Editorially Speaking

POLITICS: We have today in our "letter to the editor" column, published correspondence from Mr. M. Moss on behalf of the New Labrador Party. In our editorial of 16 June '71, which was written some five days before receipt of the letter from Mr. Moss, we noted that with a Provincial Election drawing near, releases such as printed in today's edition, would become more frequent.

If the correspondent for N.L.P. saw that editorial, he would have read, quote: "While this Publisher's political feelings are well known, it would only be proper, as a community paper to give equal space to recognized political groups."

Now to the three point letter: 1. When a prominent local businessman informs me he has been approached on two occasions, to purchase advertising in a New Labrador political paper I presumed he was referring to N.L.P. However let's go along with the supposition that the weekly was Northern Reporter. Mr. Moss goes to great lengths to say his political group is in no way associated with this Happy Valley effort, which is a wonderful Labrador operation, completely unbiased and evidently will be officially decreed, must reading, for all with his particular beliefs. The Northern Reporter, which folded earlier this year, because of subsidized competition from C.F.G.B., was recently taken over by several M.O.T. employees at Goose, on a part time basis and within recent days two young local gentlemen (both rabid followers of Mr. Burgess) have become part owners.

Yes it is true that just about every weekly newspaper in this Province supports the P.C. Party. And for the information of Mr. Moss, all are privately owned in their respective areas and do not operate under the pretence they are an arm of the P.C. Party.

On point two; well now its official. N.L.P. will win all three seats in Labrador and we will be represented in the House of Assembly by three persons, completely divorced from the mainstream of political life in this Province.

Point three. Has Mr. Moss ever heard of "Nominating conventions"? Why even Mr. Smallwood will be holding such meetings this summer. With election time fast approaching; isn't it about time his political group was making an announcement on this subject.

Mr. Moss I do take exception to your last sentence that Aurora is biased. In my first editorial after taking over this paper last June, and again on the first anniversary last week, I stated my political feelings were well known. Basically my thinking is; "This Province cannot afford a continuation of Joe rule and the P.C. Party is the only political group that can bring down his corrupt machine." The Aurora has never turned down political matters from any recognized party and this will continue to be our policy.

C.S. DEVINE

Editor.

ED. NOTE, Shortly after writing this article we heard thru Goose Radio that the Northern Reporter was again out of business. With the demise of Northern Reporter, Aurora is the only weekly Tabloid newspaper printed for Labrador.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor
The Aurora
Labrador City, Nfld.

Dear Mr. Devine,

I take this opportunity to correct a few rumors published in the Aurora last week.

First of all, the New Labrador Party has never published and has no intention of publishing a party newspaper. The Liberal Party has the Newfoundland Bulletin and that is paid for out of Public Funds. The P.C. Party has several papers in various communities for spreading their particular doctrine and these papers go under the guise of community newspapers. I suspect that the article printed in the Aurora refers to the Northern Reporter which is published in Happy Valley. This paper is actively engaged in soliciting advertising in this area with the hope of making the Reporter a true, unbiased newspaper for the whole of Labrador.

The new Labrador Party is not associated in any way with this newspaper or its staff, and has absolutely nothing to do with printing, composition, editing or distribution of the Reporter. The New Labrador Party gives moral support to this venture, just as it does to any Labrador based, Labrador owned, and Labrador supported venture as long as that venture is used in the public good with due regard to the political and moral sensitivities of all the people it serves.

The second rumor dies a miserable death in the face of true facts. The New Labrador Party will contest all three Labrador ridings and will all win all three seats. This is Labrador's own party and was created and is supported by the people of Labrador. These people formed the party so that they could elect their own representatives from their own section of the Province to represent them fairly and accurately in the House of Assembly. It was formed and supported as a working viable alternative to the present inept liberal and Progressive Conservative parties. Labrador people

Here and There

MAN SUES WIFE FOR CHILD SUPPORT: A man, in Maryland, U.S.A., has sued his wife for child support, claiming she earns about twice what he does. A hearing has been set for later this month, on the petition of Russell Doehrer, a social security administration employee who said his annual earnings are $6,000.00. Doehrer, who was divorced last June, asked a circuit court to award a "reasonable sum" from his former wife, a finance company supervisor, for the support of their three-year-old son.

TENNECO OFFICIALS VOTE TO ACCEPT STOCK OFFER: Tenneco Inc., of Houston Texas, recently announced that stockholders of Albright & Wilson Ltd. voted in London, to accept an offer which would eventually lead to the Houston firm acquiring a majority interest in the international chemical concern.

Tenneco is one of several oil companies engaged in off-shore oil drilling exploration and research in Newfoundland. The company, which has set up a headquarters in St. John's is to start oil exploration work off the Labrador coast when weather permits. The firm's oil drilling rig, The Typhoon, is preparing to move from St. John's to the Labrador coast.

