Table of Contents

It is, indeed, a great honour to greet this year's graduating classes at J.R. Smallwood Collegiate during this, your school's Silver Anniversary.

I remember well this school's opening and the pride I felt for a variety of reasons at that time. Your school has proven how co-operative efforts can work well at all levels. Your students, past and present, have been a valued asset to your community and to the Province as a whole.

For those of you that are graduating and will leave J.R. Smallwood Collegiate in 1989, please accept my warmest wishes for you in all your future endeavours. I think you will agree that you are leaving one of the best schools in the Province and, hopefully, you will carry that pride with you as you begin the next level of your on-going education.

Rest assured wherever you go in the future, you can look back with a great deal of pride on your education at J.R. Smallwood Collegiate and Wabush.

Many of the students feel that Wabush is not their home, and that J.R.S.C. is not their school. The students who are already in high school, and those who will be attending J.R. Smallwood Collegiate in the future, must realize that it is their school.

School spirit gives a great deal of enjoyment to everyone, including the staff members. I am sure that the school spirit will grow, but I hope that it will not be too long in the growing.

I wish you good-luck.

Superintendents' Messages

1978-79

Sincerest congratulations and best wishes to all (Home, Church or School) who involved themselves in the learning, growing and becoming process at J.R. Smallwood Collegiate during the past twenty-five years. We trust that the times, talents, energies and beliefs you have shared throughout your years at J.R.S.C. have contributed significantly to your own personal learning, growing, and becoming and that the process was enjoyable, affirming fulfilling and memorable.

We hope that you will continue to "let your light shine" even brighter during the years ahead; that we will continue to grow together in every possible way and that during our 1989-1990 school year, in particular, each of us will do our utmost to answer well the call to "become a bridge for Christ's sake".

P. Furlong
District Superintendent

1978-79

Dear Graduates,

This was a special year for J.R. Smallwood Collegiate, since the school celebrated its 25th anniversary. That event led to much activity in the gathering of materials which brought back many memories for those who have been associated with the school since 1964. I even managed to find a picture which I took in the Fall of 1963 showing the pouring of the concrete foundation for the school.

That foundation was well done and J.R. Smallwood Collegiate has gone on to provide a firm educational foundation for the students of Wabush. It has been my pleasure to serve as a school superintendent for the Integrated Section in Wabush since 1969. During that period the school system grew rapidly, requiring the addition of a third floor to the building. Since 1983 the school enrollment has declined; however, J.R. Smallwood Collegiate continues to be a school in which we have much pride. That pride comes from the success which has been reached and continues to be gained by you, our graduates.

One cannot comment on 25 years at J.R. Smallwood Collegiate without noting that the school represents a successful example of sharing between the Integrated and Roman Catholic School Boards. Over the years we have come to know that the more we teach students together, the more likely they are to learn the best ways for living together in that world after graduation.

