Goose, Anna Mendham; a China Doll, Loreen Paanan; and the Old Woman in the Shoe, Christine Selleck. The toymakers were Debbie Austin and Loraine Watson, while Gonzorgo and Roderigo were played by Dale Summer and Michael Farr. The first half of the show ended with a finale presenting the whole cast on the ice at one time in their various costumes.

The second half of the show presented the Senior members of the Club in four stunning numbers.

The first number of the second half was "Cabaret" with girls wearing bright green and orange costumes with an array of sequins around the bodice and green sequins and bowler hats and gloves. In this number Mr. Allan Davidson (The Club Pro) did a solo, and Brenda Lake and Suzanne Turniff completed the number with a duet well received.

The classical and the Modern was depicted in the next number called "Counterpoint." The first part adhered strictly to Ballet, with a group number wearing white body leotards, and white net skirts with silver tiaras. Gail Miller was the soloist in a white body leotards, set off with sequins and a tutu. The second part of the number featured a group of the senior girls in black body leotards trimmed with black sequins around the neck and bunches of black shiny glitter hung at each hip. Joyce Butt carried this part of the number away with a solo in which she was dressed entirely in black, trimmed with black sequins.

The third number was an "Indian Pow Wow." In this number there was a solo by Philomena Hurley. She wore a white cowgirl outfit with a colored blouse. Then there was a duet by Maureen Lmagille in white with white fringing, and Brian Bourns in white and a fringed vest. The group number was seen in brown tunic type outfits with various beading and braided trim. Debbie and Mandy Attersley, Philomena and Colleen Hurley, Gail and Ann Miller did a cute number entitled "Sweet Sisters." They were dressed white cowgirl outfits with colored blouses.

The closing number was entitled "Space Odyssey." In this number was seen Moon Maidens in fluorescent green body leotards with green chiffon hanging from under the arms, decorated with silver stars; Venutians in shiny green material and silver head pieces; and Astro-Travellers in red body leotards and a clear plastic cover, set off with silver belts and held pieces. There were two soloists in this section, Darleen Turriff in a stunning silver dress with pale pink pants and sleeves, and Mr. Davidson (The Club Pro) in a Royal Blue jumpsuit with gold sequins down the sides for a very attractive effect.

The show closed with a final of the second half, when bouquets of flowers and gifts were presented to the executive, costume co-ordinator, and professional on behalf of the club members upon the close of the skating season.

began 10 years ago, and the exchanges started to install communications lines, but the negotiations then stopped. Discussions have now been reopened, and Van Luven feels that an agreement between the exchanges would be an important step to [keep western trading on the Pacific coast, and strengthen the status of V.S.E. One development which would have a severe impact on regional stock exchanges in computerized stock trading. Van Luven concedes that computerized trading is quite feasible, but he is not too sure whether it is desirable.

"I think that [human trading ability is a necessary element in stock trading," Van Luven says, "but economics and expediency likely will lead to computerized trading." Van Luven suggests that the stock exchange of the future will have the outward appearance of any other business office, a suite of offices, without a trading floor.

REFORM IN FUND

SELLING: Two long-standing bones of contention in the mutual fund industry will soon be laid to rest, although probably not to the satisfaction of salesmen or every fundholder. One is the size of front-end loads, or sales charges. The other, the dissatisfied investor's right to front-end loads, or sales charges. The other, the dissatisfied investor's right to his money back.

"The crux here," says one fund manager, "is whether the authorities cut the front-end loads, and insist on more generous refund conditions. The new U.S. proposals provide some good clues." The Securities and Exchange Commission has produced two formulas. Contractual plans can charge the old maximum front-end load of 50% in the first year, providing investors can back out within 18 months and pay a much smaller penalty. Alternatively, fund can spread the load over a longer period without refunding charges to early terminators.

In Canada, the 1969 Grundy report on the fund industry urged a maximum front-end load of 30% in the first year. It also recommended a seven-day money-back guarantee for ordinary fund purchases, instead of the existing 48-hour limit. Now, after more than a year of talks, a national policy may emerge after the securities commissions met in June.

EASTER! WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO YOU?

By Frank Etsell

The good news of the gospel of Jesus Christ is found in St. John, chapter 3 and verse 16, "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Jesus Christ, the son of God, died on the cross almost 2000 years ago so that man might be able to come to God and have his sins forgiven. The First Epistle of John, chapter 1 and verse 7 tells us that the Blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth us from all sin. Christ died on behalf of our ruined and sinful condition. He redeemed us by shedding his blood.

"HE IS NOT HERE: FOR HE IS RISEN, AS HE SAID." Matthew 28: 6 Such was the message that the angel brought to the women at the tomb of Jesus on that first Easter morning. Since then Christians all over the world celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ at Easter.

The Bible tells us that he gave his life a ransom for our sins. Jesus Christ is the victor over death and the grave, and sin and wickedness. Because Christ is risen from the dead, and living—because he continueth forever—he is able to save to the uttermost them that come unto God by him. Hebrews 7: 25

EASTER is God's way of saying that man through Christ shares the life of God now and forever.

EASTER is the demonstration of God that life itself is essentially spiritual and timeless.

EASTER identifies life not only with decay and destruction but with continuance and creation. May the glad dawn of Easter morn bring joy to thee

May the calm eve of Easter leave a peace divine with thee
May Easter night on thy heart write O Christ, I live for thee

BLANKET WAR: Because the amorous French snuggle closer in bed than any other European couples, the Common Market is in a tangle over the size of blankets. The width of the French 'Lover's blanket' is 87 inches, but West Germans sleep so fast apart they prefer beds up to nine feet wide. In 1967, the French government forbade importation of blankets wider than 87 inches. "Unfair competition for blanket importers," said a Common Market spokesman—and the battle is on.