Albright & Wilson is the parent company of the Electric Reduction Company of Canada which operates the phosphorous plant at Long Harbour. Tenneco has agreed to subscribe $42 million for a new Albright & Wilson convertible unsecured loan stock. Should Tenneco exercise an option to convert this stock into Albright & Wilson common shares between 1972 and 1976, the Houston firm would boost its current 10 percent holding in the London chemical concern to 50.6 per cent.

LAST STRAW: Annie Tomain, 25, had been drinking heavily at a cocktail party in El Sobrante, California, when revellers challenged her to demonstrate her speed and capacity. They bet her $20.00 she couldn't down a pint of Scotch in 10 minutes. She won the bet--then collapsed and died.

COFFEE FIRMS CHARGED: Charges of misleading advertising in connection with cents-off labels on Nescafe, Chase and Sanborn and Maxwell House instant coffee jars have gone to court in Ottawa. The charges were then adjourned until July 2nd for election and plea, are against: Nestle Canada Ltd., Toronto, for a label on six-ounce jars of Nescafe Instant Nescafe Instant Coffee saying 14 cents off and another on 10-ounce jars saying 24 cents off.

Standard Brands Ltd., Montreal, for a label on six-ounce jars of Chase and Sanborn Instant Coffee saying 12 cents off and another on 10-ounce jars saying 24 cents off. General Foods Ltd., Toronto, for a label on six-ounce jars of Maxwell House Instant Coffee saying 10 cents off and another on 10-ounce jars saying 20 cents off.

MATERNITY LEAVE HAS TO BE ON TIME: Advice to would-be mother hoping to collect maternity-leave benefits when new unemployment insurance legislation is implemented: set a date for delivery with your doctor and stick with it. The new plan will have some flexibility, the Commons labor committee was told recently, but promptness will be rewarded. The bill, would establish an initial 15-week period of payments for anyone who has worked 20 weeks in the previous year and can prove they are unemployed as a result of lay-off, sickness or pregnancy.

NFLD. COMMUNITIES TO GET INCINERATORS:

Thirty-two incinerators are now being constructed at the mechanical section of the Marystown shipyard, on behalf of the provincial government, for 32 municipalities in the province. The incinerators will be provided to the communities at no charge, but will be paid for through a grant passed in the estimates of the Department of Municipal Affairs & Housing for $500,000, however the municipalities will have to assume operating costs.

TEN CENTS A DANCE: British Prime Minister Edward Heath is having labor troubles with postmen, teachers, civil servants, auto workers--and now showgirls. The chorus line at London's Talk of the Town have threatened to walk out unless their pay is raised to $48.00 from $42.00 per week. "One of our routines is called 'ten cents a dance', and that's all they pay me." complains one girl.

don't want someone from St. John's or Springdale or Grand Falls to represent them, they want Labradorians--people who live, work, know Labrador.

Because the people created the party they will see to it that party is represented in their own districts in the forthcoming election. Rumor number three again is just that--Rumor.

Mr. Tom Burgess, M.H.A. is the leader of The New Labrador party. In that capacity he has the right to seek nomination and election in any Labrador district. Mr. Burgess was elected by the people of Labrador West and enjoys the popular support of the majority of the people of this district. In order for him to run in another district it is only democratic that he first consult the people who elected him. Mr. Burgess will run for nomination and election in Labrador West unless it is the wish of the party (the people) that he contest some other district. I'm sure that the Liberals and P.C. parties would rather Mr. Burgess not run in any district, but what these parties think and do doesn't have the support of the majority of Labrador residents.

There you have it sir; three rumors dispelled by fact. I could repeat the current rumor that The Aurora is politically biased but unless I could produce facts to back it up, I would be wasting my time.

Yours truly,
Malcolm Moss,
for the New Labrador Party.

Frank Moores comments on labour situation

The Progressive Conservative Party of Newfoundland has made it clear repeatedly that it supported legislation permitting Collective Bargaining for the fishermen of Newfoundland by unions of their choice so that the question of the prices to be paid for fresh fish is negotiated and settled between representatives of the fishermen, representatives of the fishing industry and, where necessary, by representatives of the public interest. The P.C. Party was represented by Mr. Harold Collins, M.H.A. Gander, on the Select Committee of the House of Assembly that recommended unanimously the general principles of the legislation passed at the 1971 Session.

The record of the P.C. Party in Newfoundland in Labour matters is also very clear. This Party has supported and fought for the right of the workers of Newfoundland to be organized into unions of their choice, to be certified and to bargain collectively with their employers for many years. This Party has repeatedly supported the Labour movement when the interests of that Movement and workers in that Movement were threatened by the Government of Newfoundland. The P.C. Party in the House of Assembly fought against the legislation passed by the Government in 1966-67 to outlaw the right of employees in hospitals to strike when negotiations broke down with their employers. This Party has fought repeatedly in the House for an increased minimum wage and for the introduction of the principle of equal pay for men and women doing work of a similar kind and nature. This record is well known.