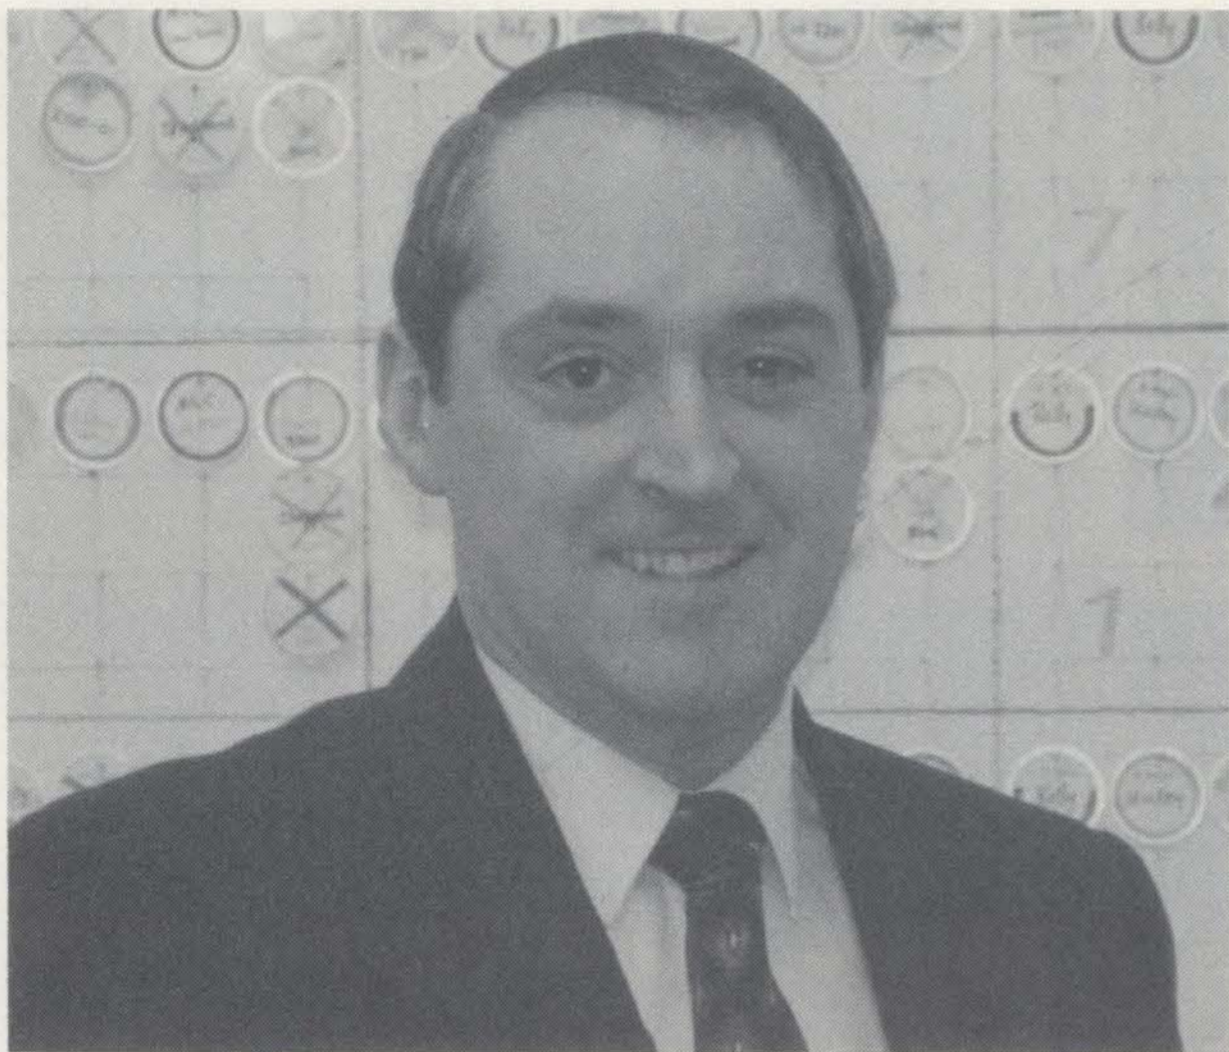

Congratulations to the students and staff who worked on the production of this, the 25th anniversary yearbook for J.R. Smallwood Collegiate.

Robert F. Martin
School Superintendent

Principals' Messages

Congratulations to Mrs. Rodgers and her very industrious Yearbook Committee on the publication of our Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Edition. The 1988-89 Yearbook will not only serve our graduating students as a lifelong treasure of memories, but will also be of immense interest to all J.R.S. students and alumni.

Congratulations to the Class of '89. We wish each and every one of you the happiness of a productive life, the respect of your fellow human beings, and the love of your family. The future is yours. May your dreams be big ones and may they all come true. It is also our wish that your 'One Moment In Time' at J.R.S. will help you and guide you throughout your lives.

This yearbook is a reflection of one year in the life of J.R.S.C. The yearbook could not be of any interest were it not for the staff who volunteered to coach, administer, direct and sponsor the numerous extracurricular activities at our school. I salute our staff and on behalf of the students thank them for their interest, their time and their unselfishness in giving of themselves.

Thanks also to our School Board and their employees, our parish team, our parents and our Home and School Association, who together have been leaders in education by establishing and helping run a shared services school for twenty-five years. Happy Anniversary.