In connection with the present strike situation at Burgeo the Newfoundland Food, Fish & Allied Workers Union is certified by the Labour Relations Board to represent employees of Burgeo Fish Industries Limited. Under the law Burgeo Fish Industries Limited has to commence bargaining in good faith with the Union but the bargaining did not result in any agreement. A conciliation board was appointed but neither the employer nor the Union accepted the report of that conciliation board. The law then permitted the Union to commence a strike and the Union has done so. It is regrettable that there had to be a strike at Burgeo but it is also equally regrettable that there are other strikes in the Province at this time in St. Lawrence, in the construction industry with reference to electrical workers and in other areas.

Neither the laws of Newfoundland nor any other Province provide for other than a free collective bargaining process. No province provides for compulsory arbitration in all situations.

The position of the P.C. Party is clear. The P.C. Party supports totally the right of workers to organize themselves into unions and when they have a majority to require employers to bargain collectively with the representatives of their employees. All employers, including Mr. Spencer Lake of Burgeo, must observe the law and must learn to accept the fact of the right of workers to organize themselves into unions to bargain collectively. The P.C. Party will improve the Labour Laws of this Province when it takes office.

At the present time there is an industrial dispute at Burgeo as well as at St. Lawrence and in the construction industry. The P.C.

Party does not propose to take sides in any of these labour disputes. The P.C. Party urges the Government of Newfoundland to attempt further conciliation of all of these disputes. If all or any of these labour disputes continue for too long a period emergency action might be required of Government. When that time comes the P.C. Party will make its position clear. That time has not yet come.

The Newfoundland Food, Fish & Allied Workers Union is part of a large international union which has the resources both in manpower and money to support and protect the workers involved in the labour dispute at Burgeo. If that Union wishes to have the law changed to provide for compulsory arbitration where such labour disputes occur then the Union should so state its position.

Insofar as the fishermen of Newfoundland are concerned the P.C. Party urges the Government of Newfoundland to implement the Fishing Industry (Collective Bargaining) Act, 1971, to appoint the machinery to start the process of collective bargaining in the industry for fish prices and pledges itself to see, when the P.C. Party takes office, that the legislation and machinery established thereunder is satisfactory to do an adequate job on behalf of the fishermen of Newfoundland.

PASSPORTS: Each year, about 750 Canadians have passports stolen. Another 1,500 passports are lost. And few, stolen or lost, are ever recovered. If your passport goes missing, says the Passport Office, notify the local police and report the loss to the nearest Canadian diplomatic or consular office. For safety's sake, keep a separate record of your passport number. And don't keep credit cards in the passport folder.

COSTS IN EUROPE: Spain and Yugoslavia are the cheapest of nine main tourist countries on the European continent, according to the latest report issued by the International Union of Official Travel Organizations, headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland.

It cost about half as much for the tourist to spend a day in either country as it would in France.

The report listed the nine countries surveyed in the following order of average cost per tourist, per day in a hotel: (1) France $20.00. (2) Switzerland, $18.50. (3) Netherlands, $18.50. (4) Belgium, $17.30. (5) West Germany, $17.10. (6) Italy, $15.60. (7) Austria, $14.20. (8) Spain, $10.50. (9) Yugoslavia, $10.30.

Greece and the Iron Curtain countries were not included. The Organization said the study provided, probably for the first time, statistics on cost per tourist day in camping accommodations.

It showed the nine countries to be in the same order, from $9.50 for a camper in France to $5.10 in Yugoslavia.

The study also noted variations in prices applicable in different regions of individual countries. In Italy, for example, price on the Adriatic Coast were about 17 per cent lower than on the Western Riviera Coast. The average prices quoted in the report were the result of calculating hotel, meal and additional tourist expenses, but did not include travel prices.

TINY ISLANDS WERE VISITING IS RARE: Some of the loveliest islands of the Caribbean are the smallest and least known, and a new association has been formed to change the situation, A.T.B.E.C., the Association of Tourist Boards of the Eastern Caribbean. The association represents Antigua, British Virgin Islands, Dominica, Grenada, Montserrat, St. Lucia and St. Vincent. The islands provide wide scenic variety and interest.

Scenery ranges from flat (highest point 150 feet) and barely inhabited Barbuda, a dependency of Antigua, to rugged Dominica, where the central mountains climb nearly a mile, often so abruptly that some parts have never been explored.

Each island is different. St. Lucia has deep valleys, bananas and a walk-in volcano near Soufriere. Grenada is called the spice island for good reason, crops and sweet smells. Antigua has been a favourite holiday spot for years. Although there are other golf courses on the island, its first 18-hole championship course was opened earlier this year. There is also golf on Grenada, Montserrat and St. Lucia. Accommodations range from simple guest houses to luxury hotels. Summer rates (to 15 Dec.) are as much as 50 per cent below winter rates. Summer prices range from $10.00 single to $50.00 double per day.

NEW SERVICE: CSA-Czechoslovakia Airline begins thrice-weekly flights from Montreal and New York, June 16. The airline has arranged tours ranging from $749.00 to $1,030.00, and from Scandinavia to the USSR Czechoslovakia, BORN TO BE OLD: The lady saw no reason for all the fuss, including the mayor's banquet in her honor at St. Mom-la-Breteche, France, when she celebrated her 100th birthday. "I'm only living up to, my name, which any proper lady would do," she commented. Her name is Mme. Vieillard.

Yougoslavia, and Central Europe.

SEA LANES: German Atlantic Line and KLM, the Dutch airline, offer a 32-day sea-cruise to North Africa, the Mediterranean and Black Sea, leaving from New York on 9 Sept. Rates start at $1,450.00. A second itinerary, 17 days, starts at $597.00. Extensions may be arranged at extra cost.

RAIL PASS: Italian State Railways offers a Tourist Rail Pass for unlimited first class travel over the entire system of Italy. Cost $52.00 to $75.00, 15-30 days validity, and a 40 per cent rebate for a family of four travelling together. New is a kilometer ticket covering up to 20 single journeys, total 3,000 k.m., $52.00. Details are available from travel agents or from CIT Travel Service, 2055 Peel St., Suite 378, Montreal.

HOLIDAY INNS: Britain's second Holiday Inn is being built at Bristol, with opening scheduled for next year. The first is at Plymouth. The facility will have 300 rooms, and forms part of an offices, shops and multi-storey car-park development in the centre of the city.

FLY FREE: The Grand Bahama Tourist and Convention Board has inaugurated a "Fly Free to Freeport" program, with twice daily flights out of Miami. Transportation is free to bonafide travellers over 21, with the stipulation that a minimum of 24 hours be spent on the island. Reservations for accommodation should be made in advance through any travel agent.

"SPRING OFFENSIVE": Last month Japanese unions began what is called their annual "spring offensive"—new wage contract negotiations. Tokyo reports indicated that labor will aim to match or better its 1970 wage gains. Last year, Japanese wages rose an average of 17 per cent, the second-largest postwar increase since 1952's 18.7 per cent.

Employees in mining averaged 20.4 per cent increases last year, followed by 17.6 per cent in manufacturing, 17.4 per cent in construction. Bank clerks averaged a modest 11.7 per cent.

Japan's trade unionists (there are 11 million divided among three federations) have a record of non-militance. Last year's wage gains came, not because the unions threatened to strike, but because they argued convincingly for a share in the nation's prosperity. The Japanese standard of living has not spurted ahead as quickly as the nation's GNP, but it is now beginning to catch up. For example, 26 per cent of Japanese homes now have color television sets, compared with almost 20 per cent of Canadian homes.

SMALLER SLICE FOR INTERNATIONAL UNIONS: The international unions slowly are long their grip on Canadian labor. The grip is still hefty (comprising 62.5 per cent of Canadian unionists). But that proportion once was as high as 77.5 per cent.

This data comes from the federal Department of Labor's recently published annual, Labor Organizations in Canada.

This year, Labor Organizations can be read in conjunction with another labor department book, just out: Union Growth in Canada 1921-1967. The latter is a collection of charts and tables compiled by the department's economics and research branch. (Information Canada stores sell it at $2.50).

Read together, the two publications give a historical perspective to the 1970 figures. For example:

The Steelworkers has been the single largest union since 1942 - union Growth doesn't take individual (Continued on page 8) idual union membership back further than that). In the midwar years, the Steelworkers had 35,000 members, just ahead of the Machinists' 32,785 and the Autoworkers' 30,000.

In 1970, the Machinists were the eighth largest union in Canada, with 53,000 members and the Autoworkers were fourth, with 109,274. The Steelworkers doubled in size between 1942 and 1953; it was a time when employment was expanding in mining and steel and the union was organizing. For the next nine years, however, the union's growth was slow, almost flat. This was, of course, the period of its great struggle with the rival Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers which had 34,000 Canadian members at its 19-58 peak. Mine-Mill was completely absorbed by the Steelworkers several years ago.