Walter Crotty
Principal
Sacred Heart Section

Congratulations to the Yearbook Staff and to Mrs. Rodgers on the effort put into the special 25th anniversary edition. Lori Walters, the editor for the "Aurora Borealis", has done a fine job for 1988-89.

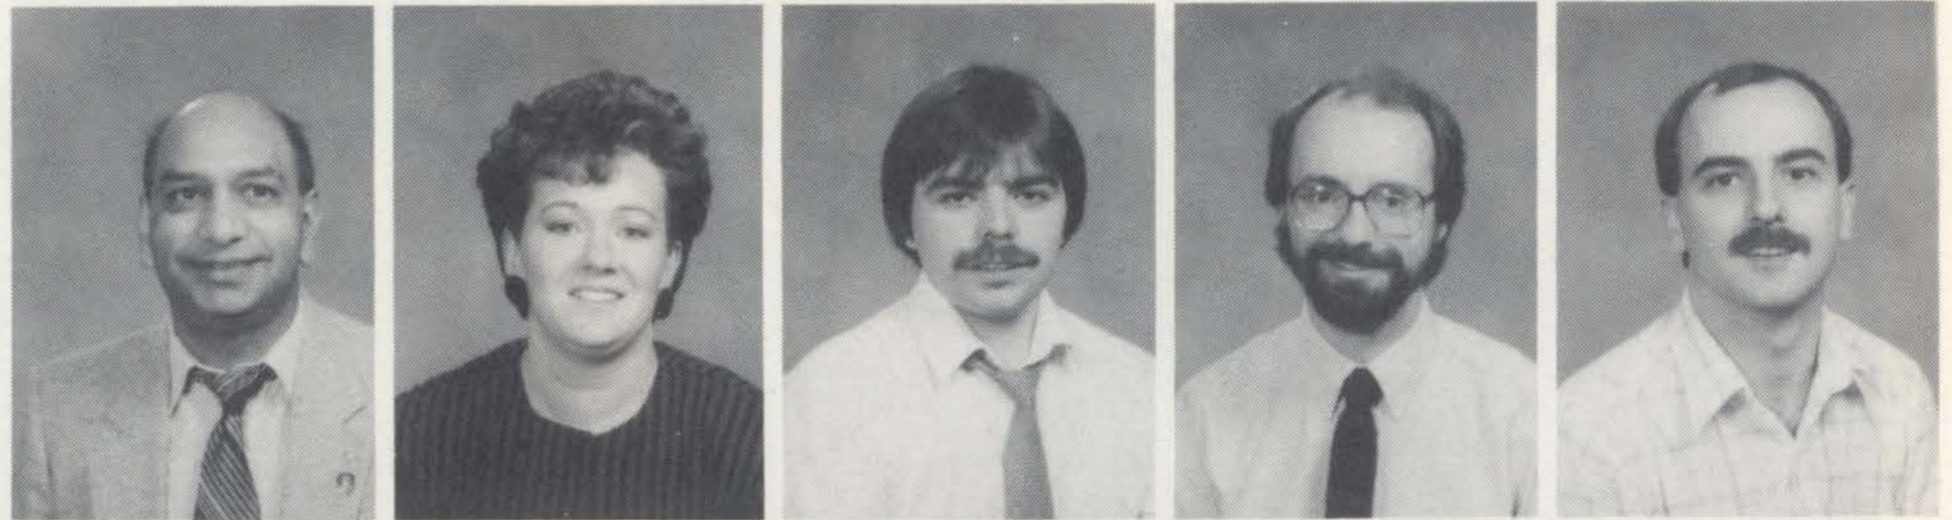

It is a rewarding experience to see the sons and daughters of former graduates showing up on pages of our yearbook. We've all had the opportunity to participate in the establishment of a community which has developed its own school traditions and character.

I wish the class of '89, and indeed all our students, the best in the coming year. May you all be around for our 50th anniversary.

Grad Night

Valedictory Address

Good evening, invited guests, parents and especially fellow graduates.

For years now we've all rushed to the school to watch other classes graduate, but tonight is our night to shine, our one moment in time.

Tonight is one of those precious moments when we can pause to look back and see all that we have accomplished and look ahead and hope for the very best.