The Autoworkers had been third-largest in 1969, just ahead of the Public Service Alliance of Canada. The two have been trading positions since 1966, the first year in which Autoworker membership exceeded that of the Alliance. PSAC represents federal civil servants. That it squeezed ahead of the Autoworkers in 1970 merely indicates which sector of the economy has experienced the greater layoffs. Some 62.5 per cent of the 2,173,000 union members in Canada in 1970 (the figure is based on a 1 Jan. census by the unions) belonged to international unions. That's the lowest penetration by the internationals since 1941, although still above the 1935 low point of 51.5 per cent. But, over 25 years, the international unions have maintained a steady penetration of Canadian labor, running around 70 per cent during the postwar years and rising as high as 77.5 per cent in 1952.

The reason now for the decline in the relative position of the internationals is the growth of the home-grown public service unions, PSAC (119,743 members), the Canadian Union of Public Employees (136,127), Quebec - Government Employees' union - and the Civil Service Association of Ontario (the latter two each have 30,000 members). These four are among the 19 unions with 30,000 or more members each in Canada.

There are three other purely Canadian unions among the 19: the 49,362 member Service Employees' Federation and the 32,528 member Canadian Federation of Steel, Mine and Chemical Workers, both affiliates of Quebec's Confederation of National Trade Unions; and the 33,330 member Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers. The two CNTU affiliates rank ninth and 15th in size among unions in Canada, while the CBRT is 13th.

The 1970 membership of Canadian labor was up 4.7 per cent from 1969 and included 33.6 per cent of the total non-farm work force. Total union membership in Canada reached one million in 1949, rising to 1.5 million in 1965 and topping two million in 1969.

CONTRACT SIGNED: A three year contract under which average pay will rise by at least $1.11 an hour was announced recently between the United Steelworkers of America and the Aluminum Co. of America. Wage increases will range from $1.00 an hour of $1.34 an hour over the three years. That includes a minimum of 12.5 cents an hour each of the last two years for cost of living. The average increase, not including cost of living, is 86 cents. The average hourly wage now is $3.67, the union said.

The Lighter Side

CLOSET SPACE: The attorney for the plaintiff in the divorce case put his client on the stand.

"Now, as I understand it," he said sympathetically, "every night when you returned from work, instead of having your wife alone and awaiting you, you found a different man hiding in the closet?"

"Yes. That's right."

"And this of course caused you untold anguish and unhappiness, did it not?"

"Why sure! came the hurt reply. "I never had any room to hang my clothes."

THE LIBRARY: A little girl, visiting friends of her parents, gazed at their well-filled bookshelves and exclaimed: "We get books from the library, too, but we take ours back!"

NAME CHANGE: Fenston Will-banger finally got married in spite of his name. But before long, his wife was after him to have it changed. At last, she gave him an ultimatum, "If you don't have it changed, I'll never sleep with you again!" Fenston retorted, "All right, if that's the way you feel about it, I'll go have it changed!" So he went down to the court house and had it changed to Fenston Wontbanger.

RETURN GESTURE: John was disgusted when the phone woke him up at three in the morning. He picked it up and heard a neighbor's voice complaining, "Your dog is barking so loudly I can't sleep." Then, before John could reply, the neighbour hung up.

The following morning at three sharp, John rang up their neighbour and said, "I just wanted you to know that I don't have a dog."

THE PICNIC: The doctor was making his morning visit in the maternity ward. He stopped at the first bed and said:

"When do you expect your baby?"

April 6th."

He went on to the next patient, and repeated his question.

"April 6th."

When he came to the next bed he found the patient asleep. Turning to the occupant in the bed nearby, he said: "When does Mrs. Jones expect her baby to be born?"

"I couldn't tell you, said the woman. "She didn't go to the picnic."

EMPLOYED? "What became of them two boys of yours" asked the old friend who had returned to his native town for a visit. "What's Lem doing?"

"Oh," replied the native, "Lem's in politics."

"That so?" said the old friend. "And what's Hank doing?"

"Hank ain't worth a darn, either," replied the native.

WEIGHT LOSS: "I've lost two pounds again," said the wife.

"Astounding!" replied her husband. "That makes 936 pounds you've lost since we were married."

THE FACTS OF LIFE: The couple's daughter was sixteen when they discovered that they were going to have a second child. They wondered how to tell the daughter and finally decided that it would be best to sit down and tell her all the facts, which they did. When they were finished, the girl slumped down in her chair and blurted: "And you won't even let me smoke!"

HUSBAND WANTED: A single girl in her thirties was persuaded by her mother to advertise for a husband.

Her ad said: "WANTED - correspondence with man who wishes to meet attractive you girl. Box 716."

The ad got but one reply, and the girl's mother wished to see it.

The daughter refused.

"I'm your mother! stormed Mother. "I DEMAND to know who wrote to you."

"All right then," said daughter. "It was from papa."

The fundamental purpose of this program is to fulfill the basic leisure needs of the teenagers in both Wabush & Labrador City. This program will provide a meeting place sufficiently attractive and a diversified program sufficiently "fluid" to keep the teenagers constantly stimulated and interested.

The program will try to provide some of the activities that coincide with the interests of the teenagers. Suggestions on examples of activities that the club could organize with enough support from the membership are: Swimming parties, Table Games Contest (pool tables and ping-pong tables are available), Hiking Trips, Tennis Tournaments, Over-Night Camping Trips, Beach Parties, Jam Sessions, Hay Rides (hay isqlable!). Also if the member feel like having a discussion on some topic of interest, it could easily be arranged. For example we could talk about the controversial subject, Drugs; we could discuss its' pros & cons. These are only a few of the things that could be made available. There can be many more, with the imagination and support of the Clubs' members.

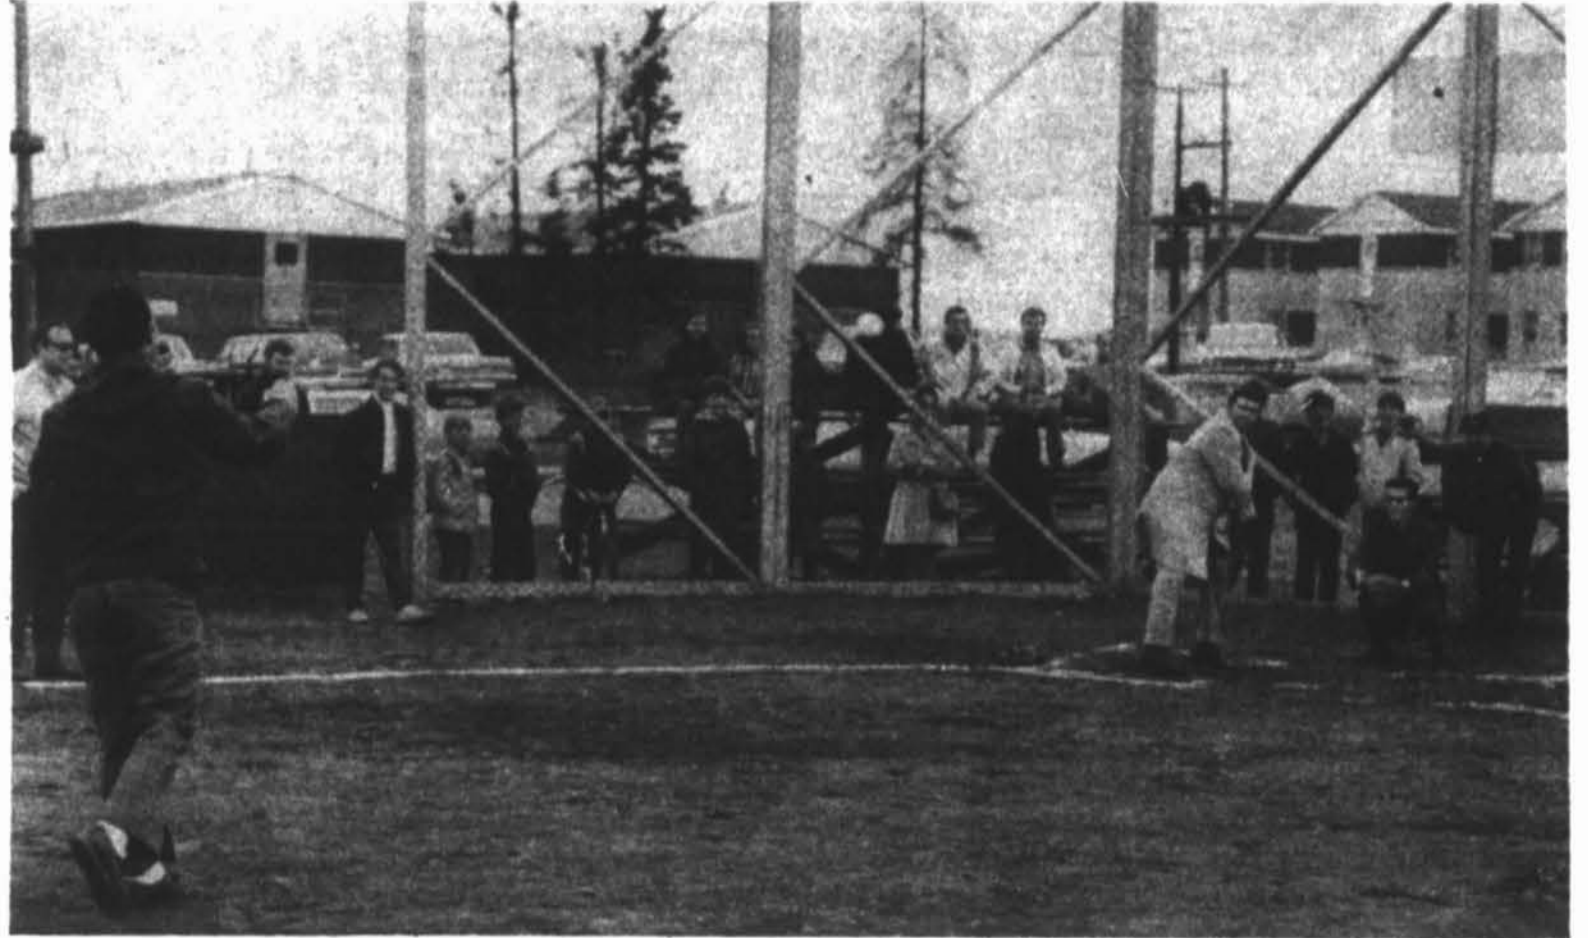

Membership cards will be issued (free) to all participants in the club.

The Club has gotten financial backing from Major Johnson of Labrador City, who applied for a Government Grant. Also, the town of Labrador City has allocated money for the aid of this program. There will be a dance, on the average, of once a week. Also there will be records and a record player, plus a juke box available at all times, up at the Teen Club. The canteen service will be open from 1:30 - 5:00 p.m. and from 7:00 p.m. - 12:00 midnight, Monday thru Saturday. This Wednesday, June 23, the opening dance of the Club will be held at the Curling Club. The dance starts at 8,30 p.m. with music provided by the Chevelles.

ACQUISITION BY HUDSON BAY COMPANY: BOWRING BROTHERS LIMITED, LABRADOR CITY

Bowring Brothers Limited today announced that an agreement had been reached by which Hudson's Bay Company will take over Bowrings Department Store and Supermarket in Labrador City.

There will be no inconvenience to customers. The shop will be operated by Bowrings until close of business Saturday, July 3rd, inventories will be taken on July 5th and 6th and it will reopen as Hudson's Bay on July 7th. Customers with Bowrings charge accounts will have their accounts automatically transferred to the Bay and forward commitments made by Bowrings will be honoured by its successor.

Since the announcement of the IOCC's current expansion program and other developments in the area, Bowrings has recognized the need for greatly improved shopping facilities in Labrador City, especially the need for a large department store.

Bowrings current development thrust is towards the establishment of small specialty stores and the company is not organized to handle a department store of the required size, outside St. John's. The Hudson's Bay Company on the other hand has the necessary management and merchandising capacity, and is prepared to develop a full scale department store and food service in Labrador City.