Our time spent together for the last thirteen years will always be cherished and we all have fond memories of them. The bonds of friendship we have formed with everyone in our graduating class will last a lifetime. We have shared all our moments, the good and the bad. We have worked together and learned from each other. The years we have spent together have strengthened our friendship and enriched our lives.

We can think of all the couples in our grad class. Pam and George, Lenora and Kevin, Dave and Darlene. We'll always remember Bev and Denise singing their way down the corridor. David Pretorious clicking pictures for the yearbook.

This year, I think, has provided us with the most memories. The excitement of planning our own graduation, buying school jackets, ordering class rings, and practicing the Grand March. Now that we are participants and no longer spectators it is that much more meaningful. This has been our last year together. Everyone realizes this and we have worked together as a team.

But we remember also those embarrassing moments that we would like to forget. Dave Parmiter remembers the long hours spent locked in a closet. Craig Flynn will always remember his late slips. Nicole Pear remembers her class glueing the teachers' meter stick to the chalkboard.

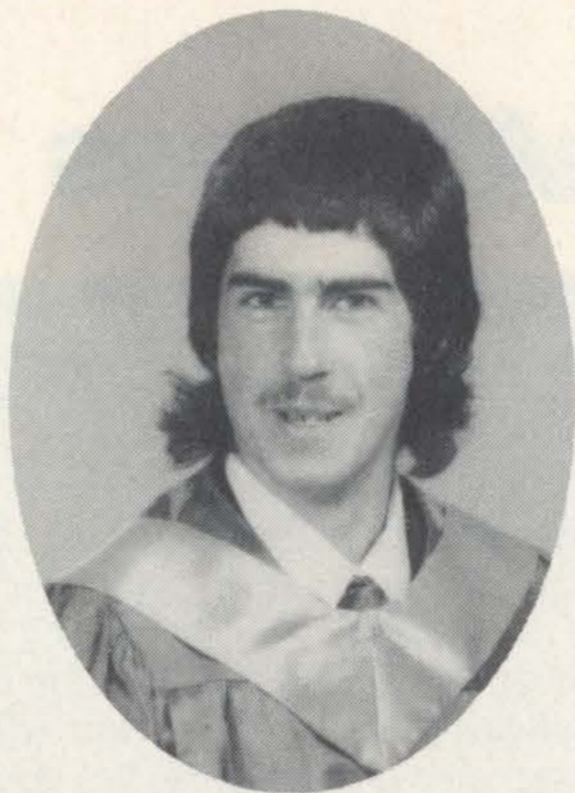

But with all this reminiscing we must also envision a future. We don't know exactly what is to come, but we can now set our direction we wish to follow. We must find our dreams and master them. We have our hopes to fulfil, dreams to attain and goals to accomplish. Dean Parsons will probably be the next Mr. Universe, Paul MacWilliams will offer himself to the Canadians and be managed by Joanne LaCour sponsored by Coke. Troy Pearson will be saving lives on a sandy beach. Lori Walters will be busy teaching the natives of some foreign country all she knows about farming. Meanwhile Shelley will become advisor to the United States President. Who knows? Life often throws you that unexpected twist.

As we move into adulthood, we will always remember the things that have had the greatest impact on our lives. J.R.S.C. has given us a solid background and has helped prepare us for anything we may face. We are proud to be the school's 25 graduating class.

And our parents, we must thank them for giving us that push we needed to succeed. They supported us through thick and thin, and for that we will always be grateful. We can't forget Mr. MacKinnon, Mrs. Furlong, Ms. Pullin, and Mr. McCormack for their patience, guidance and tolerance throughout the year. On a personal note, I would like to thank sincerely the graduates for giving me the opportunity to speak on their behalf. It really means alot to me. I wish all of you the best of luck in all your moments in time.

The future holds much in store for us, but we are well armed. As we each go our separate ways, we carry a special bond, one that can't be put into words but is felt within the heart. This is our Moment in Time.

The image features a vibrant, multi-colored splatter pattern in shades of red, blue, and pink on a white background. The text "A Great Year" is prominently displayed in a bold, yellow, stylized font with a black halftone dot pattern. The letters are arranged in two lines: "A Great" on the top line and "Year" on the bottom line. The overall aesthetic is festive and celebratory.