Having served the people of Labrador City since the pioneering days of 1960 Bowrings has a great sense of attachment to the community. Happily, its Insurance Division will continue to operate in Labrador City and maintain these ties.

This announcement would not be complete without acknowledgement of the courtesy and cooperation always offered us by the people of Labrador City and Wabush, by the Iron Ore Company of Canada, and our appreciation of the efforts of a fine and hardworking staff.

LABRADOR CITY-Hudson's Bay Company announced today it will acquire the Bowrings Department Store business in Labrador City. The date of transfer of the operation will be July 7, 1971.

In making the announcement, Mr. C. E. Drury, of Montreal, Assistant General Manager, said Hudson's Bay Company is already negotiating with the owners of the shopping centre for a major addition to the centre. He added The Bay would spend $75,000 immediately on improvements to the existing store.

All non-executive personnel with Bowrings will be offered continued employment by Hudson's Bay Company. Mr. Drury said, "Labrador City is an important addition to our growing business in Newfoundland and the iron ore district. Our projections indicate increasing economic activity in Labrador City, and we intend to serve the customer here with a wide choice of merchandise presented in modern, pleasant surroundings."

He said, "The Bay now operates other stores in the region at Schefferville, Sept Iles, Gagnon, and Port Cartier, and is particularly well equipped to serve Labrador City through a food warehouse at Sept Iles."

Hudson's Bay Company, or The Bay, as it is known to many of its customers, is one of Canada's leading retailers with more than 240 stores from coast to coast. The HIGH BE THE NINTH STORE FOR THE Company in the province of Newfoundland.

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY IN NEWFOUNDLAND

The Hudson's Bay Company men who explored Labrador were like the country itself: bold and iron hard. The unknown rivers were filled with rapids and white water, ideal for electric power but back straining for canoe paddlers.

The Company's fur trader-explorers penetrated Labrador from Fort Chimo in Northern Quebec, rather than inland from the coast. Fort Chimo had been established in 1830 by Erland Erlandson and Nicol Finlayson, and overland communication with the posts of the St. Lawrence was essential. Four years later, two Indians were persuaded to guide Erlandson to the North Shore of the St. Lawrence. By the time the party reached present day Schefferville, Erlandson realized that the guides were taking him to the Atlantic Coast, and no amount of pleading could induce them to change their minds. Yet this trip was advantageous for within two years the Company had two posts on the Labrador Coast- North West River and Rigolet, and later Cartwright was added.

In 1838 John McLean, who had charge of Fort Chimo, made the arduous overland trip to North West River, and the following year he discovered Grand Falls, today internationally known as Churchill Falls. Writing in his diary, McLean left a vivid description of this awesome sight: "...One evening, the roar of a mighty cataract burst upon our ears, warning us that danger was at hand. We soon reached the spot, which presented to us one of the grandest spectacles in the world....This stupendous fall exceeds in height the Falls of Niagara....A dense cloud of vapour, which can be seen at a great distance in clear weather, hangs over the spot."

Another Company man-also a Scot- spent twenty years in Labrador. Donald Smith, later Lord Strathcona, established the first farm there and, true to his race, he turned a non-profitable district into a paying one.

In Canada's oldest city-St.

John's-the Company has had operations since 1917. Among the interesting and varied activities were fur buying, supplying stores with merchandise, maintaining its own supply ships, chartering others and recruiting personnel. In 1960 a new department store was opened at Stephenville and this month the Company began retail operations in Grand Falls.

During the last twenty-five years the Company has become involved in the industrial dawn of the Labrador-Ungava area. When decided that the Royal Canadian Air Force needed a base for its huge Trans-Atlantic ferrying job, the present Goose Bay site was chosen in 1941. Six years later the Hudson's Bay Company opened a store there with a wide range of merchandise for the sophisticated tastes of the Royal Canadian and United States Air Forces personnel. Instead of taking furs out of the country the Company took them in. In 1953 a store was opened in the new town of Happy Valley.

With the development of the rich deposits of iron ore the Company had also been involved in serving first the construction crews and later the population of well-planned towns. Opened in 1956 the Schefferville store had to be enlarged the following year, and in 1960 a department store was opened in Gagnon. During the construction period of Labrador City the Carol Lake Commissary was operated and it has just been announced that on July 7, 1971, the Company will begin operating a department store in the shopping centre of Labrador City.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS: The new store manager will be Mr. J.R. (Rollie) Savard. Mr. Savard will be coming to Labrador City from Port Cartier. He was previously attached to the company's operation at Schefferville. Company executives here for the official announcement, expressed the LABRADOR WEST CHAMBER OF COMMERCE: Guest speaker at last week's dinner meeting of the Chamber was Mr. Kevin Campbell. Mr. Campbell spoke on his recent visit to St. John's where he held talks with Mr. J. Pickerskill and members of the Canadian Transportation Commission, who were meeting in the Provincial Capital.

Kevin stated that one of the most important things learned from his consultation was the fact that, groups or areas complaining to proper authorities, receive the greatest attention.

As to local air transportation, he saw little or no change in our present rate structure. The Chairman of the Commission noted tariffs had been increased several times in recent months on "Southern Routes"; without similar increases in Northern areas. And he felt that within the near future, air rates to and from more populous areas in the south will have risen to that of more remote areas such as Labrador City-Wabush.

Mr. Campbell was hopeful some arrangement could be made before the end of June to enable E.P.A. to board passengers here and at Montreal for Wabush, when Quebecair has an overflow.

Prior to Mr. Campbell's address Secretary Phyllis introduced the new P.R. Representative Mr. C. Devine. As his first duty Charlie read Press Release's from Bowring's Ltd. and Hudson Bay Co. covering the acquisition by "The Bay" of Bowring's retail outlet in Labrador City. Later in the meeting Mr. Devine gave a brief outline of a book presently being prepared on this area. The Chamber agreed to support such a venture.

Before adjourning, President Jean thanked Mr. K. Campbell for a very interesting and informative address.

SIR WILFRED GRENFELL HOTEL: The "Sons of Erin" will be playing S.W.G. this weekend. Dick Nolan and group are visiting next week. Joan Morrissey will be performing early in August.

Work has started on renovations and planned expansion. Manager, Mr. Alphonse, is presently in Montreal finalizing plans and selecting decor. It is understood over $100,000 has already been committed for this program.

MUNICIPAL NEWS: From Wabush. Flowers are being laid at the entrance to town. And seeding will be extended on both sides of the roadway. Quebec Cartier Mining are presently preparing a site adjoining the Wabush Trailer Court for installation of 15 Trailers.

The current position of Wabush Stadium project will be the most important matter on tonight's (23rd) council's meeting, agenda. A release from town office, on this subject, will be made very shortly.

FROM LABRADOR CITY.

A concentrated effort has been made over the past five weeks to alleviate the dog problem, by a crack-down on roaming dogs. During this period, 11 people have been assessed pounding charges and in addition 11 residents received summons' for having dog's running loose.
